OPEN YOUR MIND

That's what you want for your boy or girl. So much to learn — so many mistakes to avoid. If they can only know, only realize, all you've learned by hard knocks and bitter experience, they will make out better than you have.

You want that, don't you?

So does God. He wants it for you and for your children.

And don't think He doesn't know, doesn't realize, better than you. Jesus Christ, the Son of God, suffered the death on the cross because God knows you are a sinner and God realizes that without Him you can't make it to eternal life when you die.

Open your mind. God tells you this. Learn it from Christ's bitter experience. We are concentrating on His suffering for us at our Lenten services. Put your mind to it with us.

Read the Constitution Before You Scrap It!

Citizens of Michigan will vote Monday on the proposal to call a constitutional convention. Voters should be well informed regarding both the present constitution and the pitfalls that could well be incorporated in a new constitution. If you have not read the constitution of the state and are not familiar with its provisions, we advise you to vote "NO" on the proposal next Monday.

We believe the basic constitution of the state is as applicable and modern to day as it was in 1908. We do not necessarily see eye to eye with some of the amendments which have been made to this constitution. The constitution, however, establishes adequate procedure for changing these amendments or adding new ones when that is the wish of the majority. It seems the height of folly to discard a known and tested plan under which this state operates, for an unknown plan which will cost millions of dollars; make questionable existing court decisions based on the present constitution; and, during the interim add to the present economic uncertainty from which the state is striving to recover.

Let's not be hoodwinked by the propaganda that the constitution is of horse and buggy vintage. It is as up to date as the last election. The amendment process is simple, orderly and systematic. The way to change the constitution in Michigan is by amendment. Amendments can provide any of the changes advocated by the proponents of Con Con so long as the majority of the voters in Michigan agree. That is one of the sound principles of checks and balances in Michigan's present constitution, as well as the constitution of the United Sates, that protects the rights of all citizens.

Guard your rights and vote "No" on the proposed constitutional convention.

'Sticker' Candidates Oppose Nominees in City Election Monday

Voters will go to the polls Monday to elect local officials in the general spring election and to elect state officials and to vote on other issues in the beinnial spring election.

Polls at the city hall will be open from 7 a. m. to 8 p.m. for the convenience of the voters in the city's three wards.

Only two contests will appear on the local ballot. These will be in the first ward where incumbent supervisor Ivan Phillips will oppose E. J. Edwards who won the nomination for the post by three votes in the primary election and for the aldermanic post where Robert Neff who was unopposed in the primary election will find opposition in Robert O. Bergmann, a newcomer in political circles. Both Phillips and Bergmann are 'sticker' candidates; i. e., to vote for them, voters must place their name over the name on the ballot and place the 'X' in the adjacent box.

Other candidates who are unopposed follow: mayor, E. D. Hawley; clerk, Hugh Mayne; treasurer, Annabelle Cunningham; second ward alderman, Richard Donaldson; third ward alderman, Edward P. Hansen; second ward supervisor, John Uhrick and third ward supervisor, Harry Gebeau.

When they visit the polls Monday, voters will receive four other ballots including a non-partisan judicial ballot, a state officers partisan ballot, a state proposal and a state amendment.

On the non-partisan judicial ballot will be the names of the candidates for justice of the Supreme Court. A voter will vote for two of those listed who are: incumbents John R. Dethmers and Harry F. Kelley, who were nominated at the Republican state convention, and Ernest C. Boehm and James H. McLaughlin who were nominated at the Democratic state convention.

On the state officers partisan ballot, voters will find the names of candidates for six offices listed according to party; i.e., Demratic, Republican, etc. These posts and the candidates for each according to party follow: Regents of the University of Michigan (two to be elected) Theodore Sachs and Allen R. Sorenson, (D) and Paul G. Goeble and James C. Zeder, (R).

Member of State Board of Education: Frank Hartman, (D), and Charles A Rogers, (R).

Members of the Board of Trustees of Michigan State University of Agriculture and Applied Sciences: (vote for two) C. Allen Harlan and Connor D. Smith, (D), and Fred England Jr. and John S. Pingel, (R).

Members of the Board of Governors of Wayne State University: (vote for two) DeWitt T. Burton and Ralph E. Richman, (D), and Thomas B. Adams and Charles E. Brake, (R).

Tha State Proposal concerns the much publicized "Con-Con" issue which gets its name from "constitutional convention". The voter will be asked to give his approval or disapproval to the question:"Shall a convention be held to consider revision or amendment of the Michigan constitution for subsequent submission to the electors of this state for their approval?"

Another state ballot pretains to a proposed amendment which would permit the state to give financial assistance to industrial, manufacturing and municipal development projects.

Ironton School Closes; Pupils Go To East Jordan

The 22 students enrolled in the Ironton school are presently attending classes in a school room provided by the East Jordan public school after the community school was closed last week at the request of the State Fire Marshal.

The students all attend classes in the same room as they did at the community school. They are taught by their regular teacher, Mrs. Clarence Coblentz.

The school was closed March 23 by the Ironton School board at the request of the State Fire Marshal following inspection of the school, located at the village of Ironton, by Sgt. John Girocco of the Michigan State Police Fire Marshal's office in Traverse City. The inspection was made at the request of school officials.

At a public meeting Tuesday night the possibility of annexing to adjacent school districts and the feasability of building a new school were both discussed. A committee was named to obtain estimates on construction. The committee composed of William Danowicz, Wayne Saunders, Ole Nielsen, Aaron Brock and H. R. Williams will report on their findings at a meeting to be called as soon as the information is available.

There are 22 children in the kindergarten through the sixth grades enrolled in the school.

Major F. J. Seidel To Give Lectures On Communism

How Communism works and how to combat it will be the theme of a series of lectures by Maj. Francis J. Seidel whose carer in the U. S. Army has taken him to many parts of the world. The first lecture will be given next Tuesday evening at the American Legion post home on Garfield ave. at 8 p.m. There is no admission charge to these lectures and the public is invited.

Communists do not believe in pipe dreams, he points out. Their time-tables of conquering countries have so far proven correct. The Kremlin and Peiping Communist bosses have set 1973 as the date when they will have accomplished the destruction of the United States. He warns that we should get rid of the idea "it can't happen here".

Majors; "Before Pilate", Rev. William Harmon; "The Denial", Rev. James P. Sherman; "On the Way to Galgotha", Rev. L. L. Lewis and "The Cross", Rev. Arthur A. Austin.

All members of the junior and senior high school bowling leagues have been invited to the Paul Bunyan Lanes at noon Monday to receive awards they have won during the season.

Council Over-Rides Mayor's Opposition To Consumers Study

Mayor E. James Hiller was over-ruled Monday evening when he opposed a motion by Alderman Donaldson proposing Comsumers Power Co. be invited to make a study of the municipally owned and operated electric system and evaluate the facility and business which might lead to an offer to purchase. The motion brought an amendment from Alderman JacK Grubaugh which would limit the study of the rate structure to catagories rather than to a study of rates paid by individual customers.

The motion as amended was adopted 4 to 2, supported by Alderman Donaldson, Kenneth Staley, Jack Grubaugh and E. D. Hawley. Aldermen Clare Staley and Ed Hansen supported the Mayor's opposition with nay votes.

With the introduction of the motion, the Mayor reiterated the views he expressed at the last regular council meeting when a similar proposal was made by Donaldson but not offered as a motion. The proposal at that time lead to a lengthy discussion and eventually by general agreement City Superintendent James Taylor was authorized to invite representatives of Consumers to discuss the nature of the study Consumers would propose. The proposed conference was held Mar. 17.

Alderman Hansen lead the opposition to the motion, supporting the mayor's views. He maintained the proposed free study would be giving Consumers an open invitation to come into the city and launch a campaign that would eventually lead to a sell-out of the city electric system. He said that if the purpose of the study is to sell the business that Consumers already know its value and could give them a price "in 10 minutes". Ken Staley interrupted at this point to suggest a call be made immediately.

Hansen further questioned what the city would do with the money if it did sell the facility and asked Donaldson if he wanted the plant sold. Donaldson replied that he might if the price were right—"ten million, yes—ten thousand, no."

The study now being made by Cummins & Bernard is near completion and the reports should be in the hands of the council early next month. Alderman Grubaugh pointed out that the study by Consumers will require three months and it should in no way conflict with the council analyzing the Cummins & Bernard report prior to getting the Consumers report.

Although the council chamber was nearly filled to capacity with visitors interested in the electric situation, there were few who expressed opinions. Harold Geiken, however, stated his views in the following prepared statement:

"Utility rates are excessive when compared to private power rates. However, in Charlevoix the electrical rate is only a part of the utility bill. I feel that the water rate when coupled with the sewage charge is not equitable—for example you cannot water the lawn or wash cars without increasing the sewage charge.

"Charlevoix through ownership of the power plant enjoys certain benefits such as free porch lights and possibly better street lighting. However, with the increased production cost of diesel-electric versus steam turbine produced power, it is possible that rates would not be comparable to private utilities.

"Charlevoix is in an enviable position being between the N. Michigan Electric Co-Operativa and the new Consumera Plant—and may be able to purchase power from these sources at less than cost of production and retain the benefits of municipal ownership.

"At one time power was given free to certain private institutions, in event this is still done it should be discontinued as it is a burden on the rest of the citizens. It is doubtful if the city would gain in the long run taxwise with the sale of the municipal plant to a private company as it would be only of salvage value to them. Information from all available sources should be obtained so that the decision reached will benefit the majority of citizens."

B. D. Hilty, northern district manager of Consumers Power Co., suggested to the council at the Mar. 17 meeting a number of phases of the municipal operation that should be considered in a comprehensive study of the power system. At that time he also offered the service of his company in making a survey, without charge or obligation to the city.

The mayor announced Monday night that Consumers had submitted costs for buying block power which the city would in turn distribute over the city power lines. A comparative study of costs made in this proposal has not been completed. On the surface, however, it would appear the city can buy power at a lower cost than it can be generated in the locally owned plant,

From the Editor's Desk

Freakish climatic conditions were seen here this week. Outboard motor boats were skimming about Round Lake and a look further through the channel one could see ice boats zooming about on Lake Charlevoix.

Iceboat enthusiasts thought spring was here last week and there was a mad rush to get the boats off Lake Charlevoix. We hear Jack Rayder was too anxious or too heavy and got an early spring ducking.

Word comes from Ann and Jim Lawyer that Moonlight Gardens will stage a grand opening Saturday and that a new bar and lunch counter has been installed. Directing attention to the new lunch counter will be a Saturday and Sunday special, "Pigs in the blanket" and Polish sausage, served Polish style.

There are rumors aplenty about what is happening at the Kranhke building, corner of Bridge and Antrim streets. My legs are weary trying to chase all of them down. Our only conclusion is that there is something brewing.

Another change on Bridge street is certain. Puff's Appliance Center has purchased the former Martin Block building, accross the street from their present location. They will be open at the new location Saturday morning—not settled completely but ready to take care of their customers.

MARCH in MICHIGAN

By Harold E. Kohn

What brings about this sudden burst of animal activity as March closes and April begins? Why do the hoodlum crows, so quiet, sullen, and retiring in winter, now become raucous, brazen and loudly romantic? What prompts the tree swallows to leave the deep South and arrive here so precisely each year that I can, with near certainty, predict the day of their coming by reviewing my diaries, seeing when they reached the North last spring and the spring before that? How is it that we can prophesy on what night the warblers will be travelling Northward on roads of wind and moonlight? What incites the snowshoe hare and the weasel to change their coats from winter white to summer brown?

The naturalists say the answers to such questions can be found in the "photoperiodicity" of living things—which is a difficult, tongue-twisting way of affirming the relationship of life on earth to the distant sun, the giver of light. Spring-breeding birds and mammals become more active with the lengthening of days and the resultant exposure to more light. Glands of resident crows and migrating warblers swell and trigger the romantic antics and the long sojourns, when days reach a certain length. And this happens whether the barometer and thermometer register high or low, and whether the local food supply is lush or scarce.

For centuries it was thought that a change in temperature brought about a transformation in the color of the fur of the varying hare (More commonly called "the snowshoe rabbit") and the weasel. When cold weather set in the varying hare and the weasel changed from brown to white and when warm weather followed winter they changed back to brown again. Now, in recent years, it has been proven beyond a doubt that the factor inducing change is not the temperature of the air but the duration of light in the sky. Regardless of temperature, under experimental conditions cative snowshoe hares have been made to change their white fur for summer brown in mid-winter by being exposed to a sudden increase of artificial illumination to the extent of eighteen hours per day. Also, it has been shown that brown fur will be retained throughout the year if exposed to eighteen hours of light each day, and any sudden reduction of light to a mere nine hours per day will bring about a quick change to white winter fur even in midsummer and while the laboratory environment is kept at summer temperatures. The same experiments have been tried on weasels, and the tests have had the same results.

Some birds, too, have an annual rythmn or color change that is controlled by the varying duration of light. Our scarlet tanager neighbor trades his blazing red and burnished black summer suit for an unobtrusive greenish and yellowish cloak as summer wanes and the light in the sky diminishes. A prolonged hot "spell" or a quick drop in the air temperature will make no difference as to when our bright friend changes clothes. Only the dwindling length of day has any effect.

We are all related to the sun in some strange way, and no creature could live one day without the warmth with which it blesses the earth and without the light that permits all growing things to exist. Every living thing on earth either depends directly upon the sun's energy, it's heat, it's light, or upon other creatures which in turn depend upon the sun. As the sun throws out its rays, like scraps of life to a prepetually dying world, the sun, too, dies a little: it's weight loss is at the incredible rate of a billion tons every four minutes. But never fear. Should this loss continue at the same speed in the future, it would take the sun no less than fifteen million million years to empty itself into space!

The sun is one relative who will be around for a long time to come.

More on Con Con

The proponents of a Constitutional Convention are, for the most part, most reluctant to be specific in what they wish to change in our Michigan Constitution. However, certain general objectives have become apparent, and some several specific changes have been mentioned,—none of which has found favor with Farm Bureau.

In general the changes would:

1. Give more power to the state at the expense of local governments and the rights and freedoms of individuals.

2. Concentrate more political power in the Detroit area.

To be specific, would you be for or against the following:

3. Do away with the 15 mill limitation.

4. Eliminate our state Senate, or

5. Reapportion it on a strictly population basis.

6. No state earmarked funds.

7. Transfer all Township government functions to the counties.

8. Consolidate or eliminate counties, form 12 administrative districts.

9. State to appoint some or all county officials.

All these and more have been mentioned as "desirable" reforms or "obsolete" provisions of our Michigan Constitution.

Farm Bureau is concerned and alarmed that efforts to eliminate or correct certain evils, defects, and abuses, can result in even greater evils, defects, and abuses. Farm Bureau is convinced that the Con Con proposal contains great risk of such evils, defects, and abuses in the areas of self government and individual freedoms.

We earnestly urge a NO vote on Con Con April 3rd.

TALK ABOUT AUTOMATIC WASH AND WEAR

JAYMAR SLACKS OF ORLON AND WORSTED ACTUALLY THRIVE ON LAUNDERING!

Like the smooth rich feel of fine worsted in slacks? O.K.—what about wash and wear? Up 'til recently the question was how to combine these two highly desirable qualities in a slacks fabric. It took some doing . . . but Jaymar did it! Came up with a new automatic wash and wear fabric that actually contains Worsted for firm, robust body . . . and Orlon for supreme washability and press retention. Try 'em soon . . . and wear them as they were meant to be worn, from breakfast to the late show.

Band Members Enter State Music Festival

Ten members of the Charlevoix high school band were in Jackson Saturday for participation in the annual State Solo and Ensemble festival.

Charlevoix had five entries in the event including four which were entered in the regular solo and ensemble division while the fifth, the oboe solo, was entered in Proficiency I, a classification a step above the regular solo activity.

Two entries received the coveted I rating. They were the French horn solo 1st, by Robert Odmark, and the brass sextet composed of Evelyn Peters and Joan Riley, cornets, Robert Odmark, horn, Bruce Kroken, baritone, Steve Kroll, trombone and Gary Stutzman, bass.

The flute-oboe duet with Sandra Tuomela and Richard Odmark and the cornet trio composed of Evelyn Peters, Ted Tunison and George Majors received II ratings.

Richard Odmark, oboe soloist, received a score of 81 on the proficiency exam which included not only the regular solo performance but also an examination on scale studies and sight reading. This was just under the score of 85 necessary to pass proficiency successfully but is a commendable performance for the initial entry in this classification by a Charlevoix entry.

The group was transported to southern Michigan by their director, C. A. Odmark, Mrs. John Kroken and Dwight Smith who teaches at East Jordan. They were accompanied by Mrs. Leonard Burns who accompanied all entries but the brass sextet.

These three local men are among the more than 130 representing various crafts who are employed at the Big Rock Point Nuclear Power plant by the general contractor, Bechtel Corp. of San Francisco, and sub-contractors.

They are (l to r) Lynden Bristol, Eugene Curtis and Earl Holborn who are pictured as they work on forms for the concrete structure inside the reator containment vessel.

Work is progressing on schedule according to Jerome D. Lescoe, construction superintendent for Consumers Power Co. for whom the plant is being built.

More than 7,000 cubic yards of concrete will be poured into forms like these to form shields and supports for equipment within the vessel which was completed in January and tested to assure that it would meet design specifications.

The $30 milion plant was started last April and is scheduled for completion late next year.

BREAKTHROUGH:

Suddenly Shell makes every other motor oil obsolete —with a revolutionary new formula which fights the five internal troubles that can shorten engine life

Shell's research reveals five common internal troubles that can shorten the life of your car. All five work silently and unseen.

Read how new Shell X-100® Premium fights all five internal troubles.

Today, every Shell dealer in America has new Shell X-100 Premium Motor Oil ready for your Spring oil change.

New Shell X-100 Premium is a genuine breakthrough because it is the only motor oil available that protects your car simultaneously against these five internal troubles that can shorten engine life.

Trouble #1—additive ash

Up to now, even the best premium motor oils were powerless to guard against additive ash—because they actually created it. While endeavoring to keep your crankcase shipshape, some of the ingredients in these oils contributed to the hard crust of ash inside your combustion chamber.

All other premium motor oils still have the same snag.

The trouble stems from the metallic additives used to prevent scuffing, dirt deposits, oxidation and so forth. These additives do what's expected of them, but with each stroke of the piston, they can leave a tiny amount of metallic salts in the combustion chamber where they burn and form additive ash.

This crusty ash, when allowed to build up, can affect your car's performance—can make it knock and run roughly.

New Shell X-100 Premium doesn't add to this problem—because it doesn't contain a single metallic additive.

Trouble #2—crankcase dirt

All engines accumulate crankcase dirt no matter how well they are protected by filters. The problem is to stop this dirt from getting together and forming sticky sludge which can clog your engine.

Most premium oils use a detergent additive to do the job. And they perform well. But, like other additives, most detergents are metallic and cause that old devil—ash.

*Trademark

New Shell X-100 Premium.

Oddly enough, nobody yet knows exactly how Alkadine works. But the proof of the pudding is in the testing. After 1,200,000 miles of city driving, engines of test cars lubricated with Shell X-100 Premium showed so little sludge that it could hardly be measured.

Trouble #3 —temperature changes

Many motor oils tend to become too thick when cold and too thin when hot.

New Shell X-100 Premium is an all-year oil. Here's how it works. Alkadine has a molecular structure that resembles a basket of eels.

When the oil is cold, Alkadine's eel-like molecules curl up as if for comfort. In effect, they take up less space in the oil—and the oil flows freely through the tightest bearing, even on cold nights.

Conversely, when the Alkadine in new Shell X-100 Premium is hot, its molecules uncurl. They take up more room. And the oil resists thinning.

Thus, new Shell X-100 Premium eliminates trouble from sudden temperature changes. It lubricates just as efficiently in June as it does in January.

Trouble #4—engine acid

All automobile engines manufacture acid. This acid can do far more damage than friction. It can eat away at engine parts in much the way stomach acid can cause ulcers. Then you're really in trouble.

One way to combat engine acid is to make the oil alkaline. Many oils use this method. But here's what happens.

The neutralizing effect of alkaline oil inevitably gets weaker and weaker as engine acid eats up the alkalinity—till it eventually stops working completely. Then your oil no longer gives you anti-acid protection.

Shell tackles this troublesome acid problem in a new way.

"Chemisorption" offers a longer-lasting protection against acid attack than any other method yet invented.

Trouble #5 —cooling system leaks

Tiny leaks of permanent antifreeze can play nasty tricks with many motor oils.

These oils can react chemically with permanent anti-freeze and form a horrible sludge which can actually bring an otherwise healthy engine to a standstill. Then you're on the way to a major repair bill.

New Shell X-100 Premium sets all such fears at rest. It resists reaction with any sort of anti-freeze. It shrugs it off.

The additives in Shell X-100 Premium resist washing out with water, too. In some oils, additives can be lost to water leaks. In Shell X-100 Premium, they stay.

How much does Shell X-100 Premium cost?

If you drive the national average of 10,000 miles per year, the switch to Shell X-100 Premium (with regular oil changes) will cost you only $3.60 more than ordinary oil—give or take a nickel. And probably nothing extra if you already use a premium grade.

Drive to your Shell service station and ask the dealer to change your oil while the engine is still hot. Be sure to ask for Shell X-100 Premium in the white can. It protects your engine from all five internal troubles listed above.

Incumbent treasurer Mrs. Rose Bergmann was also returned to office after defeating Mrs. Joan Blanchard, a 'sticker' candidate, 60 to 33.

Charles Bleha, running as a sticker or write-in candidate, defeated incumbent trustee Henry Stephan 54 to 49. Because Bleha received write-in votes on both the Republican and Democratic ballots, it was necessary to obtain an attorney general's opinion before he could be declared the winner in this race. This type of write-in vote on both tickets is not acceptable in a primary election.

In a fourth contest, Clarence Goldstick polled 81 votes to 34 for Mrs. Rose Elzinga for Justice of the peace.

Others who were elected without opposition were Dale Boss who received 100 votes for Board of Review and Bruce Donaldson who received 103 votes and Douglas Way who had 91 for the two posts for constable in the township.

In Norwood township, incumbent supervisor Clyde Warner, who ran on the Democratic ballot after he was ousted as a candidate in the Republican caucus, defeated his opponent William Parsons 63 to 36 to return to office.

Only other Democratic candidate to win election was Joseph Stutzman who defeated Republican Warren Schoals for the office of township highway commissioner.

Other new officers are Mrs. Charles Weisler who defeated Hubert Lietz 65 to 36 for township clerk to succeed Mr. Parsons who had served in the post for many years; Sam Campbell who polled 57 votes to 41 for Steve Faculak for trustee; Stanley Lord who defeated Mrs. Charles Wells 62 to 38 for justice of the peace; George Light Sr. who defeated Mrs. Orville Harding 60 to 40 for board of review and Dawson Way who defeated Frank Gengle 55 to 43 for constable.

In Hayes township Lee Sneathen Jr. incumbent supervisor on the Democratic ballot was returned to office after defeating E. K. Shanahan, republican candidate for the post, 118 to 73.

Only other Democrat to win election was Frank Sneathen who defeated Leo Berg for justice of the peace.

Incumbent treasurer, Mrs. Hazel Evers polled 111 votes to 81 for her opponent Paul White; incumbent clerk Frank Burnett defeated Quinto White 118 to 45; Lloyd Keubler was elected clerk over Nathaniel Smith Sr.; Thomas Hamlin won over Jake Deschermeier for constable and Robert Straw defeated Bob White for highway commissioner. APRIL in MICHIGAN

By Harold E. Kohn

April is here, the month of returning. Vagabond sounds and sights and smells that have been missing for months have come home to the North.

Sounds return to the once snow-muffled earth. A few nights ago we heard the first killdeer cry of spring and a day later a robin's plaintive tune-up song. Neighbors cry gay salutes to each other as they begin spring "yard-work." Now will come the roll of spring thunder, and spring peepers will hoarsely rehearse for their shrill evening seranades.

In April we encounter sights that once seemed gone forever. Kites again dance on the winds. Screens replace storm windows. Blue jeans with dirt stains on the knees are worn in place of snow-dampened ski pants. Although the kitchen floor may still need mopping every day, it's mud now, rather than melting snow, that keeps the housewife busy. April brings out the first spring flowers, and the first forks, rakes and spades. American golden-eye ducks now dive among the broken chunks of ice floating in Lake Charlevoix, just off our beach, where they have not appeared since their fall migration. Soon the first swallow of spring will be seen skimming about on damp lakeside breezes. Almost daily rains will glisten on cottage roofs, branches will be festooned with pearly strings of springtime dew.

Now, in the chill, wet April woods the old odors arise. The spicy-sweet smells of thawing earth, decaying leaves, crumbling logs; and the barely perceptible fragrances of swelling buds and sprouting plants greet the nostrils like old friends. Winter pilfered our woodsy perfumes, but spring has found them and restored them, opening every vial, letting all the essences escape upon the garb of April.

eyes and sense of smell, with

These are the days to requisition nature—with ears and heart and brain, to stake a claim on all creation and to call it yours.

SOME THINGS TO KEEP IN MIND THIS WEEK:

- If April seems wet to you now, remember that it is reliably estimated that the American countyside was fifty per cent wetter a century ago, and that the frog and insect population was more than double what it is today. When grandfather began his spring farm work it was to the accompaniment of a vast orchestra of frog and insect sounds.
- For a few weeks, now, you will be able to examine the forest floor and see it at its best. In winter a carpeting of snow hides plant life and all the minute details of forest floor life, and in autumn newly fallen leaves cover the ground. A heavy canopy of leaves in hranches overhead shade the ground too darkly to permit a good look in summer. But in April and in May light from the spring sky penetrates to the very roots of the trees, and the careful observer can see and learn the patient ways of Earth, how she embroiders with rootlets and tendrils, how she practices the art of creating fertility from last year's deadness.

From the Editor's Desk

It's a bet Robert Bridge is watching Charlevoix weather for signs of spring from his vacation spot at Phoenix, Ariz. A card from him last Friday calls attention to the fact the Courier is just one year behind in its weather report. It seems a coincidence that I had just discovered the same error the evening before and asked my wife how long it would be before someone called it to our attention. Thanks, Bob. It is nice to know you are keeping an eye on Charlevoix.

Signs of spring! Gould Murdick, candy-maker and manager of Murdick's Fudge Kitchen, last week returned from the south and is getting the famous candy shop in readiness for opening about the middle of June. Right now, however, he is making a supply of peanut brittle for the annual candy sale sponsored by the Charlevoix high school band. Orders for this tasty candy may be placed with members of the band.

To be presented with an Easter Bunny on Easter morn would be quite traditional and we can visualize Fran Martin's surprise and enthusiasm when the Easter Bunny she might have expected turned out to be a beautiful Siamese kitten, a gift from one of her admirers. Name Tally.

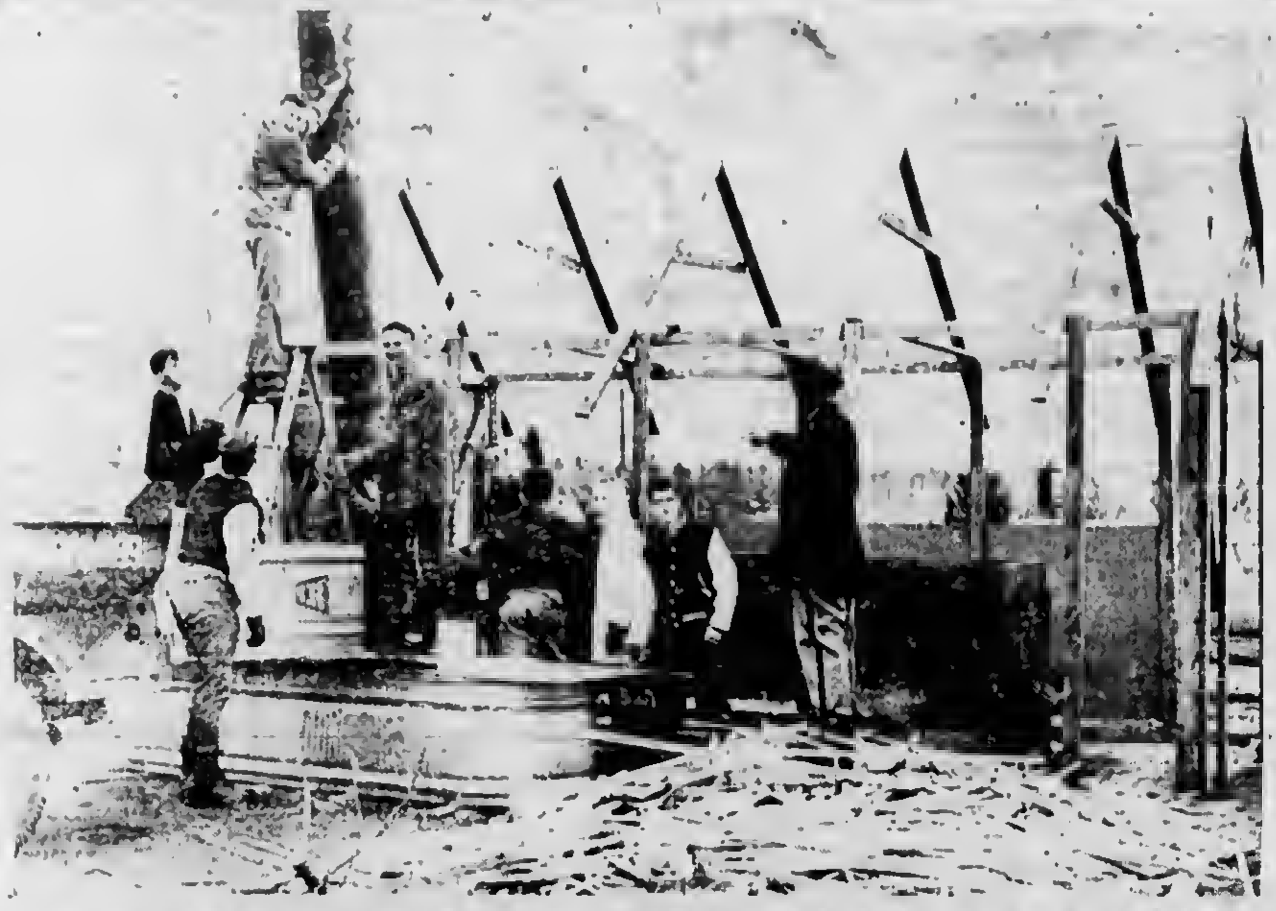
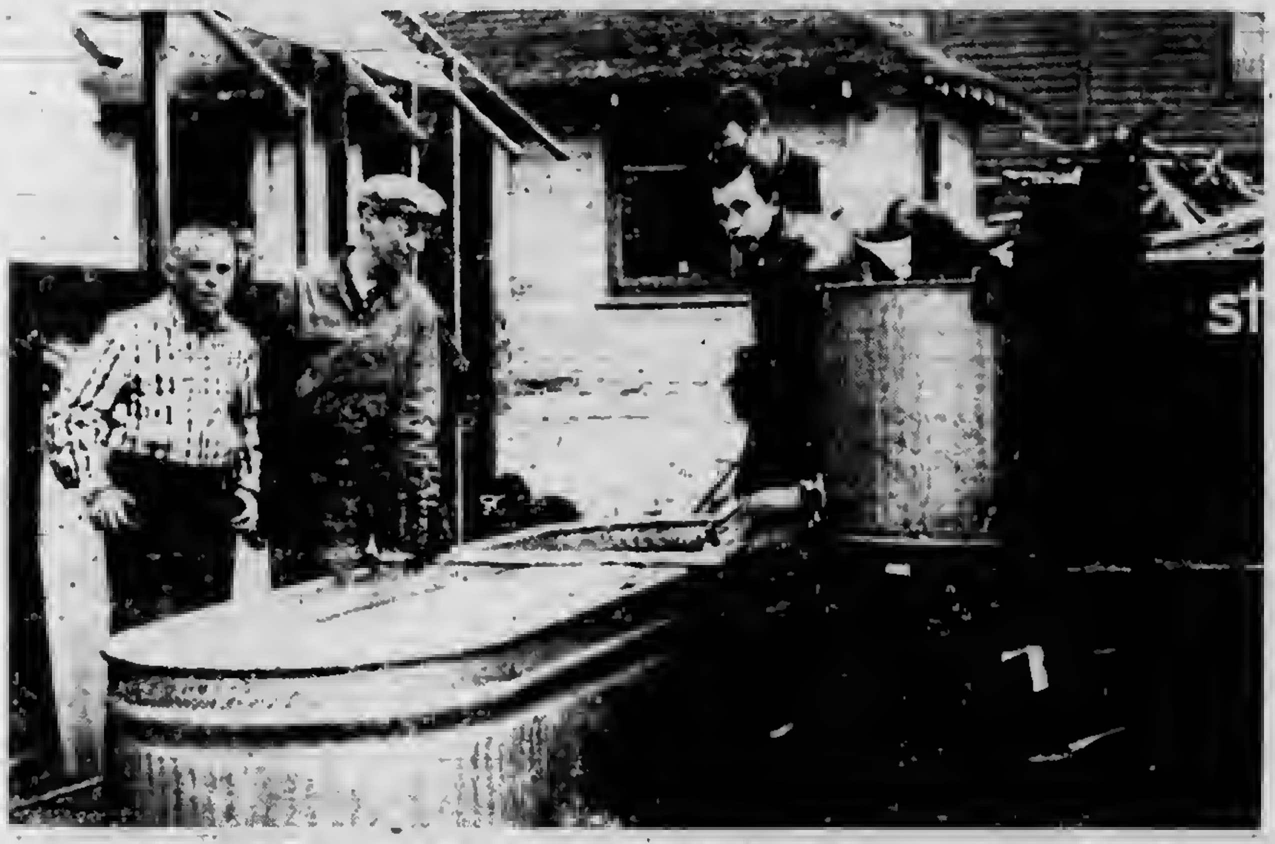
OUR 35th YEAR



Charlevoix Sea Scouts, under the direction of Robert Sommerville (left), Skipper of the Sea Scout Ship "Our Son", assembling boiling shanty and equipment in readiness for the annual maple syrup season. Maple trees in Charlevoix heve been tapped and the next job will be to gather tha maple sap and boil it down to syrup. The project is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Charlevoix.



Now the sap is really running and after schoolthe Sea Scouts race from tree to tree gathering the sweet water. Here the boys ara transferring the sap from the gathering tank to the storage tenk from which it is pumped to the evaporator for boiling. Sap is gathered daily from more then 500 maple trees that border the streets of Charlevoix.

Courier Photo.

Next comes the evaporating or boiling process. By rule of thumb, a barrel of sap will produce a gallon of syrup which meets the required standard weight of 11 pounds to a gallon. Tha smoke indicates e roering fire in the evaporator and that the moisture is being evaporated from the sap at peak capacity. When the sap has been boiled down to a specific density it is removed to an adjacent building where it is filtered, bottled, labled and ready for sale. This part of the operation is cerried on by the girl Scouts of Charlevoix. Both Sea Ccouts and Girl Scouts are peid for their work on the project.

Annette Hansen, Second Grader Wins AAA Safety Award

A youthful Charlevoix artist has won a place award in the AAA's 17th annual National School Safety Poster contest, officials of the Automobile Club of Michigan have announced.

She is 7-year-old Annette Hansen, a second grade student at St. Mary's school, who has received a second place carrying with it a $10 award for her poster design which illustrates the safety rule, "Play Away from Traffic".

In all, 13 Michigan youngsters received place awards for their contest entries, winning a total of $350 in prizes.

More than 11,800 pupils in 1,386 schools throughout the country entered posters in the contest. Grand prize winner was 8-year -old Patty Somes of Indianapolis, youngest student to ever cop the top award.

Students competed within the four basic grade classifications—primary, elementary, junior high and senior high school,—and in 12 assigned categories, one for each of the basic pedestrian and bicycle safety rules.

Award winners will receive their cash prizes some time this month from an AAA representative.

Annette is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Hansen.

She is the second member of her family to receive recognition for her poster entry in the contest. Last year her sister, Paulette, a sixth grade student at the time, won honorable mention with her entry.

Mr . and Mrs. Lynn Seligman returned home recently from a three months visit in Hammond, Ind.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Nobody's in the Doghouse

The question of our town dog catcher came up at the last town meeting and someone started a little fuss about Slim Thomas — said he'd been dog catcher for a year and hadn't caught a single dog.

Buck Hanson spoke right up. "Aren't any dogs to catch. Any stray turns up, and if the dog's healthy, Slim gives it to some youngster to keep for a pet. We don't want to elect a man who'd put harmless little pups in cages, do we?"

I guess we don't, because Slim got re-elected, and they even gave him a raise in pay.

From where I sit, the folks in our town are a pretty nice bunch. Live and let live, they say—and they don't just apply this old axiom to strays, either. Me, for instance. Most every time a neighbor asks me over for dinner he serves me a glass of beer. He knows that's my preference, even though his might be coffee or tea. There's no "catch" to being a good neighbor — just be a tolerant one.

IN AMERICA'S BIGGEST, TOUGHEST 1961 ECONOMY CONTEST...

No other make won more than one award . . . most won none.

Unlike other runs that put a premium on feather-footed driving, the Pure Oil Economy Trials closely parallel your own everyday driving experience.

Every U.S.-built production car is eligible. None are arbitrarily barred, as in some runs. In 1961, 145 cars representing all 5 U.S. makers competed.

Rambler American Custom with overdrive beat them all to win the cherished Overall Winner Trophy and captured the Class 6 trophy in competition with Falcon, Corvair, Lark and Tempest 4. In fact, it took the first 6 places and 8 of the first 10.

And Ambassador V-8 by Rambler won its Class, swept the first 8 places and 9 of the first 10 spots.

With speeds up to 65, and averaging more than 40 M.P.H., the winning Rambler American made 14 complete stops, shifted through the gears 15 times while circling the 3.7 mile course, and still averaged 26.86 miles per gallon!

This is the second straight year Rambler won the Pure Oil Economy Trials.

Want more proof of Rambler value? Then see your Rambler dealer. You'll find top gas economy is just part of your savings. Rambler costs less to buy, is voted most trouble-free by owners, has top resale value.

Rambler dealers sell twice as many compact cars per dealer as most other dealer groups. So, you get a better deal . . . on the best of the compacts. Rambler—world standard of compact car excellence.

Did you know Gasoline is Taxed at a Rate 5 Times as High as Diamonds?

IN MICHIGAN, YOU PAY $1.00 TAX ON 10 GALLONS OF GASOLINE

Gasoline taxes will be lowered—if the latest temporary Federal gasoline tax increase expires on June 30th as scheduled by the 1959 Federal Highway Act.

Along with all good citizens, we are in favor of building the roads that the motoring public needs. But, in the last 10 years alone, Federal and State taxes nationwide on gasoline have skyrocketed 51%—skyrocketed to a point where gasoline, a basic commodity, is actually taxed at a rate five times as high as luxuries like diamonds and mink coats.

Must gasoline taxes be so high? Most people believe that gasoline taxes are high because the money is needed to pay for our national highway program. This is not so.

The fact is that out of every highway-user tax dollar collected last year by the Federal government, more than 40 cents was diverted to non-highway purposes.

If these highway-user tax revenues were spent for highways—as they should be—gasoline taxes could be lowered, and the highway program given a boost.

In fact, the Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1959 provides that when the added temporary Federal gasoline tax expires on June 30th, 1961, as scheduled, some $802 million a year in highway-user taxes—now diverted to the U. S. Treasury's general fund—will instead be deposited in the Highway Trust Fund.

As a result, if the latest Federal temporary gasoline tax increase expires on June 30th as scheduled—the national highway program will actually get $225 million more each year than it now receives from the latest Federal temporary gasoline tax increase.

In January of this year, after an exhaustive 2-year survey of national transportation policy, a special U. S. Senate study group confirmed the wisdom of this decision.

This will be good news for you. You will be able to enjoy a steadily improving highway system, at a lower gasoline tax-rate.

HERE ARE THE FACTS ABOUT TODAY'S HIGH GASOLINE TAXES

- In Michigan, you pay $1.00 tax on 10 gallons of gasoline.
- You pay 10¢ tax a gallon—4¢ in Federal taxes plus 6¢ in State taxes.
- Gasoline is taxed at a rate 5 times as high as diamonds.
- The average Michigan motor vehicle owner pays $76 a year in gasoline taxes.
- Since 1951 there have been three increases in the Federal gasoline tax alone.
- In the last 10 years, gasoline taxes nationwide have skyrocketed 51%—yet the national-average price of gasoline itself has risen only 5.5% during the same period.

The Gasoline You Buy Is Taxed Too High!

LANSING OBSERVER

By FRANK G. MORRIS

Because attention is focused on Gov. Swainson's fight for a state income tax, you haven't heard about the administration's House Bill 592, which would transfer about 80 per cent of Detroit's welfare costs to the state government.

It's part of the Governor's tax package and its significance did not come to light until the public hearings held last week by Senator Clyde H. Geerlings, (R) of Holland, chairman of the Senate tax committee. Even then, the bill was not mentioned in the press.

If passed, Swainson's measure would require the state to send another $5 million or more this year to Detroit for welfare purposes, thus raising the state aid to that city to about $23 million for relief expenditures during 1961.

The taxpayers of all 83 counties would be footing the immense bill for the metropolis.

It would be another step in Swainson's income tax program which Senator Geerlings and Senator Carlton H. Morris, (R) of Kalamazoo, have condemned as an attempt to "bail out Detroit at the expense of outstate taxpayers."

The impact of the measure is not apparent on its face. It simply provides that no local government shall spend on relief more than one mill on state equalized value. The cost thereafter would be assumed by the state.

Under the present statute, when Wayne County lost its battle for a state contribution of 75 per cent, Gov. Williams three years ago quietly out-connived the legislature.

His Social Welfare Commission members, all appointed by the Democratic Governor, adopted a rule that they would pay 100 per cent of the cost of welfare after a municipality had expended 1½ mills of assessed valuation for this purpose.

This rule, never submitted for legislative approval, required the state to contribute $15 million last year to the cost of relief in Detroit. The city contributes only $8.5 million, making a total expenditure there of $23.5 million.

Gov. Swainson now is asking the lawmakers to fix the maximum responsibility of Detroit for its welfare at $5.6 million a year, based on present-property assessments.

The cost of this activity in the metropolis during 1961 probably will reach $28 million.

If it hits this peak, the taxpayers in all 83 counties will be holding the bag for about $22.4 million, a sum that would retire the $57 million Cobo Hall debt in 30 months.

Swainson sent his legal adviser, Robert Derengoski, to explain this measure and the whole income tax package at Senator Geerling's public hearing.

The smooth way in which the administration justifies its tax program is demonstrated by Derengoski's passing comment about the welfare bill. As recorded on tape, the Governor's legal adviser said.

"This bill is aimed at an assist for local government and provides that local units shall not be required to expend in excess of one mill on state equalized value before the state assumes the cost of relief.

"Many units are presently not expending this amount prior to the state assuming the load, but there are instances where one mill or more are being expended."

Notice the plurals. From Derengoski's testimony, a legislator would conclude that several cities and townships need extra help to meet rising relief costs.

But the unrevealed truth is that Detroit is the only municipality that would benefit.

And if Gov. Swainson's whole tax package happens to pass, the taxpayers of all Michigan would send another $100 million or more down to the dynamic city that is the citadel of the Democratic Party.

If they win a sweeping victory in the election next Monday, Democrats will contend that the voters demonstrated willing approval of Gov. Swainson's income tax package.

STATE OF MICHIGAN scientists keep a sort of long range eye on atom bomb testing throughout the world.

Their aim is to make sure surface waters in the Water Wonderland do not accumulate excessive amounts of radioactivity. Actually the men of the Water Resources Commission who check the lakes and streams have no real connection with the testing of nuclear weapons.

But the number af atomic devices exploded around the world are reflected in the Michigan report.s

Latest report from the commission showed only one-tenth the amount of radioactivity recorded in surface water during the latter part of 1959 was present during 1960.

Loring F. Oeming chief engin-years that regular tests have been mission, said the lower levels of radioactivity seen in 1960 stemmed from the fact that there was no nuclear bomb testing since late 1958.

He said that during the five years that regular test have been made, radioactivity levels have fluctuated in direct relation to the extent of atomic weapons testing by the United States and other countries of the world.

The Water Resources Commission maintains 32 sampling stations with 13 of them located on the Great Lakes or connecting waters, he said. Fourteen municipal water supplies are also constantly checked.

Cities which have their water supplies watched are Benton Harbor, Grand Rapids, Charlevoix, Petoskey, Escanaba, Marquette, Alpena, Saginaw, Port Huron, Mount Clemens, Detroit, Monroe, Flat Rock, and Dundee.

All testing stations are at public water supply intakes, industrial water intakes or other strategic locations.

Plants and animals taken from the water at the Charlevoix and Monroe testing stations are checked further to determine how much radioactivity is absorbed, Oeming said.

Data which comes out of the monitoring program is used by federal, state and local governments in a variety of ways, and by private concerns, he said.

Under a 1951 law, pari-mutuel tickets bought by forgetful wagerers on horses which run into money are paid to the State Board of Escheats, if the holder of the ticket doesn't show up within a year after Sept. 1 of the year in which the ticket was purchased.

Though the total of money in this manner is small in comparison with annual budgets for state agencies as a whole, it usually amounts to several thousand dollars.

All money escheated to the state eventually goes into the Primary School Interest Fund.

From there, it is evenly divided among the school districts on the basis of the number of school-age children (five to 19 years old) living in the district, whether they attend school or not.

State school aid payments to districts are reduced by the amount received by the district from the Primary Fund, however, so it is really the state's General Fund which profits most directly from the uncashed racing bets. Still, the net effect is to make more money available for use by schools.

Forty-four out of 70 cases of rabies recorded by the State Health Department were among the pugent smelling, black-and white little animals that roam Michigan's woodlands.

Fourteen dogs, six cats, five cattle and a bat also were found to be infected with the disease last year.

Even though the 70 cases reported last year were 18 more than were discoverd during the previous year, the record was still less than 10 per cent of the all-time high incidence year for rabies, 1940.

Sonme 715 cases of the dread disease were recorded in 1940, with 598 of them in dogs.

Since that time, the Health Department said, a drive to have all domestic dogs vaccinated against the disease has paid off. Pets still need to be immunized, the department said, and spring, when both domestic and wild animals start to move around more, is a good time to have it done.

Juniors Select Three Act Comedy For Class Play

The three act comedy, "Our Girls", written by Conrad Seiler, has been selected as the Junior Class play for 1961, Judy Ikens, junior class president, has announced.

Rehearsals are now underway following try-outs and selection of a cast, according to Miss Ikens. William Ratigan and Don Carey are directing the play, assisted by Mrs. Laura Courtade, Mrs. Lucile Martin and Mrs. Freda Stewart. Miss Ikens has been named student director.

The play tells the story of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lovejoy, played by Don Anders and Donna Berg, whose wealthy maiden aunt, Jessie, (Mary Ann Klooster) who lives in England, promises them a legacy for each of their daughters with the understanding that the girls are to receive the legacy when they reach their sixteenth birthday anniversaries. Despite the fact that they have three sons instead, whom they name Francis, Vivian and Jesse, names that could be used for either sex, everything goes well until Vivian, played by George Majors, reaches his sixteenth birthday and Aunt Jessie decides to present the legacy in person.

The mad turmoil which follows results in a hilarious play certain to entertain young and old alike.

Ted Tunison plays the role of Francis; Donald Berg the part of Jesse; Nancy Bogart, the role of Mrs. Wattles, the boisterous next door neighbor; Bruce Bartlett as her son, Chester; Sharon Abfalter, her daughter Phyllis; Wanda Warner the role of Hulda, the Lovejoy's Swedish maid and Jack Stewart the expressman.

The play will be presented at the high school auditorium May 5.

Contract Let for Coast Guard Dock

The U.S. Coast Guard last week awarded the contract for the construction of the new bulkhead (dock) and boat basin on the upper channel between Round Lake and Lake Charlevoix to the Northern Marine Construction Co. of Cheboygan, Capt T. R. Sargent, Civil Engineer of the Ninth Coast Guard district office in Cleveland, has announced.

The amount of the bid was $84,571.76 with an alternate bid for another $10,846.31, Capt Sargent said.

A total of 12 bids was received for the project which includes the removal of the existing dock (pictured above) and the construction of a sheet piling and concrete dock which will extend from Old River east along the channel to an area north along the buoy depot and east toward the railroad bridge. The boat basin will be constructed in this area.

The work is scheduled to begin as soon as the construction company can assemble its equipment, Capt. Sargent said.

The dock serves as a mooring for the U.S. Coast Guard Cutter Sundew.

The project is a part of a $300,000 construction program which includes the building of a new Lifeboat Station to replace the present one in use for the past 50 years.

Contract for the construction of the Lifeboat Station will be solicited within the next two weeks and the contract awarded in May, Capt. Sargent reported.

He added the two separate contracts were awarded because of the dissimilarity of the two projects.

MORE PEOPLE ARE BUYING CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER MAKE!

When one car outsells all the rest the way this new Chevrolet is doing*—there's got to be a reason. And we can think of some pretty good ones. The clean-etched looks of the new Body by Fisher, for example. The eager brand of "git" that's under the hood. The easy way it handles. Plus the added advantage of extra-cost options like triple-turbine Turboglide.

But to sample all these reasons together, you have to get a Chevrolet out on the road. And there's where that Jet-smooth ride takes over with its own gentle kind of persuasion. If you weren't absolutely sure, you'd imagine you were riding in a far costlier car.

AND JUST ONE JET-SMOOTH RIDE WILL SHOW YOU WHY!

No wonder people are buying more Chevrolets than any other make! Chevrolets have more of what it takes to please people!

*Official R. L. Polk & Co. registration figures show full-sized Chevrolets outsold the second-choice make by a record-breaking margin in 1960—and Chevrolets continue to set the pace for the industry this year!

Know how the word "news" orignated? Popular etymology derives news from the initial letters of the names of the four cardinal points of the compass-North, East, West and South. But the theory lacks foundation. News is merely the plural of new.

BREAKTHROUGH:

Suddenly Shell makes every other motor oil obsolete —with a revolutionary new formula which fights five internal troubles that can shorten engine life

Shell's research reveals five common internal troubles that can shorten the life of your car. All five work silently and unseen.

• These troubles are additive ash, crankcase dirt, temperature changes, engine acid and cooling system leaks.

Today, every Shell dealer in America has new Shell X-100 Premium Motor Oil ready for your Spring oil change.

New Shell X-100 Premium is a genuine breakthrough because it is the only motor oil available that helps protect your car simultaneously against these five internal troubles that can shorten engine life.

Trouble #1—additive ash

Up to now, even the best premium motor oils were powerless to guard against additive ash—because they actually created it. While endeavoring to keep your crankcase shipshape, some of the ingredients in these oils contributed to the hard crust of ash inside your combustion chamber.

All other premium motor oils still have the same snag.

• The trouble stems from the metallic additives used to prevent scuffing, dirt deposits, oxidation and so forth. These additives do what's expected of them, but with each stroke of the piston, they can leave a tiny amount of metallic salts in the combustion chamber where they burn and form additive ash.

• This crusty ash, when allowed to build up, can affect your car's performance—can make it knock and run roughly.

New Shell X-100 Premium doesn't add to this problem—because it doesn't contain a single metallic additive.

Trouble #2—crankcase dirt

All engines accumulate crankcase dirt no matter how well they are protected by filters. The problem is to stop this dirt from getting together and forming sticky sludge which can clog your engine.

Most premium oils use a detergent additive to do the job. And they perform well. But, like other additives, most detergents are metallic and cause that old devil—ash.

SHELL

New Shell X-100 Premium.

Oddly enough, nobody yet knows exactly how Alkaline works. But the proof of the pudding is in the testing. After 1,200,000 miles of city driving, engines of test cars lubricated with Shell X-100 Premium showed so little sludge that it could hardly be measured.

Trouble #3 —temperature changes

Many motor oils tend to become too thick when cold and too thin when hot.

New Shell X 100 Premium is an all-year oil. Here's how it works. Alkadine has a molecular structure that resembles a basket of eels.

When the oil is cold, Alkadine's eel-like molecules curl up as if for comfort. In effect, they take up less space in the oil—and the oil flows freely through the tightest bearing, even on cold nights.

Conversely, when the Alkadine in new Shell X-100 Premium is hot, its molecules uncurl. They take up more room. And the oil resists thinning.

Thus, new Shell X-100 Premium eliminates trouble from sudden temperature changes. It lubricates just as efficiently in June as it does in January.

Trouble #4—engine acid

All automobile engines manufacture acid. This acid can do far more damage than friction. It can eat away at engine parts in much the way stomach acid can cause ulcers. Then you're really in trouble.

One way to combat engine acid is to make the oil alkaline. Many oils use this method. But here's what happens.

The neutralizing effect of alkaline oil inevitably gets weaker and weaker as engine acid eats up the alkalinity—till it eventually stops working completely. Then your oil no longer gives you anti-acid protection.

Shell tackles this troublesome acid problem in a new way.

"Chemisorption" offers a longer-lasting protection against acid attack than any other method yet invented.

Trouble #5 —cooling system leaks

Tiny leaks of permanent anti-freeze can play nasty tricks with many motor oils.

These oils can react chemically with permanent anti-freeze and form a horrible sludge which can actually bring an otherwise healthy engine to a standstill. Then you're on the way to a major repair bill.

New Shell X-100 Premium sets all such fears at rest. It resists reaction with any sort of anti-freeze. It shrugs it off.

The additives in Shell X-100 Premium resist washing out with water, too. In some oils, additives can be lost to water leaks. In Shell X-100 Premium, they stay.

How much does Shell X-100 Premium cost?

If you drive the national average of 10,000 miles per year, the switch to Shell X-100 Premium (with regular oil changes) will cost you only $3.60 more than ordinary oil—give or take a nickel. And probably nothing extra if you already use a premium grade.

Drive to your Shell service station and ask the dealer to change your oil while the engine is still hot. Be sure to ask for Shell X-100 Premium in the white can. It protects your engine from all five internal troubles listed above.

Michigan Bell to Begin New Number Calling System

The long familiar two-letter, five numeral system of numbering telephomes may be as antiquated in another five years as the old system of turning a crank to signal an operator to place a call, according to C. L. Johnson, manager of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. at Petoskey. He reports the company has started to introduce All Number Calling (ANC) on a progressive basis throughout its territory.

He pointed out that the present two-letter, five numeral numbering could soon be exhausted due to the fact that about 17,000 telephones per day are being installed.

The ANC system, which eventually will be used nationwide, makes about 50 per cent more numbers available immediately.

Tests of the ANC system indicate that it will be more advantageous to the customer. Most people find it easier to locate numbers on the dial than letters. It should also result in less misdialing.

Supervisors Direct County Offices Be Open Saturday Mornings

Heated debate marked the closing session Monday of the Board of Supervisors when County Clerk Fenton R. Bulow objected to a resolution adopted by the board, stipulating that county offices be open Saturday mornings from 9 o'clock until 12 noon from April 1 to October 1.

The action was sparked at this session when it was learned that some of the offices had not been opening Saturday mornings as directed by a board resolution adopted at the 1957 session. The new resolution was adopted by 23 votes with one member absent and William Sanderson obstaining.

Mr. Bulow contended the board has no authority to regulate the hours that county offices shall be open.

Mr. Phillips maintained the board has the authority to regulate hours when the county offices shall be open as well as set the salaries of the elected officers, assistants and authorize other office expenditures. He is supported in this contention by Supervisor Harry Gebeau who as chairman of the buildings and grounds committee submitted the resolution for the committee.

There was a battle of words between the Chairman and the clerk, according to reports. As tension increased there was charge and counter charge.

Mr. Gebeau in commenting Tuesday on the action said he expected the county officers to comply with the resolution and that the vote indicated the board would uphold its action.

The purpose of the Saturday morning opening is to serve persons, who because of their business or other reasons, are unable to conduct their business with the county at any other time, Mr. Phillips explained. The service is especially needed in the summer months when resort owners are in the county only for weekends. He pointed out that the resolution does not require the office holder to be on duty. The work can be assigned to a deputy or a qualified clerk.

Asked if the county clerk's office will be open Saturday mornings, Mr. Bulow replied that his office "will be open, and always is open, and will be any time the public wants service." He qualified the statement, however, that he has not maintained the regular hours from 9 a. m. to noon.

County Treasurer Lillis Flanders reports her office will be open on Saturdays in accordance with the resolution.

Register of Deeds Grover Geneit also reports his office will be open Saturday mornings until further notice.

Department heads of other offices in the county building report they will close on Saturdays as in the past. The office of the county superintendent of schools will open by special appointment, according to Supt. Charles A. Robinson.

Supervisors Adopt All Time High Tentative Budget

The Charlevoix board of Supervisors adjourned their 93rd annual spring session late Monday after adopting a record high tentative budget of $325,255.54, voted 17 to 7 to equalize the county valuation at 100 per cent of the state equalized valuation and to request eight mills to cover county operational costs from the tax allocation board.

The tentative budget for 1962 is $45,953 more than the adopted budget of $279,302 for 1961. It includes a general fund deficit of $27,620.79 resulting in part from $13,000 needed to balance the budget of the probate court and juvenile welfare.

Appropriations made at the recent meeting include $13,000 to balance the probate court and juvenile care budget. This included $6,500 to supplement the appropriation for the same amount made last fall to balance the budget to date and an additional $6,500 to underwrite the cost of operating the office for the remainder of the year. Figures supplied the board by the county treasurer, Miss Lilis M. Flanders, showed the office had operated at a deficit since 1956 (the earlist year they were on file in record books now in use). Figures also showed that the deficit had increased each year though the 1960 deficit was much greater than in other years. The major part of the deficit was for child care.

Other appropriations included $2,100 for a special deputy who will serve as a relief man at the jail and as a dog warden in the county and $500 to help underwrite the cost of a township park on Beaver Island.

The special deputy for the sheriff's department was approved after the sheriff's office had been informed by the State Corrections Department that a deputy must be on duty at all times. It was necessary to engage a part-time deputy so that present deputies could have time off.

In an effort to meet this regulation and to do something about the growing dog problem in the county, the supervisors, after a number of lengthy discussions, approved the special appropriation for a six months period. The deputy will be delegated the task of picking up stray dogs, dogs chasing livestock or deer, or dogs that are nuisances. They will be housed for three days and if they are not claimed will be destroyed. If they are claimed the owners must pay the cost of their keep and purchase licenses if the animals are not licensed. The dogs will be cared for at designated spots throughout the county which will be under the jurisdiction of the cities or the sheriff's department. The action grew out of repeated requests for some action to control the problem.

In other action the board requested all county officers to make a complete inventory of equipment in use in their respective offices; ordered elected officials to keep their respective offices open on Saturday mornings from April 1 until Oct. 1; voted to raze the county-owned building once used as a juvenile detention home and located at 202 Mason St.; passed a resolution prohibiting the display of political literature in the county building at anytime except during a party convention and then only in the room where the convention is being held; approved an appropriation not to exceed $900 for furniture and a typewriter for the office of the probate court; set the hours for the new equalization and assessment officer at 40 hours a week and asked that he keep the office in the county building open on Friday (he is in the field other days of the week); passed a resolution permitting setting aside funds from rentals, fees and other sources in a special fund equal to one mill of the county's valuation and not to exceed $50,000.

Name Miss Flanders Chairman of County Allocation Board

Miss Lillis M. Flanders, Charlevoix county treasurer, was reelected chairman of the county tax allocation board, at the organizational meeting held Monday at the county building.

The tentative tax rate wil be set at a second meeting to be called some time before mid-May, Miss Flanders said.

On hand for the meeting were Donovan Fox of Boyne City, Clarence Healey of East Jordan and Edward P. Hansen of Charlevoix, appointed to the board by Probate Judge John Makel, Miss Flanders, Charles A. Robinson, county superintendent of schools, and Lee Sneathen Jr., chairman of the finance committee of the board of superviors who are members by virtue of their offices.

In 1960 the schools received 7½ mills with the exception of St. James which received eight mills, the county 6.5 mills for operational costs and the townships one mill with the exception of Norwood township whose budget did not show a need and Peaine and St. James townships on Beaver Island which requested that one-half mill go to the schools. The latter three received one-half mill each.

"With spring just around the corner, a new outlook on the 'business of life' would seem to be in order. We have had quite enough from the boys who peddle the doom and gloom philosophy."

Watercraft to Be Rated by Builders

A bill that would require manufacturers of boats to put a label on them specifying the weight they can safely carry, and the maximum horsepower outboard motor they are designed to handle, passed the House Thursday.

Overloading and over-powering of boats has been responsible for many water accidents. Homemade boats would require inspection by local authorities to be rated.

About This Question

"The Motor boating and water skiing season is close at hand. We want our outboard motor and boat to be protected against fire, wind and theft. We also need liability insurance in case we injure someone or damage property. Does family liability insurance and a Homeowner Policy include broad coverage for boats and motors?"

LANSING OBSERVER

By FRANK G. MORRIS

Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University, should' by the recipient of the first "Peoples' Citation for Humble Honesty Below and Within the Call of Taxpayers."

If there happens not to be such a citation, it is hereby created.

For Dr. Hannah broke the basic rule of his union a few days ago by gathering together all members of his faculty and asserting in a clear, loud voice that Higher Education can use its immense share of taxpayers' money less wastefully.

His "betrayal" schocked sacred sanctuaries from Harvard to UC LA.

Obviously aware that he would cause quivering beards and clouds of angry pipe smoke on every university and college campus, the MSU President admitted to the faculty that he was embarking on an unprecedented venture by daring to say that education can be improved at less cost to the people.

It appears that the foundation for Dr. Hannah's program is more efficient use of the plant to increase production at lower cost.

In other words, this realistic university prexy wants to move Higher Education out of the dreamy world of Mr. Chipps into the modern age of automated efficiency. And it is about time—if the taxpayers are to be left with a few bucks for gasoline for the old jalopy.

Full use of plant and equipment has been the basic principle of the business world since economists took over management in place of the mechanics and the tinkerers like Henry Ford and Louis Chevrolet and the Dodge brothers.

My first lesson on this rule came from the late Judge Patrick H. O'Brien, an impractical and wonderful humanitarian who was Attorney-General of Michigan in the first Roosevelt years. When I was a very young reporter in 1926, Judge O'Brien lamented to me that so many automobiles were parked so much of the time.

"It's a waste of potential power to let those engines stand idle," he complained.

Years later I was a press agent for Pan American World Airways and I was shocked to discover that no plane must sit idle unless it is in the shop for repairs or the regular checkup.

A plane costing $2 million in those days (a mordern jet costs $5 million) was required to produce revenue every day to be efficient. I was astonished because, being a newspaperman, I knew as much about business as I know about goat farming.

So if it is true that an exploding population requires our Colleges to grind out bachelors, masters and doctors with production line efficiency, I can foresee a new era in Higher Education pioneered by Dr. Hannah.

He will require the student to earn the right to college education through the student's own efforts.

He will end repetitive teaching and drill, and, as one newspaper commented, "end classroom babysitting."

He plans even to turn the dormitories into centers of learning and study.

Only 10 years ago, the colleges and universities needed $34 million from the legislature to augment the money they received from tuition fees, grants, Federal assistance and other sources.

During the fiscal year which will end June 30, the legislative appropriations for Higher Education totaled $98 million.

This increase is out of proportion with the 20 per cent growth in population during that period and cost increases due to inflation.

For a lawmaker to question the use of the taxpayers money by the universities and colleges was to invite scornful ridicule.

But Dr. Hannah didn't come out of Harvard with classical ideas on the future of mankind.

He came out of the poultry department of old Michigan Agricultural College—with chicken mud on his shoes—to build that institution into one of the finest universities in the land.

It appears now that he will lead it to an even greater future—with the taxpayers getting a money-saving break at last.

Drive as if you were early for an appointment with your dentist.

Establishes Rug Cleaning Business

The establishing of a Duraclean rug and upholstering and moth proofing dealership to serve this area has been established by Joseph R. Brun, resident of Marion township for the past 12 years.

Prior to establishing the dealership here, Mr. Brun attended the Duraclean factory training school at Morton Grove, Ill.

Duraclean dealership is a chain of "in the Home" cleaning business, international in scope. Under this process of cleaning, the dealer is trained and equipped to do the complete job in the home without removing furniture or rugs according to Mr. Brun. He says the method is not a wet soaking or scrubbing process and that rugs are ready for use within a few hours after cleaning.

Break Ground for Boyne City Church

Ground was broken Sunday for a new Church of the Nazarene to be constructed on Morgan st. in Boyne City, one block east of the present church.

Construction of a brick veneer sanctuary and educational unit is scheduled to begin this week under the direction of C. J. Fiedler, designer and superintendent of construction.

The Rev. John Smith of Alanson, representing the Michigan district, read the ritual pertaining to the breaking of the ground. The Rev. John Cole, pastor of the Boyne City church, turned the first shovel of earth. The Rev. Thomas Voyles of Mancelona and Mr. Fiedler also participated in the ceremony which was well attended despite inclement weather.

From where I sit .. by Joe Marsh

Silence, Please!

Cap Edwards' little boy started taking saxophone [illegible] few weeks ago and they [illegible] the noise on Upper Main Street was pretty bad.

Then, one afternoon, the Edwards' house was quiet again, and Mrs. Jackson next door figured the boy must have given up tooting his horn. Next time she saw Sis Edwards she asked her about it.

"Well," Sis said, "we knew that racket must be driving you folks crazy. So Cap got a soundproof telephone booth from the phone company second-hand. Junior practices in it to his heart's content. Even I don't have to hear him!"

From where I sit, Cap is living up to one of our oldest American principles — respect for a neighbor's privacy and feelings. You can be sure a thoughtful man like this never tries to force his opinions and preferences on anyone. He's the sort of man who'll go out of his way to have a bottle of beer ready to serve his guests even though he may not prefer beer himself. We can all learn a "lesson" in tolerance from Cap's phone booth.

Premature 'Aging' of Great Lakes Seen by Conservationists

Premature "aging" of the Great Lakes, largest continuous body of fresh water in the world, is of continuing concern to American conservationists.

Lake Superior, Michigan, Huron, Erie, and Ontario are in no immediate danger of drying up, the National Geographic Society says. They will last for many more thousands of years. But sewage and industrial waste may be speeding up the natural aging process by which a lake is slowly converted into a swamp, then dry land.

The University of Michigan's Institute of Science and Technology is now trying to develop a technique for measuring the rate sunlight into vegetative material. The lake experts, known as limnologists, say measuring this rate at which lake plants convert is vital to understand and eventually control a lake's aging.

Lakes Are Ephemeral

Lakes appear to be permanent features of beautiful landscapes, but they last hardly a minute, geologically speaking. No sooner are they born than relentless forces begin to destroy them. Sediment fills the basin, and erosion tears down its edges.

Near the easterly edge of Lake Erie, for instance, Niagara Falls is cutting back into rock at the speed of about four feet a year. At this rate, the falls will have retreated to the lake in 27,000 years and unleashed Erie waters directly into Lake Ontario.

The clarity of water spilling over the falls suggests that a vast amount of sediment has been dropped on the floors of the lakes. A study of Lake Michigan shows an accumulation there of about three inches per century.

Through the amassing of vegetative material, a swamp slowly builds up and a very gentle gradient develops across the surface. Eventually streams form and cut channels. Excess water drains, and dry land appears.

The world would soon have no lakes if new ones were not constantly being formed. A lake may start in many ways—by a fracture in the earth's crust, a lava flow blocking a valley, or by a a glacier, which is the most important lake-producing agent.

Glaciers Form Thousands of Lakes

A glacier moves across the land like a gigantic bulldozer, scooping up earth here and dumping it there. In the process it often creates lake basins. The great ice age, which ended about 10,000 years ago, created thousands of lakes in northern regions of Europe and North America. Finland alone has more than 60,000 glacial lakes. Norway and Sweden, Ontario, Manitoba, and the Northwest Territories of Canada, and Maine and Minnesota also are thickly set with them.

At their southernmost advance, glaciers covered the whole Great Lakes area. As the ice sheet retreated under warming climatic conditions, lakes developed. The largest of North America's prehistoric lakes, Lake Agassiz, was almost as big as the State of Nevada. It sprawled across parts of Minnesota, North Dakota, Ontario, Manitoba, and Saskatchewan. Over the centuries, its waters drained into Hudson Bay, and the great lakes disappeared. Today the flat basin is filled with wheat farms.

Deglaciation of North American involved the melting of 5,700,000 square miles of ice, two miles thick in the center. The water would have caused a world-wide catastrophe if it had been released suddenly. Instead the thawing took place over 10,000 years.

MINUTES OF SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

March 21, 1961

Present: Dinwiddie, Martin Lieberman, C. Smith, Al Smith, Bennett, Supt. Absent: Freedman, Blanchard.

The meeting was called to order at 8:18 p.m.

Minutes of the meeting of March 6 were read and approved, as were those of a special meeting held March13.

Miss Arlyle Roberts, Mrs. Laura Courtade, Ray Kipke, and C. A. Odmark met with the Board in their capacity as the Professional Problems Committee representing the Charlevoix teachers. Suggestions were made by this committee which they felt would improve the quality of education in the Charlevoix Public Schools.

It was moved by C. Smith, supported by Dinwiddie, that bills in the amount of $1,630.16 payable from General Fund be approved and ordered paid. Motion carried 5-0.

Moved by Martin, supported by Al Smith, that bills in the amount of $260.28, payable from Building and Site Fund, be approved and ordered paid. Carried: 5-0.

Frank Oleksy, representing the Carpenter's Union, appeared to explain a problem between the general contractor and members of the Union, affecting their hospitalization—the problem being that the hospitalization payment agreed upon had not been fully met. Mr. Oleksy and the Board agreed that both would notify the Bonding Co. and take whatever steps advisable to clear the situation.

Mr. Matson appeared and plans for the landscaping of the new high school were discussed. These included moving of trees, an arboretum, and grading for the area. Special emphasis was placed on retaining all black dirt from the grounds to be used as needed.

It was moved by Al Smith, supported by Martin, that the fire extinguishers recommended by the State Fire Marshal, to replace those in the original purchase for use in the kitchen area, be approved. Motion carried: 5-0.

Mr. Bennett submitted a proposed budget for the school year 1961-62 in the amount of $334,500.00 It was moved by Al Smith, supported by Martin, that this tentative budget be submitted to the allocation board for consideration. Carried: 5-0.

The meeting adjourned at 10:55 p.m.

Appropriation Bills Approved In the House

The House spent most of Thursday afternoon on the thorny problefs of finances for the various departments of the state government. The voting was along party lines.

Democratic members repeatedly proposed amendments to the bills reported by committee, to bring appropriations into line with the Govennor's requests. Each time they were defeated, with the line of 56 Republicans voting against increased state spending.

With appropriation bills out of the way, the House had only 110 more bills, plus some special orders, and any bills that might be voted from the table to go before adjournment.

Bill Passes to Regulate New Political Parties

A bill introduced by Rep. Russell H. Strange (R) Clare, which provides closer regulation and increases the number of names on petitions necessary to get a new party printed on the ballot, passed the House Thursday by a vote of 97 to 2.

The bill provides that in order to get on the ballot a new party must produce petitions signed by at least 100 registered voters in at least 20 counties, and the total number of names must equal not less than 1% of the votes cast for the office of Secretary of State at the previous election. Not more than 25% of the names can be from any one county.

telephone lines

By LES JOHNSON, Manager

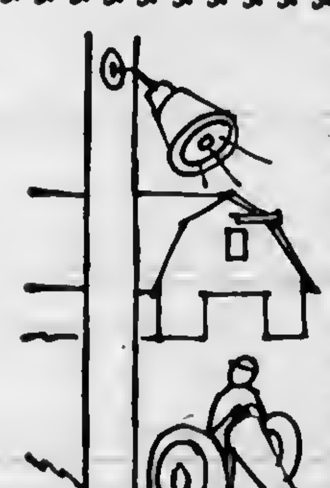
YOU PROBABLY aren't conscious of it—but chances aro you're using your telephone more than you were, say, 10 years ago. How can we tell? Because we're a lot busier here at the telephone company handling your calls. For example, 10 years ago our Michigan customers made 9,762,000 calls during the average day. In 1960, we were handling 14,881,000 calls on the average day in Michigan—a 52% increasel Much of this results from new customers, of course. But quite a bit comes from the fact that you're picking up your phone more often because you can call more people, and more people can call you. It makes us happy to know your telephone is working harder for you—saving steps, making life easier and more pleasant.

IT'S HERE – Michigan Bell's Spring Phone Fair. It features a variety of telephone services including the Home Interphone, which lets you use your phone as a communications system right in your home. You'll also see the colorful little Princess phone (it lights!), the convenient wall phone, volume control phone for the hard of hearing—and lots moro. Don't miss the Spring Phone Fair—it's at your telephone business office now.

SPRING PHONE FAIR



NEW TELEPHONE SERVICE. This month we're introducing a new communications system. It combines regular telephone service with a wide range of intercommunication features. This new service uses standard telephones equipped with special loudspeaker-microphones. With it you can talk back and forth between any telephone at your farm or business. It's even possible to talk "hands free," several feet away from the nearest phone or, using special outdoor loudspeakers, from outside locations. If you'd like more information about "Farm Interphone," just call us and we'll be glad to arrange a demonstration.

Girl Scout News

Brownie Scout troop 5 would like to present Mrs. Byron Wright as their "Girl Scout of Yesterday and Career Woman of Today".

Mrs. Wright, the former Colleen Reed, started in Girl Scouting in 1943 in Charlevoix and continued through 1946.

She also was a Brownie Scout leader for two years beginning in 1952. As a Brownie leader, she participated in the Brownie Day camping program sponsored annually by the Charlevoix council following the close of school in June.

Since 1946 Mrs Wright has been an assistant teacher in the Charlevoix kindergarten.

Of added interest is the fact that while living in England for three years while her husband was stationed there with the U. S. Air Force, Mrs. Wright helped with Girl Guides, the English Girl Scouts, for several months.

The Brownie Scouts of Troop 18 met.

Deanne Bartlett-Ronald Balch Speak Vows at Church of God

The Community Church of God was the scene Saturday evening of the wedding of Deanne Bartlett and Ronald Balch.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bartlett and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Balch.

Arrangements of orchid and white gladioli and snapdragons and daffodils and lighted tapers in candlelabra formed a setting for the double ring ceremony at which the Rev. George L. Majors officiated. Mrs. Leonard Burns, at the organ, played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Lee Moerland.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a gown of nylon organdy and Chantilly lace for her wedding. Fashioned with a sabrina neckline, the fitted bodice of her gown was overlaid with Chantilly lace and had long sleeves ending in points over the wrists. The full floor length skirt was appliqued with a diagonial scalloped band of Chantilly lace across the front. A large butterfly bow added back interest to the gown. Her veil of bridal illusion fell from a seedpearl tiara. She carried a Colonial bouquet of hyacinth florets, lilies of the valley and pink sweetheart roses.

Janice Burns, as maid of honor, wore an orchid embroidered taffeta sheath with matching net overskirt and headband. Her bouquet was of orchid gladioli. Vicki Miller and Mrs. Gary Cihak of East Jordan, cousin of the bride, as bridesmaids, wore gowns identical to the honor attendant's in pale green embroidered taffeta with matching net overskirts and headbands. Their bouquets were of pink carnations and lilies of the valey.

Kenneth Balch Jr. assisted his brother as best man. Ushers were Roy Whitley, Ronald Fratrick, Larry Edwards and Bennett Cunningham.

Mrs. Bartlett chose a navy and white sheath and white accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Balch, mother of the bridegroom, wore a powder blue and white dotted silk dress and black accessories. Their corsages were of white carnations.

A reception followed at Friendship hall. Mrs. Glenn Pemberton, aunt of the bridegroom, served the wedding cake, Mrs. Marion Arbuckle, aunt of the bride, poured, Judy Cunningham, cousin of the bride, served the bridegroom's cake and Mrs. Kenneth Balck Jr., sister-in-law of the bridegroom, served the punch. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Edwards were master and mistress of ceremonies.

For traveling on their southern Michigan wedding trip the bride wore a green brocade dress and matching accessories. They are now at home at 313 Mason st.

Both are 1960 graduates of the Charlevoix high school.

Wedding guests were present from Flint, Royal Oak, Mt. Pleasant, Linwood, Fremont, Detroit, Petoskey, Trenton and Zeeland.

Increasing Self-Sufficiency Breaking Family Relationship

ANN ARBOR- To an increasing extent, relations between successive generations of American families are based upon emotional warmth, respect and affection, according to Associate Prof. Eugene Litwak of the University of Michigan school of Social Work..

In olden times, he points out, grandparents and children all lived together on a single farm. They were bound together in large part by economic needs.

Today successive generations have gained greater economic self-sufficiency. While relatives still help each other financially, the importance of purely economic ties has declined.

Discussing one type of personal and emotional relationship between generations, Prof. Litwak says grandparents can be a valuable aid in rearing grandchildren for at least two reasons:

I. They generally have more free time than parents, and can enjoy a more relaxed relationship with the grandchildren; and

2. Grandparents need not worry about disciplining children as much as parents. As sympathetic adult friends, grandparents can provide a "safety valve" for the frustrations of childhood, he continues.

Looking at the other side of the coin, Litwak notes that grandchildren often provide grandparents with meaningful contact with life at a time when such contact might otherwise be lacking.

Litwak has conducted research on family relations in modern America. His views are expressed on a U-M television program, "Relatives and the Family," part of a new series on "Family Living."

On rock'n roll—"Probably one of the best things we can do is not to discourage whatever the children happen to like at the present, even if it's rock'n roll. Rock'n roll can be a steppingstone to an improved ear and better taste in music."—Eugene W. Troth, U-M assistant professor of music education.

On superficial togetherness—"I think that people react to a certain phoniness in the concept of togetherness. Families sort of picture themselves on a magazine cover. There is something in our values today which has led us to think too much of appearance in itself. We keep posing ourselves as families rather than seeking a togetherness which has substance and content. "—Elise Boulding, a free lance sociologist.

On the working mother—"There is no evidence that the employment of mothers causes juvenile delinquiency. The effect of maternal employment on a child depends tremendously on the age of the child, sex of the child and the parent's attitude about the mother's working. "—Lois Hoffman a free lance sociologist.

Band Pushes Candy Sales to Raise Funds

The annual band candy sale, launched at a kick-off concert at the Charlevoix high school auditorium Friday evening, will continue throughout the week, according to Clifford G. Riley, president of the sponsoring Charlevoix Band Parents Association.

At the concert Friday evening attended by a comparatively small but enthusiastic audience, a total of 208 boves of the delicious Murdick's peanut brittle was sold by the 'end men' of the Band Parents' minstrel show of several years ago, Robert Neff, Dr. L. E. Grate, Arthur Ranger and Barney Englehart, assisted by band parents during the intermission.

On Saturday the Senior and Reserve band members, in uniform, canvassed the community selling a total of 627 boxes of the confection according to Mrs. Don Anders and Mrs. John Uhrick who assisted C. A. Odmark band director in coordinating the program.

The sale will continue this week with band members soliciting sales. Anyone who has not been contacted is asked to call Mr. Odmark at LI 7-2494 and a salesman will be sent to call. Plan now to send candy to your friends out of town and support the band program in the Charlevoix school.

Cub Scout Pack 111 May Lose Charter

The Charlevoix Cub Scout Pack 111 may lose its charter unless a pack committee can be organized before the deadline for filing application for renewal of the charter according to Louis R. Hooper, Cub Master.

The deadline for applying for renewal is May 31.

Present workers in the program are hopeful that something can be done to save this wonderful program so that it may be available for boys in the eight to 11 year old age group of boys.

If a committee can be found, leaders are planning to register all boys who will be eligible for the program and to re-register all present Cub Scouts so that the program can get off to a flying start in Spetember.

The registration fee is 50 cents. If parents wish their son to receive the official Scout magazine, Boys' Life, the cost is $1.50. The magazine, published for boys in this age group, features information on science, adventure, hobbies and other material that appeals to the Cub Scout age child.

Further information regarding the Cub Scout committee or the magazine may be obtained from Mr. Hooper at LI 7-2320.

CARD OF THANKS

Our grateful acknowledgment to all friends and acquaintances for all kindness, cards, prayers, gifts, and services rendered during our mother's last illness and death. Our grateful thanks to the special nurse who took care of Mother nights for two weeks. We also thank all who helped at the funeral, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Hastings, The Rev. Van Gessel and Rev. Van Ghent, those who sent floral tributes and gifts toward missions or a memorial fund. Mere words cannot convey our deep gratitude for all kindnesses of whatever nature which proved to us the love and regard everyone had for Mother. May God bless you all.

MICHIGAN IS MARKETS

Markets are of vital importance to industry. Ready with the answer to this need are Michigan's large markets and the nearby markets throughout the midwest. These combined potentials are important advantages no industry can afford to overlook.

The facts speak plainly. In Michigan are centralized industrial markets and almost eight million consumers. Personal incomes exceed the national average. These factors assure industry's future growth in Michigan.

As for Michigan's regional market, one-fourth of the nation's population and 30 percent of the country's industry are within overnight delivery range of Michigan plants. And now the St. Lawrence Seaway has brought world markets closer to Michigan.

Help carry Michigan's message to the nation. Clip this ad and mail it to someone in another state with your own comment. Let's talk up Michigan and its advantages for industry. Together, we can assure a greater future for all of us.

National Honor Society Hosts Foreign Exchange Students

"Totziens! Dank U! We hebben een fantastisch gehad!

In German, Swiss and Spanish as well as Dutch these words, "Goodby! Thank you! We've had a fantastic week" were repeated over and over as seven foreign exchange students voiced their appreciation and gratitude to their hosts, members of the Charlevoix high school chapter of the National Honor Society for an unforgettable weekend of entertainment.

The idea for the weekend started several weeks ago at a meeting of the local Youth for Understanding committee headed by the Rev. James P. Sherman. Mrs. Harold E. Kohn, a member of the committee and one of the adult advisoirs of the National Honor Society suggested the idea which was then adopted as a group project. In the weeks that followed invitations were issued to all exchange students in the area. While three,, two from Gaylord and one from Kalkaska, had other plans, seven did participate in the program planned entirely by the Honor Society members under the direction of their president, Betty Stroel, and under the guidance of Mrs. Kohn and Mrs. Robert G. Martin of the faculty.

The program opened with a tour of the Big Rock Point Nuclear Power plant conducted by Jerome D. Lescoe of Consumers Power C. After luncheon with their respective hosts, the group gathered at the Weathervane Lodge for pictures before going to the Charlevoix Lifeboat Station where they donned 'Mae Wests' (life preservers) for boat trips into Lake Michigan and Lake Charlevoix aboard Coast Guard patrol boats through the courtesty of Chief Leo Norton and his Lifeboat station personnel.

Lster the students and their hosts enjoyed an informal social hour before going to the homes of their respective hosts for the night.

The following day all attended the churches of their choice with Fellowship hall of the Community their hosts before gathering at Church of God for a dinner.

As they returned to their foster homes with their American families who had come for them, all agreed that "We hebben een fantastisch gehad'.".

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Wright accompanied the group on the guided tour.

Exchange Students Present Program at Rural-Urban Meet

Exchange students including Uta Ahlemeyer of West Berlin who is spending the school year in East Jordan and Lia Drenth of Sneek, Holland, who is in Charlevoix for the year, along with two Charlevoix students, Tony Duerr and Sharon Abfalter, who plan to spend the summer in Germany, all under the Youth for Understanding program, presented the program at the annual Rural-Urban meeting sponsored by the Charlevoix County Farm Bureau Women at East Jordan recently.

Miss Ahlemeyer showed alides of her native Berlin and told of the continued struggle in Germany to combat the forces of communism. She mentioned the constant pressure placed on German youth to join the Communist Young People's Party. Lia Drenth showed a film strip of Holland and the reclamation of landa by the use of dikes.

Ninety rural and urban women from throughout the county gathered at the Methodist church in East Jordan for the luncheon and afternoon meeting.

It was announced that the organization had purchased the film "Communism on the Map" which is being made available to groups in the county that would like to show it to its membership. In Charlevoix, calis regarding the film may be directed to Mrs. Thomas Wieland.

Junior Class to Present 'Our Girls' Friday Night

The Junior Class of the Charlevoix high school will present its annual class production, "Our Girls" by Conrad Seiler, at the high school auditorium at 8 p.m. Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lovejoy (Don Anders and Donna Berg) are the parents of three very average teenage sons who have been promised gifts of $5,000 each on the day of their sixteenth birthday anniversary by their mother's eccentric aunt, Jessie, (Mary Ann Klooster) who lives in England. The only drawback is that Aunt Jessie, who hates boys, has been led to believe that Jesse, Francis and Vivian (played by George Majors, Ted Tunison and Donald Berg) are girls in order to receive the generous gift. The real problem arises when Aunt Jessie decides to come to the United States to present the money in person to her eldest 'niece'.

The results of this masquerade produces one hilarious situation after another from the time the opening scene until the final curtain.

Allocation Bd. To Set Final Tax Rate May 24

the final tax rate for 1961 will be set at a meeting of the Charlevoix county tax allocation board to be held at the county building here at 10 a.m. May 24, according to Miss Lillis M. Flanders, chairman of the board.

The tentative rate was set at a meeting held last Wednesday.

At this meeting the county was allocated seven mills for operational cost;; seven mills to all schools and one mill to all townships with the exception of Eveline whose budget showed a need for only .058 mills and Norwood whose budget showed no need.

The tentative rate gives the county one-half mill more than was allocated in 1960 and the schools one-half mill less than they received last year. In 1960 all townships received one mill with the exception of St. James and Peaine townsbips which earmarked half of their millage to the Beaver Island Community school and Norwood whose budget showed a need for only one-half mill.

The county has asked for seven mills in order to balance the 1961 budget which includes a deficit of $27,620.79.

The allocated millage will be levoix on the county's state equalized valuation of $40,962,098.

The state equalized valuation in some taxing units, however, may be changed following appeals filed by Eveline and St. James townships and the City of Charlevoix in which the appealing units contend the values in their units are too high and therefore do not represent a sound, true cash value. The appeals will be read at a meeting of the commission scheduled for early this month.

Charlevoix's Fame As Summer Resort Dates Back to 1911

That Charlevoix's fame as a summer resort has become widely known in recent years is a well known fact.

However, Phil Lawrence of the Fairport has proof that as long ago as 1911 Charlevoix was widely known.

The 'proof' is in the form of a post card bearing a picture of a section of the south shore of Round Lake looking west to the business district which was postmarked Dec. 21, 1911 and sent by A. A. Benton to a Harrison Vesy of Warren, Ohio.

It was returned to Mr. Lawrence last month by Warren Wells, service manager of the Pacific Division of the Bendix Corp. with headquarters in North Hollywood, Calif., who was given the card when he went to visit relatives who had moved from the middle west to the west coast. They had evidently run across the card among their possessions and knowing that Mr. Warren occasionlly made business trips through the country, asked if he had ever been to Charlevoix. In his letter he said he assured them that he had not only been to Charlevoix but remembered it well and recognized the acene in the old photograph as being near the present Fairport, which he had visited while here aboard a pleasure craft.

Alleged Slayer of Two Girls Picked Up In South Dakota

Search for the elusive James Scott Stevens of Holland, alleged slayer of two young girls in southwest Michigan ended Wednesday afternoon when the youth was apprehended in Rapid City, S. D., according to Sgt. Glenn Dafoe of the State Police post at Petoskey. Reports were that the boy carried a social security card bearing his name and that he had verbally admitted the slaying.

Monday night George O. Overmyer, a foreman at the Will-Flow Corp., reported to Sheriff Glenn E. Rose that he had picked up a youth north of Muskegon early Sunday afternoon and given him a ride to the plant site two miles north of here. He said the youth, on leaving the car at 5 p.m., asked him how to get through Petoskey.

Tuesday morning Peter R VanderArk of Ellsworth reported to Antrim county deputy Levi Donaldson that he had seen the youth in a restaurant in Mackinaw at 7:10 a.m. Monday after he and two companions, Ott Bolser and Don Bolser, also of Ellsworth, had passed him about a mile outside of Mackinaw City.

Information furnisbed Michigan State Police of the Petoskey post who later talked with the two men gave them the first clue that the 16-year old youth had traveled through northern Michigan. Earlier the search had been concentrated on a southerly route to the Southwest when a note revealed that he planned to go to Arizona or New Mexico.

After seeing a picture of the youth, James Scott Stephens, both men said the youth they had seen was definiely the boy being sought for the murder of Carol Gee, 11, and Margaret Chambers, 12, in a wooded area on the outskirts of Holland Saturday. The girls were gathering wild flowers and were reported missing when they failed to return to their homes Saturday afternoon. The search for young Stephens was started when the youth's mother reported finding a note stating that he was running away because he had 'accidently shot two people'. The bodies of the victims were found at mid-morning Monday off a wooded path where searchers had passed during the search late Saturday and Sunday. Both had been shot several times and their bodies covered with leaves. Young Stephens was known to have gone to the area for target practice in the area and was said to be a 'crack shot'.

A youth answering Stephens' description was last reported leaving a bus at Mantstique Tuesday morning.

Economic Quackery

In a letter to folks back home, Congressman August E. Johanson (R.-Battle Creek) posed this provocative question.

"Would it make sense for a patient to be receiving a blood transfusion and giving a blood donation at the same time?"

It's the congressman's opinion that such a practice, aside from being extremely dangerous, would be entirely objectionable.

"In a word," says Congressman Johanson, "it would be medical quackery." Then he makes this point.

"I wonder whether we are not indulging in something just as ridiculous and perilous in the area of government and economics.

"I refer to the continuously increasing simultaneous policy of Federal taxation and Federal aid—especially when resorted to as a supposed basis for improving economic health.

"Of course this policy provides a wonderful windfall of political power and profit for the Doctors of Big Government and Phony Economics who promote and administer the procedure."

Congressman Johanson couldn't be more correct. It is rugged for the patient and the outlook appears fatal if the public continues to be brain-washed into believing it is getting something for nothing from the government. It can best be termed economic and political quackery.

According to a Tax Foundation study, federal budget expenditures for veterans' services and benefits are estimated at nearly $5.5 billion in the 1961 fiscal year. The payments included compensation and pensions, hospitals and medical care, readjustment benefits, insurance and servicemen's indemnities, and various other items.

In 1939 the U. S. national debt was $42 billion, and that of all other nations $116 billion. In December, 1959 our debt was $290 billion, and that of all other nation $243 billion.

Michigan Mirror

By ELMER E. WHITE

Election post mortems reach fever pitch a few days after each time Michigan voters go to the polls.

Losers want to explain why they lost. Winners are even anxious to tell why they won. The 1961 Biennial Spring Election was no exception and may provide more fruitful ground for both winners and losers than most.

At least one reason for this is the fact that the Constitutional Convention issue was on the ballot.

In a lot of ways, the spring election "followed the rules" by the book. None of the incumbents seeking re-election was ousted. Democratic party candidates pulled their heaviest vote in the densely populated areas, especially around Wayne county. Republicans showed more strength outstate.

But consider this:

While it was still enough to outweigh the vote in the rest of the state the vote in Wayne county and surrounding areas was down, overall, from the record number of ballots cast two years ago. Detroit, especially, saw the number of people going to the polls fall off.

Democrats, who won seven of the nine partisan offices contested, relied heavily on the metropolitan vote, of course.

But significantly, the margin by which Republicans won outstate was down in many areas. This was not true all over, naturally. It cannot be attributed to any one factor in most cases, either.

One fact stood out in the spring election as never before, however.

Democratic organizations all over the state are getting stronger. They are more active, they turn out a bigger vote and they are better able to count on a certain number of voters coming out in a given area.

In most past elections, a huge turnout in the metropolitan areas with Detroit leading the way was the obvious factor when Democrats came out on top.

This time, Democrats were able to show strongly without the great mass of party-line voters in Detroit.

The lesson seems obvious: Party organizations, which more often than not can mean success or failure in an election, are just as effective and necessary out in the boondocks as they are in the asphalt jungle.

Books could be borrowed from any library in the state using just one library card under a program ready for testing.

Gov. John B. Swainson directed Harvey Sherwood, Kalamazoo, chairman of the State Board for Libraries, to try out the plan in selected areas before implementing a program to issue only statewide cards.

The Governor said about 14 per cent of Michigan's population has no access to library services because of residence outside the city, township or village boundaries within which libraries are operated.

Evidence of success in one area of public concern and a warning of impending crisis in another may be found in the swap of tuberculosis patients for mental patients now in progress at Howell.

The state TB sanatorium is being converted to a mental hospital.

Health Commissioner Dr. Albert Heustis has said the institution can be changed over without danger that any of the state's other TB hospitals, at Gaylord, Kalamazoo and Hancock, will become overcrowded.

He said improved treatment programs and shorter hospitalization periods will prevent any cutback in service to TB victims.

Making a mental hospital out of the Howell sanatorium points up the troubles in taking care of increasing numbers of mentally ill, emotionally disturbed and mentally retarded persons.

The plan for Howell is to use it for non-dangerous patients such as senile persons and similar cases.

These patients will be brought from other institutions, such as Kalamazoo, Ionia, Traverse City and Newberry. In fact, plans call for a sort of general shuffling to put patients in an institution where they can get sufficient care and still be properly supervised.

The idea is to make room in the Ionia State Hospital for the Criminally Insane for a number of dangerous psychotics now housed at Southern Michigan Prison.

It has required close cooperation among the three state departments involved, the Health, Mental Health and Corrections departments, to make the shift work smoothly.

Can You Pass This Home Owners Quiz?

Chances are you hesitated on the second question. Nine out of ten people don't know how much their home is worth. And if you guessed, you probably underestimated. Inflation and climbing construction costs over the last ten years have resulted in drastic changes in property valuation.

Many homes have almost doubled in replacement value. If you're not sure, it's likely that you haven't reviewed your insurance recently in the light of current costs. In case of fire, storm or other serious destruction, you stand to lose more than you realize.

Don't be in the dark. Let me tell you what your home is worth right now. There's absolutely no cost or obligation on your part. Just call (your phone number). I'll be glad to help you get the right answer

District F. B. Women Elect Mrs. Thomas Wieland Chairman

Mrs. Thomas Wieland was elected chairman of District 10 West of Farm Bureau Women at the annual spring district meeting held Thursday at Ellsworth.

Seventy-five women from five counties which comprise the district, Antrim, Cheboygan, Emmet, Otsego and Charlevoix, gathered for the all-day meeting.

Mrs. W. J. Nulph of Boyne City wes elected vice chairman. Mrs. Vernon Vance of Antrim county was the retiring chairman.

The assembled delegates and members heard Ward Cooper of the Market Development Division of the Farm Bureau speak on the Rotterdam Trade Center, established and financed by the Michigan Farm Bureau, for the express purpose of selling Michigan products abroad. In outlining the purpose of the center, Mr. Cooper said that the St. Lawrence Seaway which gives Michigan a direct transportation routes to lands around the world has made it possible for Michigan growers to compete with other counties in world markets. One interesting point he brought out was the fact that materials and processed produce can be shipped abroad via the Seaway for the same cost as shipping it via rail from the state to the east coast by other means of transportation. Plans now call for opening markets in Asia and elsewhere and utilizing the Seaway for shipping. At the trade center in Rotterdam, the personnel advertises Michigan growers products and takes orders for many farm-grown products. He said that Western Germany, for instance, was one of the state's best markets for frozen strawberries. He added that local processing plants must now package the processed produce to meet foreign marketing demands. He also said that a part of the annual dues paid by Farm Bureau members was used to underwrite the cost of operating the center. In conclusion he touched briefly on the Farm Bureau thinking regarding federal controls in agriculture.

Others appearing on the program were Mrs. Marjorie Karker of the Farm Bureau Women's Division of the state organization who headed an interesting and informative quiz regarding government and Sheriff Richard Wyler of Grand Traverse county who spoke on juvenile delinquincy and said that the major way of combating this problem was by a closer knit family life.

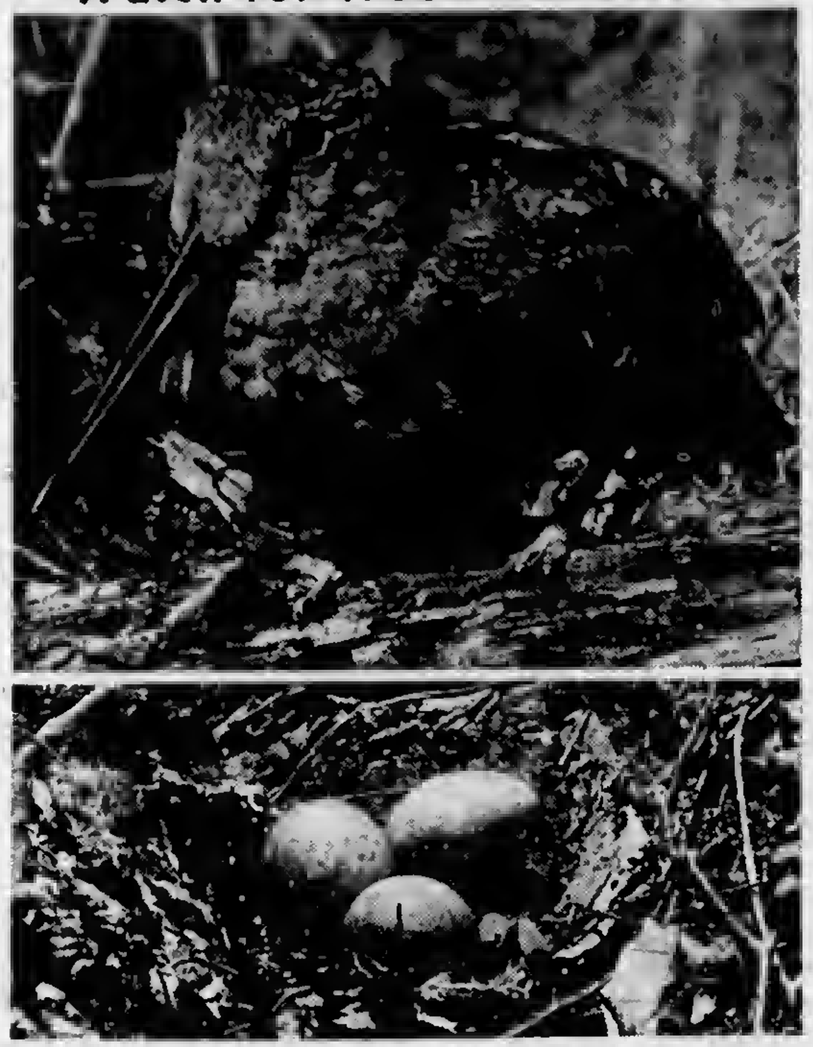
Watch for Woodcock Nests



Popular as woodcock are during the small game season in northern Michigan, little is known about where, when, and how far these pint-sized, long-billed birds travel. As a result, Conservation Department game men are asking bird watchers, mushroom pickers, and others to report woodcock nests when they come across them this spring. Game men will then band woodcock chicks to help keep track of the birds' paths of migration and particularly their movements in Michigan before hunting season. Most woodcock nests are made in mixed growths of aspen, birch, spruce, and fir near moist grounds where these "timber doodles" can find earthworms, their chief food item. Eggs are pinkish-brown with dark brown and purplish-gray spots. The banding project is also aimed at finding out what effect pesticide sprayings in Louisiana and Mississippi might have on woodcock survival. Most of the birds winter in these two states.--Mich. Dept. of Conservation

Michigan is Among Nation's Top Ten as an Agricultural State

The importance of agriculture to Michigan's industrial development is the subject of a public service advertisement by Charlevoix Courier today.

Michigan is known throughout the world as an industrial state. Michigan is also one of the most important states agriculturally. This agricultural eminence is in itself one of Michigan's advantages for industry.

Michigan is among the top ten states in the production of some thirty agricultural commodities. In a number, it ranks first in the nation. Michigan is a state that is self sufficient in the production of foodstuffs for table use. Michigan farms produce more than is needed by Michigan families. This excellent record of production coupled with an increasing consumer market means there is a great opportunity for food processing and that is an important industry. Michigan food processors have installed the latest manufacturing methods and Michigan products are known and used throughout the world.

Just as one example, the chances are nine out of ten that when you eat beans you are eating a Michigan product. Few people realize that Michigan is the nation's largest producer of strawberries and cantaloupes.

In the words of this newspaper's public service advertisement today: "Where foods are produced foods are processed. Michigan has many food processing industries and offers opportunities for many more." The ad is another in the series sponsored by the Michigan Press Association and the Michigan Economic Development Department.

Great advances are being made in Michigan in the area of food research. This promises new products and new opportunities for industry. Agriculture provides a steady and sound foundation for Michigan's economy, and this is an important factor when companies select locations for new industry or for industrial expansion.

Young Nimrod Lucky Fisherman

Among the lucky fishermen who returned home on the opening day of the trout season with a sizeable catch to show for his efforts was a 12-year-old nimrod, Lawrence Skippergosh, of Marion township.

In his catch were six trout varying in size from 8 to 13 inches.

And where did he catch them? "That's a big secret" was his quick reply.

Attorney General Issues Warning To 'Green Thumbs'

With every Spring the gardening instinct bursts forth and even city dwellers who couldn't grow a house plant are suddenly convinced by the magic of words and pictures that they have acquired green thumbs. They cannot resist digging and planting that all-transforming greenery around the old home place.

Yet at this time of year the Department of Agriculture, the federal government, and the office of State Attorney General show an increase in complaints from consumers who have been hypnotized by intriguing descriptions of exotic tropical blooms, bargain buys in paradisiacal trees that grow in any soil, climbing berry vines to provide luxury desserts until snow flies, and the likes, according to Paul L Adams, Attorney General. So beware! There may be trouble ahead!

The gardening instinct and modern transportation make it easy for the few nursery stock dealers whose real stock is unfair trade practices. Every year government agencies receive more reports from home owners who have parted with precious dollars to beautify their homes only to find that the exotic tropical blooms never sprouted, the heavenly tree turns out a root-spreading weed, and the berry vine neither berry nor vines, or the stock is dead or dying on arrival, or not as described.

Michigan requires that its nursery stock dealers be licensed, prohibits fraud, provides for inspection of imported stock.

Most mail order nursery houses are first rate with excellent reputations all across the land. A few are not. Good licensed nurserymen and dealers in Michigan are many. But beware the supersalesman with catalogue and ironclad contract.

Watch your green thumb and your wallet. If in doubt, check first with the Department of Agriculture.

Some people drive as if they were already late for the next world.

Thoughts While Driving

Funny how your mind whirls along nearly as fast as your car wheels, an old truth rediscovered recently when driving through parts of Michigan, Illinois, Missouri and Arkansas, to and from the 22nd annual "Freedom Forum" conducted by Harding College at Searcy, Arkansas.

Amazing, isn't it, how fast a dirty brown and littered countryside springs into green life immediately following the first good moisture of spring? Wonder if we'll ever find a way to stop people from throwing beer cans and bottles along the roadside? Such litter costs taxpayers thousands of dollars annually in each state. Anti-litter laws seem useless. You can't fine people you don't catch,—Can't effectively enforce decency anyway,—must teach people to do better instead. While at the Forum, talked to Mrs. Gertrude Hodge, who heads the Women's Committee of the Vermont Farm Bureau. She reported that a major issue in this session of Vermont legislature centers around highway litter laws.

Hitchhikers come out with the crocuses. It's hard to pass by the clean eager faces back of the upraised thumbs, until you remember that the national hitchhiking criminal record is nearly as black as country molasses. As much as one person in five, now thumbing rides on roads of this nation have their thumb prints on file with the F. B. I. for questionable activities and pasts. A person hates to become a cynic —but why risk more than $3,000 worth of car, future earning power and life itself, just to further the dubious career of some roadside roamer? We never cease to marvel at the gullibility of many motorists who lend a helping hand and later end up telling their hard-luck tale to the police.

Mulling over the full week of conference,—found the Forum "conferees" deep in thought in many areas, including foreign trade and how the United States can regain the trade lead our country used to enjoy.

Lester Crider, of Boeing Aircraft suggested a re-emphasis on personal attitude. "We have priced ourselves out of competition in many commodities. The answer is keen and clean competition through American labor to meet and match the foreign competitors. We can outproduce any other country in the world if we truly desire to do so. . . . "

MICHIGAN IS AGRICULTURE

Michigan is rich in food stuffs. In fact, no state is richer and this is another reason Michigan ranks high in industrial opportunities.

By the variety and volume of its agricultural production, Michigan fills the family table and the pantry shelves more completely than any other state. Michigan is among the first 10 states in 80 agricultural commodities, and of course stands first in several of these.

Michigan is a rapidly advancing leader in food research — an ideal location for the research laboratories of nearly all food processors.

Where foods are produced, foods are processed. Michigan has many food processing industries and offers opportunities for many more.

A state which is built on such a sturdy and steady agricultural foundation is a good place in which to live and work and do business. That's Michigan.

Help carry Michigan's message to the nation. Clip this ad and mail it to someone in another state with your own comment. Let's talk up Michigan and its advantages for industry. Together, we can assure a greater future for all of us.

MICHIGAN IS EVERYTHING FOR INDUSTRY

A "Tidy" Problem

Red Dolan dropped by the Widow Parker's last week to drive her to the depot. She was leaving on her annual month-long visit with her sister.

"Land sakes the folks in this town are nice," she said. "You're the fourth person that's offered me a ride today and I've already arranged to go with Mrs. Phillips. But, Red, there is one thing you can do for me."

"You name it," says Red. "Well," she replied, "in some diplomatic way would you let my nice friends know they won't do me a favor if they come in and house-clean for me. They did last year and it took me three days to get things back to rights."

From where I sit, some folks start out with good intentions and end up interfering. We may not agree with the way our friends fix up their homes and they may not agree with our preference for beer with meals, but these are choices we each have a right to make. Respect for them is the biggest "favor" of all.

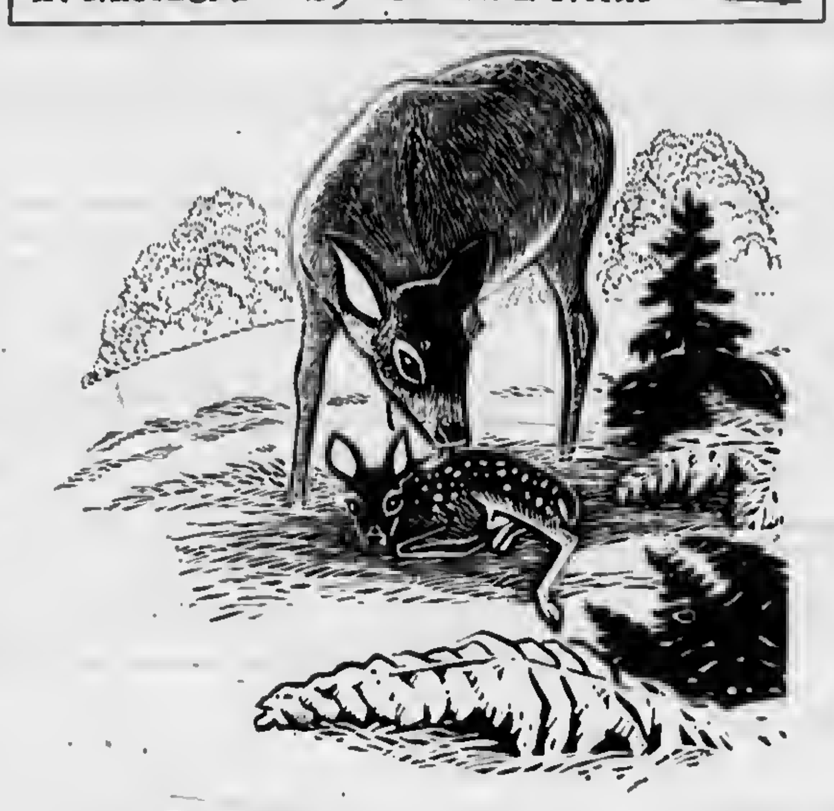
MAY IN MICHIGAN · By Harold E. Kohn



The Month of Tender New Life

May is the month of tender new life. Before these gentle days of mid-spring have drifted past, the first frail whitetail fawns will be born among the unfurling ferns, and the first apple blossoms will bloom on our arthritic old orchard trees. Fledgling birds will hatch in many a forest thicket and among the grasses of open meadows. Late this afternoon while walking along a favorite woodland trail I was startled by a ruffed grouse hen hurtling from her nest and thundering away in frightened flight. A few steps from the trail I found where she had laid fourteen buff-colored eggs in an ancient, hollow, fire-blackened pine stump. After counting the eggs in the clutch I quietly, quickly left the scene, knowing the mother grouse was anxious to return to her nest to coax the faintly pulsing life beneath each shell into fluffy, chirping, running animation.

Everywhere I walk the impulse of life to produce its own is now manifest. Buds swell on birches, poplars, elms and maples. Last year's marsh marigold plants are sparkling with this year's bright blossoms. Inch-long speckled trout parr struggle against the streamlet's swift currents. Most of the water striders skating on the pond and brook are newly-hatched. Fox cubs now have their eyes open and will soon wrestle and roll on a certain sunlit knoll I sometimes visit.

Nature is following her normal course, demonstrating to the world that her fundemental urgencies are toward plenty, rather than scarcity; toward life, and not death; toward growth, rather than stagnation, toward production, and not destruction.

What a lesson-man could learn from May!

Rasch-Boyer Vows Spoken in Boyne City Lutheran Church

Christ Lutheran church in Boyne City was the scene Saturday evening of the marriage of Avis I. Rasch of Grand Rapids and William G. Boyer, also of Grand Rapids.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Eric H. Rasch of Boyne City and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon G. Boyer of East Jordan.

The Rev. Richard Noffze officiated at the double ring candlelight ceremony. Jean Slough of East Jordan was the organist and Dennis Christensen of Boyne City the soloist.

Given in marriage by her father the bride selected a gown of taffeta, net and lace for her wedding. The fitted bodice featured a boat neckline outlined with sparkling sequins and tapered sleeves of chantilly-type lace. The floor length skirt had an overskirt of net with inserts of the same lace. A queen's crown of lace outlined with twists of pearls and sequins secured her fingertip veil. She carried a cascade arrangement of white calla lillies and yellow sweetheart roses.

Barbara Rasch of Muskegon, sister of the bride, and the Misses Donna and Marian Boyer, both of East Jordan, sisters af the bridegroom, as bridesmaids wore gowns styled identical to the honor attendants in beige embroidered taffeta and white picture hats and accessories and carried colonial bouquets of yellow and white feathered carnations.

Lily Matz of Petoskey, cousin of the bride, as flower girl, wore a short white dress, white hat and accessories and carried a bouquet of yellow mums and white feathered carnations. David Matz, also of Petoskey and a cousin of the bride, was ringbearer.

Larry Boyer of East Jordan assisted his brother as best man. Amil Rasch of Muskegon, brother of the bride, was groomsman and Charles Kamradt of Big Rapids and Frank Tejchma of Muskegon seated the guests.

Mrs. Rasch chose a navy gown and white accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Boyer, mother of the bridegroom, also wore a navy gown and white accessories. Corsages of pink sweetheart roses and white feathered carnations complimeted their costumes.

A reception for approximately 275 guests followed at the V.F.W. Post Home in Boyne City. A tiered wedding cake baked by the bridegroom's aunt, Mrs. Ira Boyer, centered the refreshment table.

Following a week's wedding trip through northern Michigan and Canada, the couple will be at home at 1140 Paris Ave. NE. in Grand Rapids after May 15.

New Comfort in Walking Wins Feminine Vote

"Walking season" brings big response to shoe manufacturer's "special"

With the advent of the "walking season", reports have it that the ladies, of all ages, are mighty enthusiastic these days about a shoe that is offering something new in walking comfort . . . and theme song of the gals seems to be "wherever you walk, walk in Glov-Etts".

The recommendation applies to such foot ventures as walking in the woods, on highways and byways, on the beach, in the garden, simply for fresh air, and even around the house.

Reason for this walking development for 1961 is that the manufacturers of Glov-Ett shoes for women (already famous for the "bubble-soft walk") is making available a shoe that's especially designed for comfortable walking. Cushion crepe sole that cushions the step . . . special built-in extra support for the foot . . . caressingly soft glove leather. That sort of thing. Obviously, in view of its popularity, it's a smart looking shoe, too.

Anyway, the femme's are loving it, so it must be good.

Maybe if you're of the female persuasion, you will want to try on a pair and see what your feet think about this walking season innovation . . . especially if you're going to do some walking and don't enjoy tired and aching feet.

If so, you can find these "bubble-soft walking" Glov-Etts (and they come in 80 sizes) at the store named below.

Trucks Create New Horizons

Michigan Week's theme—"Michigan's New Horizons"—ties in beautifully with truck transport and the service it renders the people of this State. For trucks do create new horizons through their ability to serve the most remote areas. They go wherever there are roads (and even where there aren't roads, for that matter), carrying new products, new conveniences, new services to people all over Michigan . . . Yes, trucks stand ready to play a most important role as Michigan goes marching forward to new horizons!

Local Thinclads Relinquish NMCC Track and Field Title to Boyne City Ramblers

For the fifth time in the 26 year history of the Northern Michigan Class C league, a track team coached by S. E. 'Irish' Coleman has relinquished the conference track and field title to another league opponent.

This year the Boyne City Ramblers rolled up a total of 48½ points to capture their first track title. The victory gave the Ramblers a clean sweep of loop titles for the season. Earlier they had shared with Mancelona in the grid title and captured the conference basketball title.

Grayling with 43 points placed second in the meet followed by Harbor Springs with 40½ points; Gaylord with 23; Charlevoix, the defending champions, 18½; Mancelona, 16; East Jordan, 8 and Pellston, 4½ points.

In winning the title, the Ramblers depended on depth rather than first places in all but two events.

One of these was the mile in which Tom Sheets set a new record with a time of 4:48 minutes. He bettered the time of 4:50.5 minutes set by Jim Spence of East Jordan in 1959 to set the only new record this year. Other first place winner was Doug Grubbe who ran the 100 yard dash in 10.4.72 seconds.

The Harbor Springs mile relay team composed of Don Corey, Don Juilleret, Tom Pifer and Howard Allen established a record of 3:52.5 for the event which was being run for the first time.

Darrell Somerville captured Charlevoix's only blue ribbon with a toss of 41 ft. 10½ in. in the shot put.

Other Rayder point winners were Gene McBride who tied with Mike Lovely of Grayling for second place in the pole vault and took a fouth place in the shot put; Jim Sneathen who took a second place in one heat of the 440 yd. run and Perry Smith who took a third in the second heat; Jack Stewart and Don Pearl who tied for fifth place in the high jump; the half-mile relay team composed of Perry Smith, Joe Smith, Joe Sneathen and Dan Pearl who placed fourth and the mile relay team of Tom Martin, John Pearl, Barry Pierce and Bruce Kroken who placed fifth in the meeting.

Other first place winners in the event and their time or distance follow: high hurdles, Frank Gross of Grayling, time: 17.65; 440 yd. dash, first heat, Jim LaMott of Grayling, time: 57 seconds; second heat, Harvey Kasuske of Harbor Springs, time: 56.35.; 180 yd. low hurdles Dave Rochette of Grayling, time 22.1 seconds. 220 yd. dash, Steve Graham of Harbor Springs, time 23.45; 88 yd. run: first heat, Steve Sink of Grayling, time: 2:09.5; second heat, bob Cole of Harbor Springs, time: 2:13.35. half-mile relay, Harbor Springs (Tom Graham, Steve Graham, Gary Stutzman and Harvey Kasuske), time: 1:39.5.

In the field events Frank Gross of Grayling won the pole vault with a distance of 10 ft.; Jerry Bengtson of Mancelona the broad jump with a distance of 18 ft. 11½ in.; Bob Merry of Gaylord the high jump with a jump of 5 ft. 8 in.

Thinclads will journey to Traverse City Saturday to participate in the Class C regional track and field meet.

The next major track event after the regional meet will be

BULLETIN:

CORNELL CAPA

You can forget this ugly picture if you fill your tank with today's Super Shell. It shows the gum that could form in your fuel system if you didn't use a gasoline with an efficient gum preventive.

IMAGINE an ingredient so effective that only one thousandth of an ounce is enough to treat a gallon of gasoline.

This tiny drop is all today's Super Shell needs to stave off gum troubles that can hamper your car's performance.

Gum forms when even the purest gasolines are held in storage. Unstable elements in the fuel combine chemically with oxygen and with each other. The latter is what scientists call polymerization (a good thing if you want to make plastics, but not if you want top performance from your gasoline).

Shell tackles the situation with a special inhibitor that is designed to keep gum from forming.

Where the trouble strikes

Too rich a mixture can waste gallons of gasoline. Too weak a mixture can burn valves. Either way, gum troubles cost money.

In extreme cases, gum can even stick your intake valves. This means a rough and noisy engine—lost power—and perhaps an expensive repair job.

How the "policeman" works

Shell's special anti-gum ingredient is an oxidation inhibitor. It helps keep unstable elements in the gasoline from sticking together—just the way a skilled policeman prevents trouble by keeping a crowd from forming.

As a result your engine is cleaner—for maximum power, maximum mileage. All of which adds up to top performance.

This is just one of the special jobs done by the 9 ingredients in Super Shell to give your car top performance. You owe it to your car to learn what each of the others can do for you, too.

#2 is TCP for power, mileage and longer plug-life

Today's Super Shell now contains an even better version of this famous additive. Its name is cresyl-diphenyl-phosphate.

TCP additive can give your car up to 15 per cent more power; up to 17 extra miles per tankful; and can make spark plugs last up to twice as long.*

New TCP does this by neutralizing certain effects of combustion deposits. It is scientifically formulated to keep them from glowing when hot—a major cause of power loss. Also from diverting your spark—a major cause of "missing."

#3 is "cat-cracked" gasoline for power with a purr

This is petroleum that has actually cracked under 900-degree heat and catalytic action. Its heavier molecules have been shattered into lighter ones.

The result is a super-octane ingredient that makes your engine purr with power the moment you put your foot down.

Shell's Doolittle, pioneer

#4 is Alkylate, noted for knock control in hot engines

Alkylate—which took the dream of 100-octane gasoline out of the lab and put it into the skies—is now in Super Shell. It controls knocking in hot engines at high speeds far better than anything else yet available.

NOTE: Speaking of controlling knocks at high speeds, remember that car engines frequently turn even faster than the engines of a DC-7. Think of this next time you pass another car.

#5 is anti-knock mix for extra resistance to knocks

You might think that two high-octane ingredients are enough for knock-free performance. But Shell's scientists have ears like musicians.

They insist on adding a special anti-knock mix. A mix, so effective, one teaspoon per gallon can boost anti-knock rating by five points.

This mix has the tricky job of regu*lating* combustion so that Super Shell gives each piston a firm, even push—rather than a sharp blow which would cause a knock.

#6 is Butane for quick starts on cold mornings

Butane is so eager to get going that Shell keeps it under pressure 400 feet below ground to stop it from vaporizing by itself. Think what this extra volatility means in cold weather.

Your engine fires in seconds. There is less strain on your battery. And none on your patience.

#7 is Pentane mix for fast warm-ups on cold days

Pentanes are made by tearing gasoline apart, much as you split kindling to start a log fire.

In this case, the "logs" are petroleum's heavier hydrocarbons. A special process transforms their molecules from slow-burning "logs" into the quicker-firing "kindling."

NET RESULT: Fast warm-up and top performance in a hurry.

#8 is an "anti-icer" to check cold-weather stalling

Super Shell's formula is adjusted up to eight times a year to beat the weather. For example, whenever the temperature is likely to be less than forty-five degrees, a carburetor anti-icer is added.

Why add anti-icer at forty-five degrees? Because, even then, frost can form in your carburetor just as it does in your refrigerator. It can stall your engine.

#9 is Platformate for extra energy, more mileage

It takes eight million dollars' worth of platinum catalyst for Shell to produce Platformate. But fortunately this precious stuff can be used over and over again.

The platinum re-forming process, which gives Platformate its odd name, converts petroleum into super-energy components—such as benzene, xylene and toluene.

These three alone release 11 per cent more energy per gallon than 100-octane aviation gasoline. This is energy that shows up as extra mileage.

Test Super Shell for yourself

Try Super Shell next time you fill up. You'll soon feel and hear a difference in the way your engine runs. That difference is top performance.

Girls Glee Club Enters Annual Choir Festival

The Charlevoix Girls' Glee Club accompanied by their director, C. A. Odmark, were in Grayling Satudray to participate in the seventh annual Massed Choir Festival sponsored by the Northern Area district of the Michigan School Vocal Association.

Prof. Maynard Klein directed the massed choir of nearly 400 voices in rehearsals during the morning and early afternoon before they appeared in concert at 3:30 p.m.

The girls' ensemble presented four numbers, the boys' group two selections and the mixed chorus four numbers, including one arranged for mixed voices by Mr. Klein.

Charlevoix students voiced their feeling of pride in singing with such a group under the direction of one of the finest choral conductors in the country, Mr. Odmark said.

Mr. Klein also expressed to Mr. Odmark his appreciation to the people of Charlevoix for the reception given his Michigan Singers when they appeared here early last month. He added that the group's appearance here was a fitting climax for their annual spring tour and that his singers were still talking about the fine time they enjoyed in Charlevoix.

Allocation Board To Set Final Tax Rate Wednesday

The final tax rate for 1961 will be set by the Charlevoix county tax allocation board at a meeting scheduled for 10 a. m. Wednesday.

It is expected that a heated meeting will result with the county holding out for seven mills and the schools requesting more than were allocated in the first meeting when the tentative rate was set.

The county which last year received 6.5 mills, has requested seven mills in order to meet its budget and the deficit of $27,620.79 with which it started the year.

The schools, which must receive eight mills in order to qualify for state aid, will request more than seven mills allocated to all schools in the tentative budget. Last year the school districts voted additional millage in order to meet state requirements for state aid. Last year schools were allocated 7.5 mills with the exception of the Beaver Island community school district which received eight mills.

All townships were awarded one mill in the tentative rate with the exception of Eveline whose budget showed a need for only .056 and Norwood whose budget showed no need. In 1960 all townships received a full mill with the exception of St. James and Peaine township which received one-balf mill and Norwood whose budget did not show a need.

Recommend City Buy Electric Power and Lower Rates

Disposal of the diesel generators and purchase of electric energy from Consumers Power Co. by the Charlevoix Municipal Electric Utility System has been recommended in Part I and Part III of the study and report recently completed by the engineering firm of Cummins & Barnard, Inc. The report further recommended modification of the present rate structure to generally parallel that of the Consumers Power Co. if the city follows the recommendation to purchase power.

Presentation and discussion of Part I and III of a three part study and report of the local utility was made Monday evening at a special meeting of the city council by Fred Von Voightlander of the engineering firm.

Adoption of the recommendations indicate the system would bave an average operating income of more than $80,000 per year during the next 20 years period, according to the report. The average yearly operating income for the same period (1982-1980) would be $65,950 under the present independent operation and the present higher rate structure.

Part I of the study was to determine the economies of power supply to local power system and its future development, based on present loads and normally anticipated growth. Specifically it compares the advantages of continuing the independent operation of the present generating system; interconnection with the Northern Michigan Electric Co, purchasing economy power and sharing reserves as indicated in the report; and purchasing all power from the Consumers Power Co. discontinuing local generation, except for the city-owned hydro plant at Bellaire.

The report recommended, "On the bases of conclusions reached in this study, all energy except that from the Bellaire hydro plant should be purchased from the Consumers Power Co. This step would produce the greatest net inrome over the next 20 years and would permit significant reduction in service rates without reducing the net income below current levels and is therefore recommended. Justification for retaining the diesel engine generators appears questionable . . .".

Part III of the study covers a review of the rates currently in effect for the various classes of service offered, compares rates in neighboring communities, snd considers the sdequacy of rates with respect to revenue requirements. The results indicated urban residential and industrisl power rates can be reduced to the Consumers Power Co. rate level providing the recommendation to buy all power and utilize the hydro plant to level off peak demand. It proposen rates for electric water heaters remain at the present low rate of 1½ cents per kilowatt hour and that a rate schedule be established for electric space heating.

Part II of the study has been completed. This will cover the distribution system. It is not likely the council will take action on the entire program until this report is available. However, Mr. Von Voightlander was requested Monday evening to prepare a resolution modifying the industrial power rate schedule. It is understood one of the aldremen will ask for action on this resolution at the next meeting of the council. Local industries have felt for some time that high power rates have been one of their handicaps in meeting competition.

To Organize for City Softball

Charlevoix's city softball program in which several hundred adults and youngsters participate each year is currently going through its spring organizational stages in preparation for the forthcoming season according to Dean Davenport who will again serve as city recreation director.

The annual draft for the men's league is scheduled to be held Saturday with managers meeting to fill vacancies in their rosters from among new players and those up from the junior ranks. New residents of the community or others who will be playing for the first time are asked to call LI 7-2698 so their names may be placed on the available player list.

The Women's league which is becoming more popular each year is expected to add a new team this season. Plans are currently being formulated for the new team. Interested persons may call the number given above.

The popular peanut league for youngsters in the 8 through 12 year bracket may also have to be enlarged to take care of the increased number of younger boys wishing to participate in the program, Mr. Davenport said. Tryouts will be held early next month at a date to be named later.

The size of the Junior league is expected to remain the same with new players up from Peanut league ranks trying out early in June. Adult leadership is needed in this league and anyone wishing to take over a team is asked to call Mr. Davenport.

There is also an urgent need for umpires. Persons qualified to serve in this capacity are asked to contact Mr. Daveport.

Campus Comments

Michigan Mirror

By ELMER E. WHITE

A big part of the problem faced by Michigan educators is the trouble they have keeping up with the school population increase.

While the spokesmen for teachers are far from reticent when it comes to telling the Legislature and the public about the burdens they carry, the cold hard facts turned up by a recent Department of Public Instruction study are none the less impressive.

According to the figures, there were 1,676,543 children in public schools in Michigan on the fourth Friday following Labor Day.

The count taken annually at this time, is used to determine the amount due each school district in state aid payments. This year's tabulation showed some 52,261 more students enrolled for the 1960-61 school year than were in public schools the previous semester.

Enrollment increase this year was 2,625 greater than the increase last year over the previous figure.

But the hike this year fell far below the average increase over the last five years of 56,313. Chief reason for the higher average was the huge enrollment increases in 1955-56 and 1056-57.

Gain over the previous school year when the count was taken in 1956 and 1957 was well over 66,000 students each time.

The total membership increase in Michigan public schools for the last five years has been 291,564, according to the study by the divisions of research and department services of the Department of Public Instruction.

A fact that shouldn't be lost in looking at these figures is that they stand for children who are entitled to basic education.

Indications are that the increase for the coming school year, that is, the count that will be taken the fourth Friday after Labor Day, 1961, will be about 45,000, the Department says.

Lead pellets from the guns of hunters which never reach their mark still cause a heavy toll among Michigan's ducks and geese.

Waterfowl pick up lead pellets from the bottom of lakes and other feeding grounds while searching for food and grit. This delayed kill occasionally reaches alarming proportions.

A case in point is the heavy die-off of Canada geese recently discovered at West Gilkey and Indian Lakes in Barry County.

The Conservation Department reports that 99 dead geese were picked up at Indian Lake and another 13 at West Gilkey. Still another 22 birds which were visibly sick were spotted by game men.

Lead poisoning was the cause of death in virtully all cases, the Department said.

Actual losses were probably higher, since many of the birds are picked up by predators and others die where the researchers are unable to find them.

Recent opening of the 1961 trout fishing season marks the start, for many Michigan anglers, of another year spent on the streams and lakes of the north country. For many, of course, facet of their hobby as surpassing all others for pure pleasure.

Many pick going after trout with a flyrod on a swift stream as the peak of the sport. Others, of course choose bass fishing; still others say pike offer the greatest challenge; some say panfish caught from a boat on a hot summer's day make the angler's greatest pleasure, and there are some who only like the hardy sport of fishing through the ice.

Probably most fishermen take part in all or a combination of the types of fishing.

The significance of the opening of trout season is that it marks the conversion from winter to summer fishing. The importance of trout fishing to Michigan is pointed up by the annual National Trout Festival at Kalkaska to mark the opening of the season.

Some experts contend that Kalkaska is located within 50 miles of more than half the best trout waters east of the Mississippi River.

ANYBODY WITH A SHOVEL and a yen for gold would do well to head for South Dakota along about Aug. 26-27. State officials there plan to plant some $35,000 worth of the precious yellow metal near Huron as part of a "Gold Rush Days" festival which is part of the South Dakota territory centennial celebration.

At least one Michigan citizen, Gov. John B. Swainson, would have to look no farther than the end of his shovel should he decide to have a go at digging gold in the hills of South Dakota.

Swainson received a personal invitation from an emissary of South Dakota's Gov. Archy Gubbrud to take part in the gold rush.

Like the other 49 governors, Swainson was presented a shovel to use should he decide to go and try his luck.

Eben Yettaw Dies At VA Hospital

Ellsworth—Eben Yettaw, 63, died Sunday, May 7, 1961 at Veteran's hospital in Saginaw following a stroke. He was born at Eli, Mich, Feb. 10 1889. He was employed at the Ellsworth branch of Columbia Foods Inc., for many years.

He is surived by two daughters: Mrs. Wanda Hillman of Ellsworth and Mrs. Steven (Yvonne) Skulec of New Bedford, Pa.; one son, Gerald of Taylor; three borthers, Dales of East Jordan, Thale and Wilson of Ellsworth; one sister, Louise Bral and seven grand children.

Funeral services, conducted by the Hasting Funeral Home, were Wednesday, May 10 at 8:30 a.m. from St. Joseph Catholic church in East Jordan with the Rev. Joseph J. Milinowski officiating. Burial was in the Ellsworth cemetery.

Courier Photo

The brook trout pictured, caught by George Whitley, may not set a record but they will open the eyes of any angler. The larger trout measured 16½ inches and weighed three pounds. The smaller trout measured 14 inches and weighed two pounds. The eight others caught on the same fishing trip recently were just "little ones" in the 10-inch bracket. Don't ask George where his special stream is located because you might do a lot of chasing and never find such a stream. It's rumored one envious Walton followed directions and was met face to face by a shotgun in the hands of a landowner. Regardless of where these trout were caught, George has been proving for some years that there are plenty of big speckles in this area if you know where to go and how to present the lure.

Traffic will be directed by the Michigan State Police of the Petoskey post under the direction of Sgt. Glenn Dafoe,

An invitation to visit the camp Saturday has been extended to the residents of the area by George Sehraut, Scenic Trails Council executive. Parents are especially urged to join their sons for a picnic dinner at the campsite at noon Sunday before the Scouts depart for home.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Teacher Learns a Lesson

Fuzzy Gaadwin may hold a half-dozen important positions around town—chairman of the school board included—but he's still the same modest fellow that I grew up with.

At the last PTA meeting, Fuzzy made a point of getting together with some new teachers. One of them, a lady with some strong ideas about education claimed that none of the others had gone to the right college—hers.

"Well, Miss, that isn't so bad," Fuzzy told her. "One of our board members didn't even go to high school, let alone college." "No! Who?" she said. "Me," he said.

From where I sit, some of us want people to be carbon copies of ourselves. But that just isn't the American way. Our heritage of freedom implies the right to be different, even in little things—like your choice of tea or coffee and my preference of a glass of beer. I say "be yourself" and no "studying up" to be like each other.

telephone lines

By LES JOHNSON, Manager

"MICHIGAN MARCHING FORWARD" is the theme of Michigan Week this year, and all of us at Michigan Bell are proud to be right in step with it. For example, during the past 10 years Michigan's population has increased by 23 per cent and the number of telephones we serve has grown 62 per cent. This year we're planning to spend nearly $87 million on new construction to improve and expand service. And Michigan Bell employees (we're Michigan's fourth largest employer) will earn—and spend mostly right in this State—about $140 million this year. Our aim: to keep marching forward with Michigan.

IF YOU HAVE two-party or four-party phone service, why not change to a one-party line? A private telephone line is exclusively yours. It lets you talk whenever you wish for as long as you wish, without interruption. Unlike a party line, it's always ready to make or receive calls. And in an emergency, you can use your telephone at once. You can enjoy the benefits of private line service for only pennies more a day. Just call us here at our business office.

MOST OF US hate to throw anything away that "might come in handy" some day. Your telephone company is like that, too. But Michigan Bell does more than keep worn-out things around. Such as broken shovels. Or damaged screwdrivers. Tools like these, where practical, are repaired and made useful again. That's just one of the many ways we economize—so we can keep giving you good telephone service at the lowest possible cost.

'Bonanza at Big Rock' Attracts 1,300 Boy Scouts and Leaders

"The best ever!" was the concensus of both Boy Scouts and their edult leeders regarding the ennual Camporee, "Bonanza at Big Rock" held over the weekend at the Charlevoix Rod and Gun club. Pictured here are part of the more than 1300 Scouts ranging in age from 12 through 17 who gathered et headquarters for the flag raising ceremony which opened the day's activities. More than 200 adult leaders accompanied the Scouts who came from 18 northern Michigan counties for the event which featured a full program of activities designed to display the skills learned in the program sponsored by the Scenic Trails Council.

A tent city appeared within a few hours Friday at the Charlevoix Rod and Gun club property as the scene pictured above was repeated over and over as more than 75 units from throughout the Scenic Trails Council arrived Friday to set up camp for the 1961 Boy Scout Camporee.

The tent city was spread over the property and extended in a radius of more than a quarter of a mile from the clubhouse which served as headquarters for the event.

Though the weather was crisp only one shower, during the camp fire program Saturday evening, marred the Camporee which is being called one of the most successful in the long history of such events.

Sponsored by the Scenic Trails Council, the local Boy Scout Committee was in charge of physical arrangements. The Kiwanis club was in charge of the store; local nurses manned the first aid tent and a Boy Scout esuipment store was operated by a representative of a Petoskey store.

George Schraut, Scenic Trails Council executive, in commenting on the success of the event, expressed his appreciation to all Charlevoixans whose combined efforts made the 1961 Camporee "Bonanza at Big Rock", the 'best ever'.

To Pay Homage to War Heroes At Formal Program Tuesday

Memorial Day 1961 will find Americans in this country as well as those serving in the Armed Forces around the world pausing briefly Tuesday to pay homage to fellow countrymen who have given their lives in the cause of freedom.

In Charlevoix the day will be marked with the traditional parade from Park ave., through the business district to Brookside cemetery where a formal program will climax the observance.

The Rev. James P. Sherman, associate minister at the First Congregational church and a U. S. Air Force veteran, will deliver the address entitled "Memorial Day 1961".

The Charlevoix high school band directed by C. A. Odmark, will open the program with the playing of the anthem "America". The Rev. Raymond McBratnie will give the invocation. Donald Nowland, recent appointee to the West Point Military Academy, will lead the Pledge of Allegiance, Betty Stoel, Charlevoix high school senior, will present Lincoln's Gettysburg Address which is as meaningful today as when the Great Emancipator delivered it nearly a century ago.

Following the presentation of the Memorial Day address by the Rev. Mr. Sherman, there will be a floral tribute followed by a salute by a firing squad from the 310th Ordnance Company beaded by Capt. John Barkdoll and taps sounded by John Kroken. The program will close with the playing of the National Anthem by the band and benediction by the Rev. Charles A. Stoppels.

Fenton R. Bulow, past commander of the Leslie T. Shapton Post No. 220, will serve as master of ceremonies.

Participants in the parade will assemble at Park ave. between State and Bridge sts. at 9:30 a. m. The parade will start promptly at 10 a.m. behind the parade marshall, Don Meggison.

Enroute to the cemetery, the parade will pause at Memorial park at the corner of Bridge st. and Belvedere ave. where the band will play "America the Beautiful", the flag will be lowered and then raised by a veterans' group composed of V.F.W. and American Legion members. A floral tribute will be tossed on the water of Round Lake at the foot of Antrim st. in memory of sailors and marines by Auxiliary members of these two veterans' organizations, a salute will be fired, taps will be sounded and the band will play "The Star-Spangled Banner". The parade will then proceed to Brookside cemetery where the formal program will be held at approximately 11 a.m.

Marching in the parade will be a color guard and firing squad from the 310th Ordnance Co. which is headquartered here, U. S. Coast Guard, members of the Charlevoix V. F. W. In the event of inclement weather, the program will be held in the Charlevoix high school auditorium.

The V.F.W., American Legion and the Charlevoix Ministerial Association joined in arranging the program and the parade.

Industries to Get First Break on New Electric Power Rates

Charlevoix's industries will receive a cut in utility rates effective June 1 as the result of action taken Tuesday night at the regular meeting of the city council.

Authorization given City Supt. James Taylor to prepare a revised rate structure for the other power services rendered by the municipal power utility to generally parrallel the authorized rates for similar services offered by Consumers Power Co. may result in relief for other utility patrons before the year ends. The compilation of the revised rate structure is to be completed within 60 days and presented to the council for consideration.

Proposed rate revisions were offered in two resolutions by Alderman Richard Donaldson. The first resolution proposed the completely revised rate structure to be submitted by City Superintendent Taylor in 60 days.

An amendment to the first resolution, proposed by Edward P. Hansen and secounded by Robert Neff, requesting an immediate "across the board" rate adjustment for all utility patrons was turned down by a vote of four to three. Jack Grubaugh joined with Hansen and Neff in urging the adoption of the rate schedule which would parallel those now used by Consumers Power Co. while Richard Donaldson, Kenneth Staley and William Fochtman voted against the proposal. Mayor Hawley cast the deciding vote. The original resolution was approved.

The second resolution, providing for a reduction in industrial power rates beginning June 1, was approved unanimously. Under the second resolution industries will purchase power on a primary industrial rate scale based on KVA-demand as recommended by Cummins and Barnard Inc., engineering firm of Ann Arbor which earlier conducted a survey of the power situation here.

Relief given industries that use more than 50 KVA demand in a given period (one month) will result in a 27 per cent decrease in power cost. Other users of industrial power also will be benefited by the new power rate schedule. This could lower their costs nearly 20 per cent.

Present industrial power rates have for some time been a cost factor that has put local industries at a disadvantange in meeting competition, particulaly with South and Mid-South manufacturers. The new rate will represent a production cost saving of approximately $7,000 spread among the local industries.

In approving the rate adjustment for industry, the council also voted to retain possession and continue maintenance of sub-stations necessary to convert primary power to secondary power for use in industry. However, if any industry should pass the 100 KVA demand on which the adjustment is based, the company must negotiate with the city for the sub-station service.

Music Students to Present Annual Spring Festival

The Music Department of the Charlevoix high school will climax its activities for the school year with the annual Spring Music Festival to be presented at the high school auditorium under the direction of C. A. Odmark.

The complimentary concert, to be presented Friday at 8 p. m. will feature nearly 300 students who are enrolled in the vocal and instrumental departments of the local schools.

Michigan Week will be observed by the group with the presentation of the official march, "Michigan Marching Forward" by Forian Mueller of the University of Michigan. The Reserve Band composed of eighth and ninth grade students will play this march as its feature number.

The Glee Club will include among its selections the popular "Do-Re-Mi" by Rogers from the current Broadway musical, "Sound of Music".

The beginning band composed of sixth grade students who have been organized for only two weeks will participate in the concert as will the seventh grade band which will play several selections from its instruction book.

The 72-piece senior band will close the program with several selections including the novelty "Three Blind Mice at a Night Club Floor Show" and climax their performance with the playing of the traditional "Stars and Stripes Forever" by Sousa.

There will be no admission to this concert planned as a gift to the community by the students of the Charlevoix junior-senior high school and director.

From the Editor's Desk

There's a barrage of news releases from Michigan collegea and universities bewalling the fact that our youth will be deprived of higher education because the legislature has tightened the purse strings. We would be led to believe that in order to cut spending it will be necessary to curtail the training of teachers, doctors, scientist and other professions in fields which are said to have a shortage of trained personnel.

If this threat is carried out we may very likely have on over supply of talented archers, actors, musicians and athletes in the near future.

We have yet to read a release that suggests that any of these activities might be eliminated or curtailed to relieve the tax payers.

Freedom Riders are like a little boy who weara a chip on his shoulder and dares anyone to knock it off. They are arousing friction and playing into the hands of communism.

Or are they the tools of communist agents?

Just how far the United States and the free nations of the West can be pushed by Castro should be of some concern. His recent demand of tractors as ransom for the release of prisoners is high handed black mail and is an insult to every loyal American citizen.

Ellsworth Christian Reformed Church Celebrates Sixtieth Anniversary

The sixtieth anniversary of the Ellsworth Christian Reformed church was observed Thursday, May 18, at o special program at the church.

The Rev. Henry Zwaanstra who has served as pastor of the church since November 1954, welcomed the members ond their guests to the observance.

Highlight of the program was the reading of greetings from former pastors. Among them were messages from Rev. P. D. Van Vliet, Rev. Gerrit Hoeksema, Rev. Richard Posthmus, Rev. H. K. Beute, Rev. J. T. Holwerda, Rev. Henry Rikkers, Rev. Edward Boeve and Mrs. G. A. Lyzenga whose husband was a former pastor. Others who had served the church were Rev. John DeJonge and Rev. B. H. Eninke.

Greetings were also delivered by Rev. Donald VanGent of the Atwood Christian Reformed church, Rev. Douglas Van Gessell of the Atwood Reformed church and Rev. Chorles A. Stoppels of the Barnard Reformed church.

A social hour followed the formal progrom which also included hymns, an anniversary reading by Mrs. Bernie DeYoung and special selections by Terry VanderSlik and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Brat.

The history of the church dates back to Jan. 30, 1901, when 13 families met at the Mitchell school three miles southwest of Ellsworth and with the assistance of a missionary pastor, G. G. Haan and Rev. DeBoer of Prosper, Mich., organized the congregation.

Today only one charter member remains, Mrs. Frank Kass, who is presently living in Grand Rapids. Others bore names familiar to today's members, Ite Tornga, George Dekkenga, Peter Hennip, Harm Cooper, Harm Sitzema, Harke DeGoot, Jan Oosterbaan, Peter DeJong, Solomon Goeman, Ralph VanKuiken, T. K. Weilenga, Henry VanDer Ark and Mr. Kass.

A short time later a church site was donated by the Central Lake Lumber Co. and the residents of the small community went about the job of carving out a place in the forest for their church which was built of logs. The new church was dedicated Dec. 19, 1901. With the coming of the first pastor, Rev. VanVleit, in 1904, the first parsonage was built across the road.

In the beginning, all services were held in the Holland language but during his ministry between 1919 and 1924, Rev. Beutis introduced services in English. In 1949 the services in Holland were discontinued.

The present church in the village was built and dedicated Feb. 9, 1927.

The bell for the first church was donated by Joseph BeBoer in 1909 and the church acquired its first organ in 1910. This wos replaced with a pipe organ in 1931.

Today the church boasts 75 families with 184 children. The congregation has a Sunday school with 130 children and 12 teachers; 105 catechumens; two ladies aids; a 62 member men's society; a Atwood with 93 children enrolled young people's society with 42 members; a Christian school at in the kindergarten through the eight grades taught by three teachers. Mission work started at Cance is also being continued.

Ellsworth—Donna Gail Klooster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Klooster, become the bride of Williom Wynsma, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wynsma of Centrol Lake, at a ceremony solemnized at the Ellwsorth Christian Reformed church Friday evening.

The Rev. Henry Zwaanstra, assisted by the Rev. Douglas Van Gessel of the Atwood Reformed church, officioted at the ceremony in the presence of more than 125 guests. Arrangements of white gladioli, pink peonies, potted palms and candelabra formed a setting for the service. Mary Jean Essenberg of Grand Rapids, at the organ, played a program of wedding music and the traditional wedding marches and accompanied the soloist, Marvin Shooks, who sang "I Love You Truly", "Because" and the "Lord's Prayer".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of white nylon lace and net over taffeta for her wedding. Fashioned with a fitted bodice, portrait neckline and long tapered sleeves, the gown bad a full skirt of net and lace with rows of ruffles, an insert of pleated net in the front and a crisp lace bow to give back interest. Her chapel length veil fell from a tiara of seedpearls and sequins, She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and pink rosebuds with velvet streamers.

Bonnie Klooster, as her sister's maid of honor, wore a street length gown of blue nylon and net over taffeta and matching petaled hat. Her bouquet was of pink and white carnations.

Darlene Klooster, another sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, wore a gown and hat identical to the honor attendant's and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

DeeAnn Wynsma, niece of the bridegroom, as flower girl, wore an orchid nylon dress and carried a bouquet of pink and white daisies. Jerry Klooster, cousin of the bride, was ringbearer.

Thomas Wynsma Jr. of Atwood, assisted his brother as best man. Groomsman wos another brother, Burton Wynsma of Grand Rapids. Donald Aardema of Central Lake and Daniel Von DerArk were ushers.

A reception followed in the church dining room with Mr. and Mrs. Versile Klooster as master and mistress of ceremonies.

A tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bridal couple and surrounded with white pompoms and barberry sprays centered the refreshment table. Assisting were Mrs. Clarence Tornga and Mrs. Roger Sitzema who were in charge of gifts and Norma and Thelma Drenth of Grand Rapids who served the punch. The Junior Aid of the church was in charge of the refreshments.

After a brief wedding trip the couple will make their home here.

The bride is a graduate of the Ebenezer Christian and the Ellsworth high schools and is employed in the office of Columbia Foods. Mr. Wynsma is a graduate of the Central Lake high school and is employed at the Ellsworth Hardware.

Guests arriving for the evening? Be sure to have some high protein snacks ready. A deviled ham and sour cream dip is easy to whip up. Mix one 4½-ounce can of deviled ham with 1/3 cup dairy sour cream. Stir in 1 teaspoon chopped parsley. Serve with either crackers or potato chips.

New Law to Effect Date of Annual School Election in Charlevoix

A new law calling for the standardization of the date of school elections in primary and fourth class school district was signed last week by Gov. John Swainson.

Known as House Bill No. 455, it provides that all annual school elections in primary and fourth class school districts shall be held on the second Monday in June.

As a result of the new law, the school election in the Charlevoix school district will be set for the second Monday in June instead of a month later.

Prior to the passage of this bill, primary and fourth class school districts could, by resolution of their boards of education, hold their annual election or meeting either the second Monday in June or July.

The new law further provides that the terms of office of all members of boards of education shall begin on July 1 following the election. In the past, the terms began at the first regular meeting following the election.

The new law, however, will not become effective until 1962 according to an opinion handed down by Attorney General Paul L. Adams who said that the law would not meet the requirements of the state's law on public safety and welfare. As a result, the measure will not take effect until 1962.

Immediate effect of the law at this time would have hampered schools on voting operational millage and other issues requiring a vote because there was not enough time to permit for required petitioning of proposals.

Supt. R. G. Bennett said this week that the election in the Charlevoix school district would be handled this year as in the past. Petitions must be filed by 4 p.m. Tuesday, June 20, in order to be a candidate for the annual election on Monday, July 10.

Petitions are now available at the business office of the Charlevoix public school opposite the Grant St. entrance of the elementary school.

The terms of Gordon L. Freedman and Albert H. Smith expire this year. It is understood both will be candidates for re-election.

The Charlevoix board of education boasts seven members as the result of new legislation adopted last year. The other members are Robert G. Lieberman, Dr Robert G. Martin, Darrell Dinwiddie, Clarence Smith, and Burr Blanchard.

Lake Construction Awarded Contract For New Clubhouse

The Lake Construction Co. whose bid for construction of the new clubhouse at the municipal golf course was the lowest of the three received by the city for the construction project at the regular meeting of the council Monday night.

The local company's bid was for $32.500.

In other action the council released the restrictive covenants on city-owned property in the Lindsey addition to permit construction of a new church at the corner of Petoskey ave. and Meech st.

The contract for fire protection for residents of Norwood township was renewed for another year. The township pays one mill of its assessed valuation for the service.

A request by Allan Pease to lease a section of the airport on US 31 as a site for an amusement park was referred to the airport committee for investigation. Mr. Pease hopes to include pony rides and other amusements on the site.

The council also approved the leasing of a hangar at the airport to Robert W. Winchester and the transfer of another lease from Malcolm MacDowell to Joseph McPhillips.

Bills totaling $15,671.11 were approved and ordered paid. The figure includes a $3,000 payment for fuel oil.

Ridding Streams of Lamprey Eel

The project to rid streams emptying into the Great Lakes of young lamprey eels was brought to the Charlevoix area recently when the lampricide treatment approved by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service was applied to McGeagh creek starting at the Barnard pond, and to other small streams in the area.

Pictured here is Albert Bowers of the Fish and Wildlife Service team pouring the lampricide into the stream. The lampricide will cause the larvae, which live in the mudbanks along the stream from four to six years before they reach adulthood, to sicken and crawl from their hiding places. The infected area will in this way be freed of the parasites as they die from the lampricide. When the lamprey eel reaches adulthood, it migrates to the water of the Great Lakes where it damages all game fish. It will die when it returns to the small streams to spawn.

The application of the lampricide to streams in the area is part of an overall project to rid the great Lakes of the parasite that has done much to destroy the commerical fishing industry.

William Gaylord of the Fish and Wildlife Service heads the team of workers who are applying the lampricide to area streams and rivers.

Mrs. Gerald Burke was named to make a wreath for the Memorial Park ceremony. Mrs. Burke and Mrs. Joseph Etienne were named to decorate graves of members and mark them with flags.

Carl Whitley, Mike Kane, Jeannie Etienne, Jill Warner and Paul Skeel, children of members, were named to march in the Memorial Day parade, wearing the uniforms of the various services.

The president Mrs. Ronald Geer, announced the program for the V.F.W. Department convention scheduled to be held in Lansing next month which several members are planning to attend.

Charlevoix IN UNIFORM

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Genia whose son, Floyd Jr. is serving aboard the USS Springfield (CG G-) in the Mediterranean have received a letter from Capt. John V. Noel, commanding officer of the Springfield, informing them of their son and his travels.

The letter, in part, follows: "The Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean is strong right arm of the power and prestige of America. It is in these waters, first of all to preserve peace with justice, to deter any enemy from atriking at us or our allies. Our Navy attack-planes, always ready aboard the big aircraft carriers, are a powerful nuclear atriking force. Our amphibiuos forces with well-trained marines aboard are prepared to land ashore to protect American lives and interests and to protect our friends from aggression.

"Your son serves in the flagship of Vice Adm. Anderson, Commander Sixth Fleet, who directs this great United States fleet.

"Quite apart from direct military action, the Sixth Fleet has a most important job of showing the American flag to all parts of the Mediterranean. Our big ships lying off a port with hundreds of fine looking, well behaved young men asbore are potent aymbols of American prestige and of her ideals of Christianity and responsibility. Here is where your aon, everytime he goes ashore, is a personal ambassador of the United States.

"Each time we enter a new port, and entirely different way of life opens before your son'a eyes. From the bull fights and castanets of Spain, to camels and veiled ladies of Lebanon, your son and our ship travel from one end of the Mediterranean to the other. The scenery and the people he sees will leave a deep inpression on him for the rest of his life. His knowledge of how another part of the world lives will enrich him, and in turn will probably leave him with a better understanding and appreciation of our way of life in the United States.

"It is for these reasons and many, many others that your son is here on the Springfield, the Sixth Fleet flagship.

"We bave recently been in Beirut, Lebanon, quite close to Jerusalem and the Holy Land. For Easter we were in Athens, Greece, where we entertained the Royal Family of Greece for luncheon. The chances are your son had to line up with the rest of his shipmates, who were not on watch, to "man the rail" as the royal yacht came alongside. A cold wind was blowing; we were all cold but it was certainly worth the effort. The ahip made a fine impression on the Greek people. More recently we have been to Split, in Yugoslavia, and Corfu, a lovely Greek island town. We are now back in our homeport, Villefrenche, on the beautiful south coast of France."

The letter went on to explain what was being done for the physical, educational and spiritual welfare of the former high school athlete who will shortly complete his aecond year in the U. S. Navy.

Shell reveals how to increase your mileage up to 30 extra miles per tankful

Here are some tips from Shell's experts on how to get maximum mileage from your car. If you practice these good driving habits—and if you use today's Super Shell, with 9 ingredients for top performance—you may well save a pretty penny on gasoline bills.

1. Don't race a cold engine. When your engine is cold, it uses up more fuel. Today's Super Shell contains Pentane mix—for fast warm-up. (A properly operating thermostat helps.)

2. Use a light touch with the accelerator. Tromping down on the pedal is an expensive habit. Starting up, it holds your automatic transmission in a lower "gear" longer. This makes the engine turn faster, wasting fuel.

Under way, uneven pedal pressure is costly, too. Instead, feed just enough fuel to maintain even speed.

3. Drive "ahead of yoor car." Watch for slowing traffic and red lights as far ahead as you can see. You'll be able to coast up to the stopping cars, instead of braking heavily when you get there.

4. Don't let fuel costs creep up. If your car "creeps" when idling with the automatic transmission engaged, have your engine idle speed adjusted. You may save plenty.

5. Don't indulge in jack rabbit starts. Racing starts are fine on race tracks—but the drivers are lucky to get 6 miles per gallon.

NOTE: One thing you can't do anything about is the weather. Yet it's interesting to know that air resistance at high car speed is the biggest single drain on power. It increases approximately as the cube of the vehicle speed. Even fox tails on aerials may cost you gasoline.

6. Check tire pressure—regularly. Keep tires properly inflated. Under-inflated tires increase drag and friction and cut mileage. Not to mention extra tread wear.

NOTE: Tire pressures build up during a long run. Don't let air out to bring the pressure down—it makes the tires run even hotter. Check cool tires only.

7. Check for dragging brakes. Have your Shell dealer check for wheel drag next time you're in for a lubrication. If brakes drag, you pay for it every mile you drive.

8. Get these fuel-saving adjustments for top performance. If spark timing is off, for example, you pay for it in wasted gasoline and possible engine damage.

Have the compression checked—it can reveal power-wasting valve and ring conditions.

Have automatic choke checked for correct operation.

Clean or replace filters for air, fuel, oil whenever manufacturer recommends.

Have automatic transmission or clutch checked regularly.

9. Get regular oil changes and lubrication—including transmission and differential. Your Shell dealer knows what to do. He has the finest equipment and lubricants to do it with. There's a good chance your car and your gasoline will last longer.

10. Show this advertisement to everyone who drives your car—especially if you pay their gasoline bills. Insist that they stop for service at the sign of the Shell.

While we can't guarantee 30 extra miles per tankful, the closer these suggestions are followed the better your mileage is likely to get.

#3 is Butane for quick starts at all times.

#4 is Alkylate, noted for knock control in hot engines at high speeds.

#5 is anti-knock mix for knock resistance.

#6 is an "anti-icer" to check the cold-weather stalling that can occur even at 45° F.

#7 is Pentane mix for fast warm-ups.

#9 is Platformate—to add the extra energy that shows up as extra mileage.

Try Super Shell. You'll soon feel and hear the difference in the way your engine runs. That difference is top performance.

A Bulletin from Shell Research—where 1,997 scientists are working to make your car go better and better.

SHELL®

Offer Free Vehicle Safety Check Here Friday and Saturday

Is your car safe to drive? You can get the answer this weekend at no cost or obligation to you.

The annual National Motor Vehicle Safety Check will be conducted Friday and Saturday in the parking area at the municipal dock under the sponsorship of the Kiwanis Club of Charlevoix.

All motor vehicles brought to the checking area will be thoroughly checked by competent mechanics. If any defects are found these will be noted on a card presented to the owner who may have the necessary corrections made at the garage of his choice. An OK sticker will be placed on all vehicles found to meet the mechanical safety requirements.

"The traffic accidents over the past weekend should be a warning to all drivers that the vehicle they drive must be mechanically safe if we are to reduce injury and death on the highways," was the comment of Ralph Gillam, chairman of the public and business affairs committee of the sponsoring organization. "We can't eliminate the human frailties in drivers by this motor vehicle safety check but we may be able to disclose safety vehicle defects to the owners of the vehicle," he added.

Hours for checking vehicles will be from 1 p.m. to 7 p.m. on Friday and from 9 a.m. to 5 p. m. on Saturday.

The National Vehicle Safety Check is now compulsory in some states, although not in Michigan. Some Michigan cities, however, conduct the campaign and set up road blocks, forcing all vehicles without the Saftey OK to go through the checking area.

The checks will include lights, turning signals, brakes, tires, windshield wipers, rear view mirror, horn and other mechanics that assure mechanical safety of the vehicle.

Mr. Gillam further emphasized that it costs nothing to make sure your motor vehicle is safe to drive. It is his aim to have all cars in the Charlevoix area carry the Safety OK sticker. If defects are found, owners may get the safety sticker from the mechanic when the defect is corrected.

Beaver Isle Cruise On MS Emerald Isle Scheduled For June 11

There is popular acceptance of the Charlevoix-Beaver Island cruise scheduled for Sunday, June 11, by the Kiwanis Club of Charlevoix, Ralph Gillam, chairman of the public and business affairs committee of the sponsoring club reported Wednesday. There are some tickets still available he said. They may be obtained from Mr. Gillam or at the office of the Charlevoix Courier.

Sale of tickets, however, must necessarily be limited to the capacity of the MS Emerald Isle which will ferry the Charlevoix good-will tour to and from the island.

The cruise is scheduled to leave Charlevoix at 12:45 p.m. A feature of the island visit will be a smorgasbord served at Beaver Lodge under the management of George Van Buren in co-operation with the Beaver Island Civic association. This event will bring residents of the Island and Charlevoixans together for a sociable hour. The Emerald Isle will depart from St. James at 9 p. m. for the return trip.

Tickets entitle the holder to a package deal which includes the round trip cruise and the smorgasbord.

U. S. Coast Guard Accepting Bids for Lifeboat Station

Plans and specifications for the new structure may be obtained at the District Office, U. S. Coast Guard, in Cleveland, Ohio.

Bids will be in the Ninth Coast Guard District Office, Room 4354 Main Post Office Building Cleveland, 13, Ohio, by 10 a.m. June 28.

The construction of the new lifeboat station on property adjacent to the present buoy depot is part of the $300,000 building program scheduled for Charlevoix this year.

The contract for the construction of a new bulkhead and boat basin at the same site was awarded early to the Northern Marine Construction Co. of Cheboygan. The company's bid was in the amount of $84,571.78 with an alternate bid of $10,846.31.

Three-quarters of a million pounds of steel piling has been delivered to the site and equipment moved here from Cheboygan in preparation for the construction of the new bulkhead and boat basin along the upper channel west of the C & O railroad bridge. The bulkhead serves as a mooring for the U.S.C.G. Cutter Sunuew.

Establish Grant for Students Entering Christian Service

The establishment of a grant to be known as the Harold E. Kohn award to be presented to a senior student or a graduate of the Charlevoix high school who is preparing for a career in one of the church-related professions has been announced by the Religious Education Committee of the First Congregational church.

The grant which will be awarded at the rate of $100 per year for four years bears the name of the Rev. Harold E. Kohn, senior minister of the First Congregational church and widely known author and artist.

According to the terms of the award, an applicant must be a graduate of, or senior student in, the Charlevoix high school and a resident of the Charlevoix school district at the time first application is made; must be a "B" student based on grade average for the 11th and 12th grades or a high recommendation by the faculty and preparing for a career in a church related profession.

The grant can be awarded to applicants of any protestant denomination.

A written application must be made and should include grade transcript, student's own written account of participation in school, church and community activities and a personal statement of his or her plans for a career in the field of religion. Any student who receives this scholarship may expect it to continue at the rate of $100 for four years, provided a "B" average is maintained and career plans remain unchanged. The award may be continued for more than four years, for graduate study, at the discretion of the award committee.

Applicants may receive the scholarship without reference to financial need and without filing a financial statement.

Final decision on applications rests with the administering committee which should consider Christian character, personality and leadership qualities and may at their discretion, ask for an interview with the applicant, consult the school faculty or ask for letters of recommendation.

The award will be given annually to an eligible applicant at high school graduation time. After this year the deadline for filing applications for the award will be May 1.

The grant will be underwritten by the Mary Brewster circle of the church as a special project and will be administered by a committee composed of members of the Religious Education Committee, the minister, a representative of the board of trustees and the Mary Brewster circle. Any other recognized organization of the church which makes an annual pledge of $25.00 or more may have a representative on the governing committee if they wish.

In establishing the award, the committee suggested that other churches be encouraged to establish similar funds and that no restrictions be placed on any of these funds that would prevent an eligible applicant from receiving more than one award. If there are some years when no one applies for this award, the money will remain in the fund to meet a possible future need for more than one sholarship in one year.

Further information regarding the fund may be obtained from the Harold E. Kohn award committee of the First Congregational church.

187 Contestants Enter Second Perch-o-rama

The second annual Perch-o-rama which ended Sunday has been declared a huge success by Paul Kohler, secretary-manager of the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce which sponsored the event.

A total of 167 fisherman registered for the annual event with 61 signing up at Ward's Boat livery and 106 at Scott's livery in fronton.

Prizes were awarded Sunday afternoon for the three largest perch caught during the festival, the fishermen who came the greatest distance to fish in local waters and draw prizes for which all entries were eligible.

A Mishawaka, Ind., doctor, M. J. Fujawa, won the top prize of $25 offered by the Charlevoix Courier for the largest fish reported during the event. His entry which also won him a $5.00 daily prize on Wednesday, weighed 1 lb. 7 oz.

Second prize of $15 given by the Weathervane Lodge went to Mrs. Bee Duncan, a former Petoskey resident now living in Traverse City, who has fished for years in Charlevoix waters. Her catch of 1 lb. 4½ oz. won her a daily prize the opening day of the perch-o-rama.

The third prize of $10.00 donated by the Carey Insurance Agency was won by a Gaylord resident, Donald Alexander; whose perch weighing 1 lb. 2 oz. was the largest one caught Tuesday.

Charlevoix County Schools to Ask for Extra Millage

The Charlevoix schools will go to the voters of the school district to ask for extra millage in order to be eligible for full participation in the State Aid program and to meet the budget for the 1961-62 school year following action of the Charlevoix county tax allocation board Wednesday.

All other schools in the county were placed in the same position as the local schools when the allocation board gave the schools only 7 mills and the county the same amount, 7 mills, as compared to 7.5 mills to the schools and 6.5 mills to the county in 1960. All townships were allocated one mill with the exception of Eveline which was given .56 mills and Norwood which received one-half mill to meet budget needs.

Last year the schools were forced to ask for extra millage in order to meet qualifications for State Aid which states that participating schools must receive eight mills in county tax funds if they are to receive full participation in the program which allows $205 per student multiplied by the school membership on the fourth Friday after Labor Day of the school year minus 3.25 mills based on the state equalized valuation of the county.

Charlevoix schools asked for and got an additional two mills last year which gave the district a total of 9½ mills thus making them eligible for full participation in tho State Aid program.

In dollars and cents this is an approximate picture of the situation as it exists in the Charlevoix school district based on figures available from the county and the school district.

The 1961-02 budget for operating expenses has been set at $334,500 and includes the cost of maintenance of the new Junior-Senior high school which will be opened this fall. This budget is an increase of $24,500 over the 1960-01 budget of $310.000.

Revenue from the 7 mills allocated the schools will bring in $102,092 when levied on the state egualized valuation of the school district, $14,670,259.

Basing anticipated revenue from State Aid on the same membership as of Sept. 30, 1960. i. e. 958 students in the kindergarten through the 12th grade, the school district will receive from this source approximately $148,340 or the membership, 950, multiplied by $205 per student for a total of $195,980, minus 3.25 mills based on the county's state equalized valuation or $47,630 for a total of $148,350 net state aid which includes primary monies for instructional purposes.

Should the school fail to receive the full eight mills to qualify for full participation in the State Aid program, the school district will have to forget approximately one-eight of this figure or about $30,000.

In airing the needs of the school for the 1961-62 school year Supt. R. G. Bennett said that the budget of $334,500 was as modest as the board of education could make it and continue to operate under the same program the school has maintained in recent years. He said that the budget was based on 10 mills which would necessitate voting an additional three mills to underwrite the cost of operation.

However, the school stands to gain a great deal for the additional millage would make the school eligible for full participation in the State Aid program to the tune of $148.350 instead of $118,350 it would receive on the basis of seven mills minus the forfieture.

In other words, the extra millage would result in the schools receiving $148,340 in state aid based on the figures of last year's membership day enrollment; the two extra mills would give the school district an additional $102,692 which added to the revenue from the 7 mills levy in the county, would total $279,372 toward the budget. Remaining revenue would come from transportation reimbursements which amount to approximately $10,000 and from vocational programs, driver education and other sources.

This year the school received $101,635 in taxes (7½ mills on the state equalized valuation of the county, $13,551,344); $151,936 in State Aid and $27,103 (two mills voted) for a total of $280,676 toward a budget of $310,000.

One Accident Reported Here Memorial Weekend

This occurred about 4:30 p.m. Tuesday when a car driven by Mrs. Wilma M. Wood, 34 of Conway, was rammed from the rear by a second car driven by Miner J. Veenstra, 17, of Ellsworth after the Wood car had slowed down behind a third vehicle driven by Thomas Swanson who had slowed his vehicle prior to crossing US 31 N to Hansen's Standard Station.

In the Wood car with Mrs. Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Poole, were her daughters, Jacqueline, 12, Sandra, 10, Mrs. Marjorie Annis, 17, and infant son, DeWayne, two weeks, and Mrs. Wood's son, Barry, 2½ months, all of the same address in Conway.

Mrs. Wood, Mrs. Annis and Jacqueline complained of back pains and were advised by Chief of Police Joseph L. Smith who investigated to see their family doctor. Later they were admitted to Lockwood General Hospital in Petoskey for first aid and exrays and discharged to their home.

In the car with Veenstra were Linda Smalley, 15, Larry Kayner, 19, and Lucilla Essenberg, 17, all of Ellsworth who were uninjured. Veenstra was issued a summons for not having his car under control.

Warn Citizens Of Traffic Hazards

—The death of three teen-age bicyclists in separate bike mishaps recently, an unprecendented one-day toll in Michigan, has brought a warning from the State Police that bike riders, parents and motorists should exert extra effort to prevent such accidents as the season for exposure to them reaches a peak in the warm weather months ahead.

Records show June, July and August are the worst months for car-bike accidents in the period of increased bicycling which normally begins in April and extends through October.

To help prevent accidents the State Police emphasize that all bicyclists are required to obey the traffic laws, signs and signals, just as motorists must do; that parents restrict bicycle use when their children violate any laws regulating bicycles and that motorists take extra precautions in the vicinity of bicyclists to be on guard for the unpredictable actions of some young riders.

Rambler Promotes Sale Through 2,600 News Papers

Rambler advertising was printed in a total of 305 million copies of newspapers in April, making it the second-biggest ad month in Rambler history, according to E. B. Brogan, Rambler advertising manager.

The record month was October, 1960, when the new 1961 Ramblers were announced and when American Motors ran special ads announcing the extension of the warranty on new Ramblers to 12 months or 12,000 miles.

The Rambler newspaper advertisements in April cost more than one million dollars, Brogan said. More than 2,600 newspapers are on the regular Rambler ad schedule, including the Charlevoix Courier.

"Rambler is now in third place among all individual product names advertised in newspapers," Brogan said. "This includes such widely advertised products as automobiles, soaps, beverages, foods and others. Likewise, our sales have climbed to where Rambler is now out-selling all but three of the 15 U. S. car makes."

Brogan praised newspapers because of the great flexibility possible and the speed with which news-type ads can be scheduled.

Local Schools to Ask More Money

To date the district has received $128,512.50 in State Aid payments and will eventually receive the remaining $23,425.50 plus approximately $10,000 reimbursement on transportation costs. This will be applied to the $40,000 the district borrowed against anticipated State Aid payments to meet current bills.

Actually it will not be known until the school year ends and the books are balanced and audited exactly where the school district stands, money-wise. However, it is expected that it will be in good condition with little or no deficit.

When the school district begins its fiscal year July 1, 1961, only millage being levied for school purposes will be the seven mills allocated by the tax allocation board for next year and the millage voted to underwrite the cost of the new junior-senior high school.

Are You Risking Ruin With Inadequate Business Insurance?

You're safer . . . better protected . . . when you buy your insurance through an independent insurance agent because only an independent insurance agent can make sure all your insurable risks are covered.

No single company can do this. No one company offers every type of business insurance. When you buy directly from an insurance company, you'll hear only about the policy the company wants to sell you.

As independent insurance agents, we are free to choose the best insurance for your business from hundreds of policies offered by different competing companies. We will supervise a complete analysis of all your business exposures, prevent wasteful overlapping of insurance coverage, recommend additional protection where needed, and see that your business insurance is kept up-to-date.

You can be sure your business has the right insurance coverage when you insure through an independent insurance agent. Look for this Big "I" Seal when you buy. To display it, we have had to meet professional standards designed to protect you.

Do You Want to Lose Your Freedom to Speak and Print?

Unless a nation's people are allowed to think and express their thoughts orally, or by means of the printed word and picture, that nation's people cannot enjoy freedom.

The very first thing a potential tyrant or dictator does when trying "to take over" a nation is to suppress freedom of open expression. You have but to review the present status of hte Cubans for proof.

Yet a form of the suppression of freedom to express throughts is being exercised in the United States this very moment. It exists in the ruling of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service that a privately owned business, whether it be a utility whose rates are regulated by government, or a strictly privately owned and directed business, may not spend any of its money in any form of printed utterance that opposes the federal government's socialistic enterprises, and expect to be allowed to charge it as a business expense.

IN OTHER WORDS, if a privately owned business wants to spend some of its money, thus to protect its stockholder's investment, it cannot expense any company funds to fight the government's tax-supported competition.

Oh, yes, a private company may spend some of its money to express its views if the money comes from PROFITS ONLY—but not an expense insofar as company protection goes, that is comparable to any form of otherwise acceptable insurance used by individuals or companies.

Take the case of the Timken Roller Bearing Co. of Canton, Ohio, which has filed a suit against the federal government for a million and half dollars it was forced to pay when Timken's institutional advertising budget for sevenal years was disallowed by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service.

IN ITS ADVERTISING Timken vigorously opposed the drift of this nation's economy toward the application of the Socialistic State, with its ever-increasing centralization of power in Washington, D.C. A number of other U.S. companies have similarly expressed themselves via the printed word.

This courageous expression of the right of freedom of the press by private companies can, and probably would, pose a threat to those in government who favor the economic and political drift toward Socialism and the Welfare State. So, by a mere departmental ruling, without Congressional legislation at all, the IRS has decided to punish those privately owned companies that spend company money in order to insure their very preservation!

IMAGINE JUST HOW far such a ruling might become effective: this very bit of comment is being printed in a privately owned U. S. newspaper. The cost of writing it, of setting it into type, of printing it on a press, of distributing it are ALL DEDUCTED AS A BUSINESS EXPENSE.

This type of comment is, naturally, in sympathy with the right of all business to exercise their presumed Constitutional right to freedom of the press.

Suppose, then, that some day the IRS refused to allow all printed media to include the cost of printing criticism of the federal government's socialistic policies as a business expense . . . . what then would happen to a nation's freedom? (And this ruling, too, could also more easily be applied to radio and television, since both these typea of communication depend upon government for licenses to operate.)

I AM WRITING and printing this comment only to point out the dangers always inherent in what people call "The State". Ultimately, if it be left to its own potentially bureaucratic designs, without the controls of an alert and active citizenry to stand guard on the ramparts of freedom, "The State" can, and history shows it many times has, become the overlord, the dictator, the tyrant.

Do you want to preserve freedom of speech and of the press in America? Then I suggest that you clip this comment and, with a few added written thoughts of your own, send it to your U.S. Congressman, your U.S. Senator, and even to the White House!

For never forget that the punitive devices of an antagonistic government are ever and forever a constant menace to any nation's freedom

The perch and the weather were not co-operative last Saturday for the kids fishing contest sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Charlevoix. Our suggestion for another year is to stock the pond in East Park with a goodly supply of trout. The kids would get fish and it's our guess there would be plenty of adult spectators on hand for the show.

"Charlevoix-the-Beautiful" is a true descriptive phrase for our city but we get the wind knocked out of our sails when we see such a sign poster on a run down dwelling that is located where all visitors may see it.

City Softball Scheduled to Open June 15

The City Softball League held its annual players draft recently in preparation for the 1961 softball season scheduled to get underway June 15, Dean Davenport, city softball director, has announced.

Because of its standing at the end of the 1960 season, Airport Inn officials were given first choice in the draft and selected pitcher, Ted Potter, former outstanding pitcher who has returned from the service. They also selected George VanBelkein, Dan Pearl, Andy Anderson, Rick Miller and Lou Dixon.

Because most of their teams will be returning for another season, American Mold took only three players, Frank Curtis, John Pearl and Joe McDermott. Freedman's selected Herb Cummings, Denny Wojan. Jim Ferguson, Bruce McEnroe and Bruce Murray.

Representatives of a fifth team, Iron-East Jordan were present but did not participate in the draft choices because the squad will be composed of residents of the Ironton-East Jordan area.

There is still some question whether Ellsworth will field a team this season.

If there are prospective players joining a local team, they are asked to contact Mr. Davenport before final draft choices are made prior to the official opening of the season.

There is also a need for additional managers for peanut and junior league teams. Anyone wishing to assume the job is asked to contact Mr. Davenport.

Ironton Residents Veto Annexation To East Jordan

The proposed annexation of the Ironton school district with East Jordan school district was vetoed by a vote of 66 to 24 in a special election held Tuesday at the small community located midway between Charlevoix and East Jordan on M-66.

Two related proposals, to assume the indebtedness of the East Jordan school district and to raise the tax limitation to meet the obligation, were also turned down by like votes of 55 to 16.

The special election was held after a group of Ironton school district residents petitioned their school board to annex with the East Jordan school district.

The closing of the Ironton school by the State Fire Marshall's office in April resulted in the need to annex with a neighboring school district or build a new school. After the school was closed in April, the 22 students in the kindergarten through the sixth grade were transported to East Jordan where they had been offered a classroom in which to finish out the school year.

Mrs. Earl Kroll, president of the Ironton school board, said, following the special election, that the board would now investigate the cost of building a new school and would probably bring the issue to the vote of the residents of the district at a later date.

Lost- -$228 Billion

Who gets hurt when inflation sets in, and the dollar depreciates?

A report made by the Economists' National Committee on Monetary policy may help you answer that question.

It says that a loss of over $228 billion, or 57 per cent,in purchasing power has been experienced by savers on average holdings in six categories for the period 1939 to 1959-60 because of this depreciation. The six categories are U. S. saving bonds; time deposits in banks; savings capital in savings and loan associations; life insurance in force; annuities paid out, and social security trust and unemployment funds.

Just about everybody has been hit, in one or more of these savings categories. And most of the people, obviously, have small or moderate means. The inflationary blow is particularly cruel to those who live on fixed incomes, as provided by annuities, social security payments, and so on.

The dollar's value in purchasing power has gone down by more than half, in a dismayingly short period of time. Will we have the strength, the wisdom, and the political courage to save what is left of it?

According to the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, in a release based upon an analysis of U. S. government statistics, labor unions averaged one work stoppage every two days at 21 Atlas, Titan, and Minuteman intercontinental missile bases during the eight-month period of July-February. This was double the rate for the year tnding June 30, 1960.

Following the Soviet achievement in putting an astronaut into space, President Kennedy, speaking at a press conference, said: "I do not regard the first man in space as a sign of the weakening of the free world, but I do regard the total mobilization of men and things for the service of the Communist bloc over the last years as a source of great danger to us, and I would say we are going to have to live with that danger through much of the rest of this century . . . . Our job is to maintain our strength until our great qualities can be brought more effectively to bear."

JUNE
• IN MICHIGAN •
by
Harold E. Kohn

The glory of June is gentle and timid. It hides in lonely clumps of shrubs and grasses where the newly born things of earth first look wonderingly upon the world. Streams no longer shout their hilarious songs of spring. They whisper now. The winds do not whistle. They shyly murmer to each other, too bashful to pipe their shrill music or even to speak up. Forest mothers are more furtive than in May and less reserved than they will be in July. Now there are "children in the house". No sound should be made. Don't disturb the babies!

Boys seem different in June. Now they are even harder to find than usual, unless you know precisely where to look. If you badly need a boy, search along the lake shore where dimples suddenly appear and quickly fade in the gently washing waters. The dimples are made by tossed stones. The stones are tossed by a boy. Or look along a stream until you find where a slender fishing pole, with line, protrudes from long grasses. The boy will be found on the end opposite the worm.

In the month of June ask a boy where on earth he has been all afternoon, and he will point to the lake shore or the stream bank and say, "Why, Dad, I was right there all the time," as if anyone should know where a boy could be found on a summer's day. And maybe anyone should.

SOME THINGS TO LOOK FOR THIS WEEK OF JUNE

- Watch for "shooting stars" on dark nights. More meteorites fall in June than in any other month.
- Observe the amazing, miraculous energy of birds mothers. Their growing fledglings often eat more than their own weight in a twenty-four hour period, and when there are four or five of these thriving youngsters in a nest the labor involved in feeding them is prodigious. One careful observer watched a mother wren from sunrise to sunset of one day and saw her feed her fledglings 1,217 times.

Beaver Island Doctor to Retire

ST. JAMES, BEAVER ISLAND Mich.—Back before the turn of the 20th Century, a small boy in a Canadian farm town helped his widowed mother by selling papers, working in his uncle's store and washing down the country doctor's fine black buggy. Of all his jobs, he most of all enjoyed scrubbing of the buggy, because he was a "good chum" of the doctor, riding with him on sick calls, and often looking with wonder at the assortment of brightly colored pills in the doctor's miraculous black bag.

Today, Dr. Frank E. Luton, now 82 years old and scheduled to retire June 30 or shortly after as physician for historic Beaver Island, which lies in Lake Michigan off the shore from Charlevoix, says, "It may have been my boyhood hero worship of that country doctor which led me into medicine. But whatever it was, after 80 years of active medical practice, I'm mighty glad it all happened."

JUST SAY 'AH'—Pamela McDonough, 5 year old on Beaver Island, cooperates gladly with one of her favorite friends, Doctor Frank. E. Luton, who is retiring as Beaver Island physician June 30, 1961, or shortly after. Asked why the doctor came to see her, Pamela said ,"Because he likes me." Looking on is Pamela's mother, Mrs. Lawrence McDonough.

Dr. Luton wears a jaunty Captain's cap over his sparse white hair when he is on his island retreat, and his pale blue eyes have a perpetual twinkle to match his store of anecdotes about medicine at the turn of the century.

"In the spring," he says, "you could get out and walk along on the turf faster than your horse and buggy could plug through the mud."

"You wouldn't believe some of the things I saw in those days. Poultices made of fresh cow manure or even from the guts of black cats."

Dr. Luton's present post of Beaver Island physician is subsidized by the state through the Michigan Department of Health. In Lansing, Dr. Albert E. Heustis, Michigan State Health Commissioner, says: "Dr. Luton is much admired by all of us. I think his story should be told. It should be a real inspiration to any young folks considering health careers, and also for everyone interested in putting some good living into the gloden years of life. Here's a man who is young at 82. I think you can learn something from him."

Born January 13, 1879 on a 100 acre farm near the town of Belmont, Ontario, Canada, Frank E. Luton was youngest of a family of four children. He was four years old when his father died, and the family rented the farm and moved to Belmont, where Frank and the town doctor became fast friends. After attending Belmont Public Schools, young Frank went to the London Collegiate Institute in London, Ontario from 1893 to 1897, where he earned the equivalent of today's bachelor's degree. In 1897, he went on to take medicine at the Michigan College of Medicine and Surgery in Detroit, graduating and going into practice in 1901.

"They had the preceptor system in medicine at that time," Dr. Luton recalls. "You had class work, but you also learned by working with and under a practicing physician."

"Two experiences stand out. In 1899, I went to Dollar Bay up in Michigan's Copper Country for the summer to work under Dr. E. T. Abrams. This was back in the boom and bust days, and it was common to find two families crowded into a home scarcely big enough for four people.

"There was a terrible epidemic of meningitis in the Copper Country at the time, the worst since one reported in Philadelphia in 1871, and the people died like flies. This was quite an introduction to medicine.

"Then, in my senior year at medical school, I worked under Dr. A. D. Holmes in Detroit, who was physician to the newsboys' association. I tell you, what little I hadn't seen up in Dollar Bay I did see in Detroit. We had all kinds of disease to fight."

In 1901, his medical degree in hand, Dr. Luton began his practice in the small Huron County town of Kilmanagh, in the thumb area of Michigan, which was heavily populated with old country German families. There, in 1902 he was married,and later the Luton's only child, Dorothy, was born. His wife, Jessie, pitched in to help her young doctor make good in his practice.

"I always liked obstetrics," Dr. Luton says, "and tried to teach those people that cleanliness was next to Godliness. Jessie made me a large, wrap-around apron to work in, and she always baked it in the oven for a while and kept it freshly washed and ironed. How the women of that community giggled when they first saw me in that apron!

"That dude from the big City is just afraid to get his clothes dirty, 'they said.

From Kilmanagh, in 1911, Dr. Luton moved south to practice in Maple Rapids, a small Clinton county Michigan community. In 1917, he moved to nearby St. Johns, also in Clinton county where he practiced for the next 39 years. He held membership in the St. Johns Rotary Club, the Congregational church, was long active in the Shriners, and in his local, state and national medical societies.

"In the 1930's, when I was taking what amounted to some postgraduate training in two Chicago hospitals, the doctors, there were amazed with the record I had made of nineteen yeara of practice before having an obstetrical death. And in those early days I saw everything- - toxemias, forceps deliveries, and breech and face presentations. But when you practiced country medicine at that time, you could count on a great deal of help from the neighbor women. They'd stick with you and work almost like an R. N. today.

"I expect I've delivered 4,000 to 5,000 babies over these years, at least 4,000. It gives you a pretty good feeling."

Then, in 1958, Dr. Luton heard a radio news commentator mention the need for a doctor on Beaver Island, Michigan. Later, in mid-August of 1956, he stopped by at the Michigan Department of Health in Lansing for some supplies, and casually asked if the Island post had been filled. Within minutes, and somewhat to his own surprise, he found himself filling out an application form for the Beaver Island position, which is subsidized by the state through the Michigan Department of Health and now pays from $8,205 to $9,876 yearly, plus any fees collected from the approximately 200 year-around residents and from thousands of tourists. On October 28, 1956, Dr. Luton flew in to take up the Beaver Island practice.

"The Beaver Island people have been most wonderful and gracious," he says. "They are the nicest people in the world. When I first came to the island, we had a flu epidemic, with ten people down with it, but other than that, the cases have been pretty much mill run. And if anyone needs surgery or something we can't handle in the fine little island clinic, then Charlevoix is only 15 minutes away by air."

As Dr. Luton discovered, Beaver Island, the largest in an archipelago about 30 miles from Charlevoix, can be reached by air the year-around, and by ferry from April to January. The island is about 14 miles long and six miles wide at the widest point, and boasts some of the best fishing and hunting in Michigan, including both game and panfish, and deer, grouse, ducks, and geese.

Historically, the island outpost is famous for the Mormon colony established there in 1847 by James Strang, who ruled as King from 1850 to 1856, when he was killed by two of his followers. Many of the island residents now are descendants of the Irish fishermen who took over after King Strang's death.

Doctor Luton's dedication to medicine was at no time more obvious than in 1958, when he volunteered to make a drop from a helicopter to try to save the life of a sailor. The sailor was a crewman from the ill-fated cargo ship the Carl D. Bradley, which went down in Lake Michigan in November of 1958. The man was picked up by a freighter and when apparent signs of life were detected, an emergency call went out for a doctor. Doctor Luton, then nearing his 80th birthday, was about to be lowered to the deck of the pitching vessel when the crew signaled that the man was dead.

On the wall of his Beaver Island office is a telegram dated November 20, 1958, which reads: "Congratulations. You are living up to the finest traditions of the Michigan Department of Health and we continue to be proud of you as one of us.—Albert E. Heustis, M. D., State Health Commissioner, Michigan Department of Health.".

In mid-October of last year, after 59 years of marriage, Dr. Luton lost his wife Jessie, and two weeks later, his daughter, Dorothy, also died His grandson, Jack Luton McGregor, resides in Lansing, Michigan, and he also takes great pleasure in his great-grandson, Michael Luton McGregor, now 2½ years old.

The wide-eyed youngster who scrubbed down the doctor's buggy so long ago now looks back with undiminished enthusiam on a full 60 years of practicing medicine.

"Medicine is the greatest art and profession in the world, the most honorable calling a man can have, bar none," he says. "But now I realize I must retire, even though it's hard to do.

"I had hoped to go out with my boots on"

Beans—Navy beans are a famous Michigan crop that totaled 5.9 million 100-pound bags last fall—enough to fill 7,375 freight cars or the equivalent of 82 trainloads of 90 cars each.

By LES JOHNSON, Manager

MANY OF US who have watched the satellite Echo move across the night sky realize that the project gave America a clear lead in space communications. However, the longer we delay in setting up the first satellite system, the more we risk losing our lead.

The Bell Telephone System has offered to build and pay for experimental satellites. It is willing to pay for their launching and for the ground stations in the U. S. (Foreign ground stations would be owned by foreign communications agencies.) There would be no cost to the taxpayer.

The Bell System's Interest in space stems from the fact that a space communications system would be a natural extension of networks used in providing service to the public today. Bell seeks no monopoly and does not wish to exclude other international carriers either from establishing satellite communications systems or from sharing use of the system it proposes. This system would be operated under government regulation just as today's communications systems are operated.

What could offer a better means to serve the public's interest in a broader communications network for tomorrow!

EVER WONDER how a telephone lineman knows the safety strap he wears when working atop poles is dependable? Like all equipment our people use, the straps must meet rigid standards. Nothing is left to chance. These safety straps are made of several layers of tough fabric. When the outer layer wears thin, the contrasting color of the next layer shows it's time to get a new belt. A small thing—but one reason why telephone people are six times safer than th[illegible] other industries.

(and that's the car more people are buying!)—Take those June skies and breezes. Add a spankin' new Jet-smooth Chevy. Presto, you've got all the makings of a roamin' holiday. That low-loading deep-well trunk swallows up most everything you'd want to pack along. The carefully crafted Body by Fisher has you livin' in luxury (and in comfort-high seats where the sight-seein' comes easy). That Jet-smooth Chevy ride, with a sinewy Full Coil spring at each wheel, gentles you past all the wrinkles and ruts in the roads (there's even a team of over 700 behind-the-scenes "shock absorbers" to hush up road surface mumblings and grumblings). All in all, Chevy's light-steerin', easy-goin' ways just don't leave much for you to do but feel good. And that's exactly the way your Chevrolet dealer wants you to feel—as you can plainly see in those beautiful June buys he's got bustin' out all over.

Air conditioning—an extra-cost option that gives you fingertip temperature control. Try it.

Impala Convertible—just as saucy as you please and wide open for fun.

This is no fishtale. The 11-lb.,7-oz. lake trout held by Rey Sbearer (left) and George Shearar (right) was caught last week in Torch Lake. Third member of the party was Joe Williams who was not available for the picture.

Catching this big one may have been part luck and part skill but luck was with the angler in the fight to land him. The trout was hooked only through the skin of the lower jaw. He broke loose from the hook just as the landing net was scooped under him.

Final Rites Held Wednesday for Frank F. Bird

Frank F. Bird, 71, retired Charlevoix county register of deeds, died early Monday at Ford Hospital in Detroit where he had been a patient for two weeks. He had been in ill health for several years.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at the Winchester Funeral Home with the Rev. Raymond J. McBratnie officiating. Burial was in Brookside cemetery.

Born at Northville, S. D., July 8, 1889, Mr. Bird came to Charlevoix county in 1890. In 1913 he was married to the former Mary C. Gunsolus at Big Rapids. They always made their home here. He served as Register of Deeds from 1925 until his retirement Jan. 1 1947. Since his retirement he had been engaged in the development of Birdland Estates, a real estate development on the north shore of Lake Charlevoix.

He was a member of the First Methodist church and a member of its board of trustees; a charter member of the Charlevoix Kiwanis Club with a perfect attendance record for 18 years; chairman of the Charlevoix county Social Welfare Board and was active in Republican circles.

He is survived by his wife, Mary C.; three sons, Devere of Adrian, Kenneth F. of Wayne and Douglas W. of Ann Arbor; 11 grandchildren; two great-grandchildren and three brothers, Elmer N. of Boyne City, H. G. of Traverse City and Robert J. of Carmichael, Calif.

Charlevoix county offices and local business places closed during the hour of the funeral.

The family suggests that persons wishing to honor the memory of Mr. Bird do so in the form of a contribution to the First Methodist church.

E. J. School Gets Part Of Ironton District

The transfer of 1,134 acres of land owned by 13 property owners from the Ironton school district to the East Jordan school district was approved by the Charlevoix county board of education following a hearing recently at the county building here.

The transfer was approved after seven resident property owners who own 490 acres petitioned the county board of education to authorize the transfer. The remaining property included in the transfer totals 644 acres owned by six property owners, four of whom are non-resident owners. Robert C. Wilson of Akron, Ohio, a summer resident and a non-resident owner, is the largest single property owner with 313 acres.

Resident property owners have 10 days from the time of the transfer, June 7, to appeal to the State Board of Education which could call a hearing and make final determination. As of Wednesday no appeal had been made.

The request for the transfer of the property which was approved last week resulted from a squabble among the residents of the Ironton school district after the Ironton school attended by 22 students in the kindergarten through the sixth grades was closed in April by the State Fire Marshall's office. When this happened some of the district wanter to build another school while others felt that the district should annex to either the Charlevoix or East Jordan school district or both depending on the location of their property.

In a special election held June 6 voters of the district vetoed a proposal to annex the entire district to the East Jordan school district by a 66 to 24 vote.

Foreseeing such a possibility, seven property owners including two members of the Ironton school board, William Warstler, secretary and Mrs. Wayne Saunders, trustee petitioned the county board of aducation for the transfer of the 1,134 acre block of property to the East Jordan school district.

A large delegation of Ironton residents attended the hearing which continued for three hours before a decision was reached.

The transfer of 40 acres of property from the Ironton school district to the Charlevoix school district requested by Thomas Louiselle was approved.

JUNE IN MICHIGAN

by Harold E. Kohn

Tough and Tender

Late spring is good season for observing life's strange, self-contradictory delicacy and toughness. Now throughout our woods eggs are hatching and fledgling birds are clumsily testing their wings in flight. Every birdling now taking wing has passed through a crisis. A few degrees drop in temperature or a cold rain on the unguarded nest would have snuffed out the spark of life in any one of our winged neighbors before it had burst into full flame.

Young fawns that teeter unsteadily on spindly legs and romp joyfully on the banks of our stream are, like all deer, confronted almost daily by a devilish peril in a small, predaceous fly that lays eggs in the nostrils of deer. When the eggs hatch and maggots develop they shut off the breathing of these lovely creatures, suffocating them.

But most eggs hatch. Most birdlings live to fly. Most fawns grow into lithe does or majestic bucks. How easily tender young things are spoiled and die. Yet, how tenaciously they hang onto life.

Life is tough as well as tender. If you doubt it, try keeping dandelions out of your lawn and your garden free from weeds. Drive the little red ants from your woodshed. Then turn your back upon them as if your were done. I dare you. Watch how very long a catfish lives when taken from its native waters. Notice the awesome fecundity of ground-nesting birds that compensate for loss of eggs and chicks to marauders by laying extra eggs, thus assuring the prepetuity of their race.

And remember how great a traffic of splendid images travels toward the brain over the fragile, slender bridge we know as the "optic nerve." Yet the strain does not sag or snap the structure—not even the aching burden of the glory of spring.

Life is tough, and life is tender, and the wondrous contradiction is never more apparent than in the first weeks of June.

SOME THINGS TO NOTICE THIS WEEK:

- Observe the undulating flight of some of our feathered summer visitors, especialy the goldfinches. Why this up and down motion? Nearly all the weak flyers have this characteristic, and it is caused by alternating flapping the wings with brief pediods of gliding. Gliding for a split-second conserves the bird's limited supply of energy.
- Notice the tracks of such walking birds as the ruffed grouse and the pheasant and compare them with the tracks of such perching birds as the song sparrow and chickadee. You will see that the walking birds leave little, if any, mark with their hind toes which are attached to the foot high than their other claws, while the perching birds leave a hind-toe print, because this claw is attached to the foot on a level with all the other claws for help in grasping limbs and twigs.

Voice of our readers

Dear Editor

I'd like some information concerning our school, and I hope to get the answers through your good paper.

We will be asked to vote for extra millage this school election next month. The school needs one extra mill to qualify for state aid, and two mills for operating expenses. Are the tax payers going to vote on these seperately? If not. Why? Also, Why does Charlevoix need the extra 2 mills on a valuation of $14,670,279—(1961 Valuation) and about 950 students—(1960 Statistics) when our good neighbor, Boyne City can get along on 8 mills and they have a valuation of only $10,047,659—for 1961 and nearly 200 more students?

Scout Troop 11 Takes 1,000 Mile Canadian Trip

Boy Scouts of Troop 11 and their adult advisors, Scoutmaster Louis Edwards and Robert Bergmann, chairman of the Scout committee, returned home Monday evening from a 1,000 mile four-day trip through Canada.

Leaving here via two cars and camping trailer, the 12 Scouts and their leaders left here Friday morning, crossed the Mackinac Bridge and visited the locks at Sault Ste. Marie before crossing to the Canadian Soo. At Bling River they visited a sawmill, watching the operation from the time the logs were removed from the river until they emerged from mill as rough cut lumber.

Upon their orrival in Sudbury, Ont., they were met by a member of Scout committee and escorted to a city park where they camped for the night. During the evening they were visited by the Scoutmaster and several adult leaders and a troop of Boy Scouts in the same age group. The adults spent the evening discussing the Scouting program and the Scouts spent their time swapping. The following morning they were visited by reporters from local newspapers who did a picture story on them.

Saturday night was spent at a Scout camp outside Midland where they were visited by the Scoutmaster.

Sunday night they stayed at a provincial park near Sarnia. The threat of a storm broke up camp at 5 a.m., giving the travelers an early start. After a stop in Sarnia, Ont., they crossed the Blue Water Bridge and headed for home.

Enroute they visited spots of interest, toured cities and camped along the way, cooking all their

To Depart for Europe Friday

Two Charlevoix high school students will depart Friday via air from the Metropolitan Airport in Detroit for Europe where they will spend the summer under the Youth for Understanding program sponsored by the Michigan Council of Churches.

Both will spend the summer in Germany. Sharon will be with the Alfons Bergenthal family in the large industrial city of Dortmund located east of the Rhine in north central Germany.

Tony will spend the summer with the J. H. Claus Thormahlen family of Moorhusen Bei Elmshorn, Holstein, north of Hamburg in the agricultural area of Germany. The family has four sons.

The pair will make the trip with other exchange students. They will leave Detroit Friday evening, landing in Amsterdam, Holland the following day after stops at Gander, Newfoundland, and Shannon, Ireland. They will spend two days in Amsterdam before going to their foster homes for the summer. They will live with the German families and tour the nearby countyside, returning home late in August to complete their senior year in high school.

Sharon is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Novotny and Tony the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Duerr. Their respective parents will take them to southern Michigan to join their flight.

Schedule Three Guest Speakers at Methodist Church

Three guest ministers will fill the pulpit of the First Methodist church in the absence of the pastor, the Rev. Raymond J. McBratnie during the next three weeks it was announced this week.

On Sunday Dr. Lester A Kilpatrick, vice president of the Bay View Association, will speak on the subject "The Christian Climate".

On June 25, the Rev. Heath Goodwin, district superintendent of the Grand Traverse district, will be the guest minister. His sermon subject will be "Power Through Prayer". He was minister of the Ionia Methodist church for eight years and executive secretary of the board of education in the Michigan Conference prior to his present appointment last year.

On July 2, Dr. William H. Helrigel, former district superintendent who retired from the ministry last month, will fill the pulpit. His sermon topic will be "Two Wash Basins". A native of Charlevoix county, he has served Boyne City, Parchment, and Grand Rapids.

Rev. and Mrs. McBratnie and daughter, Sharon, left Thursday enroute to San Francisco, Calif., to join their son, Hugh, a hospital corpsman aboard the USS Coral Sea which has returned to the west coast from a 10-months tour in the Pacific. He will return home with them.

Rev. McBratine will return July 6 and on the following Sunday will return to the pulpit to speak on the subject "Life's Opportunities".

BOUGHT RITE

We are constantly reminding you, "The Lady Who Pushes The Cart," of the tender, flavorful quality of IGA TableRite Meats. In the case of meat, as well as many foods, it is necessary that you begin with quality. The many IGA beef selectors buying beef in the various markets throughout the country choose only naturally aged, cornfed beef. This assures you and your family of complete enjoyment at meal time.

Tablerite Sliced Bacon 1-lb. pkg. 55c

TRIMMED RITE

Naturally it takes a certain amount of fat to guarantee you and your family a tender, flavorful meal. But no one likes to pay for excess fat and bone on any cut of meat.

This is where the men in your IGA Meat Department enter the picture. Their experience and schooling has given them the advantage of knowing just how much to trim off of a cut of meat to allow for maximum consumer satisfaction. They are experts in preparing the varied cuts you see in the meat cases every day in your IGA Store. To add to the value you get when you purchase IGA TableRite Meats all cuts are weighed after trimming, thus giving you more edible meat for your buying dollar.

Shell experts test for knock by accelerating up steep grade. In another test, that "fifth wheel" in the back is lowered onto the road to measure mileage precisely.

TOP PERFORMANCE:

Shell test crew reveals five ways to test your car for top performance—and how the 9 ingredients in today's Super Shell can help you get it

To John Baker and John Watson (below) of Shell Research, top performance is a scientific standard. They measure it with precision instruments. But any good driver can run a version of their basic tests. Here are five they recommend.

Test #1. Quick starting

Count the seconds it takes to start your car. The engine should "snap to" in about two to three seconds. A slow start drains your battery. And it may flood your cylinders, causing performance troubles.

If your engine is balky, try Super Shell. It's blended with a frisky ingredient called Butane—to give you quick, easy starts.

Test #2. Smooth running

Pay close attention to your engine in traffic.

Does it vibrate roughly when you stop for a traffic light? Does it seem to "surge" as you pull away, then falter and fade?

The problem may be the wrong blend of gasoline.

In summer, for example, excessive heat can make winter grade gasoline bubble in the fuel line. Bubbles can interfere with the flow, causing rough running.

Test #3. Reserve power

On a turnpike, in light traffic, accelerate suddenly from about thirty miles an hour to the legal limit. Now ask yourself:

1. Did your car accelerate smoothly—with no faltering, no bogging down?

2. Do you have plenty of power to spare?

Super Shell now contains 2 octone boosters, 1 mileage booster, 1 quick-start component, 1 fast warm-up ingredient, 1 anti-knock mix, 1 gum preventive, 1 anti-stall ingredient, and new, improved TCP. These nine ingredients all work together to give your car top performance.

Test #4. Knock

Accelerate up a long, steep hill and listen carefully. If you hear a sound like marbles falling into an empty oil drum, you've got knock. It could cause engine trouble.

Test #5. Miles per gallon

Don't trust your fuel gauge when you measure miles per gallon. Take these three simple steps and be sure.

1. Start your test by filling your tank. Make sure the gasoline comes up to the brim. Write down your mileage reading.

2. Drive in your normal manner for at least three tankfuls—keeping a record of the exact amount you buy.

3. Finally, fill your tank to the brim again. Add up all the gallons you've bought (not counting the initial fill-up in step 1.) Divide this amount into your total miles driven. This gives you your miles per gallon.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

What's in a Name?

Smiley Roberts let us in on one of his story-telling secrets the other night. He was coming to the punch line of one of his tales when Curly Rice piped up.

"It wasn't Skinny Wheeler who stopped that runaway horse," he says, "I ought to know 'cause it was my dad."

"Guess you caught me," says Smiley. "You see, if I can't think of the right name I just fill in quick with any one that pops into my head. If I hem-and-haw trying to think of a name, you fellows will lose interest. Besides, names are just details and don't affect the point of the story one bit."

From where I sit, Smiley's system teaches a lesson about living with our neighbors. Details about people aren't as important as we make them. If someone doesn't vote the way I do, or share my preference for a glass of beer, I shouldn't let it interrupt our friendship. Understanding that people have a right to be different is the "secret" of the "true story" of life.

What Grows Goes By Truck!

Like Michigan's factories, offices, shops and homes, her important farming industry depends on motor transport. Trucks play a vital part in getting crops planted, cared for, and harvested —and they are the means by which the harvest gets to market. For example, nearly 90% of fruits and vegetables moving into Detroit come directly by truck. And this is relatively true of other cities throughout Michigan. . . . In addition, virtually all farm products travel by truck at least part of the way to market. So you see how very much the dynamic farming industry relies on the trucking industry in this great State of ours.

Freedman's Consider Moving Plant to Meet Competition

The past week has brought both sunshine and shadows to the future economic picture in this community. Last week the Charlevoix Development signed an agreement to loan $25,000 to a firm that proposes to construct and operate a new industry in the immediate vicinity. The shadows are cast by the information that Freedman Artcraft Engineering Corp. is seriously considering an attractive offer to move elsewhere, according to Harold M. Totten, president of the Charlevoix Development Corp.

Gordon L. Freedman, president of Freedman Artcraft Corp. has discussed the problems faced by his firm with the city council and directors of the Charlevoix Development Corp., and outlined the local support needed for an expansion program to meet competition from manufacturers in other states. He has told both groups that if favorable conditions can not be provided here, it will be necessary to accept an offer from a community in the mid-south.

He has presented a four point program as essential to the continued operation of the firm here. It included:

1. Expansion and modernization of the Charlevoix airport;
2. Electric power rates in line with those offered by the larger public utility companies;
3. Adjustments in the personal property taxes which are assessed on equipment, raw materials and manufactured products warehoused for future delivery;
4. Additional adjacent property to expand the present plant and centralide all manufacturing and warehousing in one location.

Recent action by the city council indicates the first two requests can be completed satisfactorily. An adjustment was made on the personal property tax last year by the board of review, according to Russell Curtiss, county tax co-ordinator. He said however he would not venture an opinion as to the action the board might take this year.

The two parcels of land required for the Freedman expansion include a plot 123x125 feet located adjacent to the south property line and a strip 50x660 feet bordering the north property line. If these properties can be acquired by the Charlevoix Development Corp., Freedman Artcraft has offered to buy on a time basis with interest on the unpaid balance. This will require raising additional funds for this project.

"We should be as concerned about keeping an industry we have as we are about getting new industries," Mr. Totten stated. "While the Development corporation has participated financially in establishing one very good industry in the community and committed itself to support another new industry, I want to point out that in both cases we merely made loans on a definite contract. We should do no less for an established firm that contributes heavily in taxes, purchase of electric power and supports a sizeable payroll, all of which is imperative for the economy of the community."

Directors of the Charlevoix Development Corp. last week Tuesday authorized the president and secretary to negotiate a loan to the prospective industrial firm in the amount of $25,000 to be paid back at the rate of $5,000 a year with interest at the rate of three percent on the unpaid balance. To carry out the commitment, the development corporation will ask community supporters to buy debentures bearing three per cent interest and redeemable in five annual installments. Borrowing the money in this manner will enable the corporation to pass the intrest earnings on to the holders of the debentures. As a non-profit corporation dividends can not be paid on the stock held by shareholders.

Directors last week also authorized the treasurer to redeem all stock beginning July 1, held by stockholders who resuested to withdraw from the corporation in reply to official notices mailed Most of the stockholders indicated their willingness to leave their money in the corporation for future industrial development. Others who had asked for their money have since indicated their desire to support the new industry.

To finance the loan for a new industry, the Charlevoix Development Corp. will have to sell debentures in the amount of approximately $15,000. This added to the $10,000 left in the treasury by stockholders who have not asked to cash their certificates will make up the $25,000 needed when the new industrial plant is completed. Tentative date for completion has been set for this fall by company executives.

Debenture are being prepared and will be available to persons wishing to help in bringing a new industry to Charlevoix.

City Band to Present Concert In East Park Wed.

The Charlevoix City Band, directed by C. A. Odmark, will begin its summer schedule of weekly "Concerts in the Park" Wednesday June 28, a week earlier than in past years it was announced this week.

The musical group voted at its regular rehearsal session Monday to open a week earlier, thus giving music lovers a full complement of concerts, even should one be cancelled because of inclement weather.

The band of more than 40 pieces rehearses the year around in preparation for the summer concerts. The band is composed of a nucleus of adult musicians of the community augmented by selected members of the high school band and supplemented by returning college students, summer visitors, and players from several neighboring communites including Petoskey, Ellsworth and East Jordan.

The band prides itself on playing a different program of the finest of band literature each week. During the course of the summer season, the band will present more than 120 different compositions at its 11 scheduled concerts.

The concert series is sponsored by the city of Charlevoix for the enjoyment of its summer visitors and permanent residents. Band members contribute their talents and services to this outstanding series of "Concerts in the Park" presented at 8:30 p.m. each Wednesday.

Council Asking For Bids on New City Garage

The Charlevoix city council, at its meeting Monday night, voted to advertise for bids for the construction of the new city street department garage on Stover road. Bids will be accepted until 6 p.m. Monday July 3. Plans and specifications for the one-story concrete block building may be obtained at the offices of the city clerk or the city superintendent at the city hall. The building will be 50x100 ft. in size and will replace the garage formerly located on May st. south of the May st.-Garfield ave. intersection which was removed from property owned by the school district when the new junior-senior high school was built.

In other action the council gave its approval to an addition to Edwards Food Mart located at Petoskey ave. and Burns st. Because the store has both S.D.D. and S.D.M. licenses, copies of the resolution are to be forwarded to the Michigan Liquor Control Commission.

Mayor E. D. Hawley's appointment of Mrs. Gordon (Luella) Bartlett as deputy city treasurer was given unanimous approval.

Approval also was given the appointment of Louis Gravelin and L. E. McGhan as special police officers at the Belvedere club.

A resolution setting rates for lots, plots and services at Brookside and St. Mary's cemeteries was approved. The rates have been in effect for more than a year and are as follows: for residents of the city: roadside lots of five, $180; interior lots of five, $150; 10 burial lot, $400; one, two and three interior burial plots, $40, $80 and $120, respectively; one, two and three roadside burial plots, $45, $90 and $135, respectively; one burial plot for a baby, $10.

Opening of burial for baby up to two years, $10; opening for child two to 12 years, $20 and for an adult, $40; Sunday grave openings and openings for winter burials between Nov. 15 and Apr. 1 are double usual price.

The price of burial lots and plots for non-residents, i.e., anyone living outside the city limits, is double the price charged city residents who support the cost of the service through taxes.

There is no charge for the use of the chapel unless the body is to be removed later to another cemetery. The cost of the use of chapel facilities and the storage vault has been set at $20.

A written permit must be ontained from the office of the city clerk and given the cemetery sexton before a grave may be opened.

The city will purchase any plot or lot in either cemetery not needed or wanted by its present owner at the rate of $10 per plot.

Bills totaling $30,946.98 were approved and ordered paid. The amount includes $5,551 for repair of two slips in the yacht basin between Mason and Antrim sts; $776.25 for diesel fuel oil; $3,765.26 transfer of accounts receivable; $1,108.67 payment for city-used utilities and $3,606. payment to Lake Construction Co. for the clubhouse at the municipal golf course now under construction.

Harry Boak Pleads Guilty To Charge of Manslaughter

A warrant charging Harry Boak, 42, a native of this community and an auto body repairman, with manslaughter in the death of Julius J. Wasageshik, 46, Saturday night was issued Tuesday by Charlevoix county prosecuting attorney Harvey C. Varnum.

The warrant was issued after a confession was obtained from Boak following several hours of questioning by Mr. Varnum, Chief of Police Joseph L. Smith, Sherriff Glenn E. Rose and Detective William Simmons of the Traverse City State Police Post.

Boak had been picked up late Sunday for questioning by law enforcement officers after an autopsy performed at Little Traverse Hospital revealed Wasageshik's death was due to a skull fracture and cerebral hemorrhage resulting from a severe blow on the head with a blunt instrument. Wasageshik's body was found lying along a little used road in a field between Garfield ave. and Robinson st. a short distance from the home of George Shananaquet. Boak was among more than 25 persons questioned and one of four taken to the State Police post in Traverse City for polygraph tests Monday. He was held after the tests proved inconclusive. His confession came after 4 p.m. Tuesday following more than six hours of continious questions by Mr. Varnum and the law enforcement officers.

Later Thursday Boak appeared before Justice John J. Connolly in Justice Court. He waived examination and was bound over to the August term of circuit court. He was remanded to the county jail after failing to furnish $10.000 bond.

Wasageshik's body was found at 10 p.m. Saturday after Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Skippergosh reported seeing the body along the road while driving through the area. They had not stopped to investigate but called police after returning to their home in Marion township.

Patrolman Kenneth Sweet investigated and found Wasageshik dead. Dr. G. B. Saltonstall, acting coroner, who was called to examine the body, estimated the time of death at about 6 p.m. Boak later said that the fight which resulted in Wasageshik's death happened about 6:30 p.m.

Repeated questioning of area residents by local officers, Det. Simmons and State Police of the Petoskey post placed Boak at the scene of the crime. In his confession Tuesday he said that a fight in the Shananaquet yard followed an argument about the purchase of more wine for the trio who had been drinking together for some time. Boak said he struck Wasageshik with his fist and that he 'fell down hard and didn't get up'.

Wasageshik was a native of Beaver Island where he was born Aug. 9, 1914. A brother, Enos, who also lives here, said that Julius had been partially paralyzed at the result of an illness when he was eight years old. He came here from Beaver Island with his mother, Mrs. William Wasageshik, about five years ago and since then had lived on West Robinson st. His mother has been visiting a daughter in Kentucky for some time.

Besides his mother, he is survived by two brothers, Enos of this city and William of Walled Lake and four sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Jordan and Mrs. Eva Shambeau of Pasadena, Calif., Mrs. Mable Archer of Farmington and Mrs. Edna Bastin of Sanford, Ky.

Records reveal that Boak has been questioned in the past regarding the violent deaths of two other persons. In 1940 he was questioned in the death of a Petoskey resident following a fight in which he was involved. Later he was questioned in the death of a former local resident, Alex Bolton, whose body was found in a sewer in Detroit. Both times he was released because of insuffecient evidence.

Funeral Services To Be Held Today for Mrs. Richard Meyer

Mrs. Richard Meyer, 69, lifelong resident of this community, died Tuesday at the Charlevoix hospital where she had been a patient for one day. She had been in failing health for several years.

Funeral services will be held at the Winchester Funeral Home at 2 p.m. Thursday. Burial will be in Brookside cemetery.

Born in Charlevoix Feb. 19 1692, the former Pauline A. McFarland was married to Milton Block who preceded her in death in 1950. In November 1956 she was married to Mr. Meyer.

She was a member of the First Methodist church and a life member of the Charlevoix Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star.

Besides her husband, she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Harold DeJongh of Holland and Mrs. Elwood Zavitz of Birmingham; two grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. Gerald Lowing of Oak Park, Mich.

Sea Scouts Now Have Ship Donated By US Coast Guard

A dream has come true for the Charlevoix Sea Scouts. They now have their own ship—a 30 - foot rescue vessel with cabin and inboard motor. The 14 year old vessel, which is in very good condition except for the paint, was donated to the Local Sea Scouts by the U. S. Coast Guard.

She arrived in her new home port Monday evening in tow of the "Helen W", a fish tug rented to the Scouts by William Baumgardner. The towing tug was crewed by Robert Sommerville, skipper of the Sea Scouts, Scout Jimmy Bergmann, Ron Richards, and Johnny Case.

The trip from Sault Ste. Marie to Charlevoix was long and strenuous, according to Skipper Sommerville. They left the Soo at 5 p.m., Saturday and arrived at St. Ignace at 5 a.m. Sunday where they were held up for three hours trying to locate motor fuel. The sailers met with strong winds and a high sea on their first attempt to leave St. Ignace. It was not until 8:30 p.m. Monday that they got started on the last leg of their trip and arrived at 6 p.m., covering a distance of only 57 miles.

The Sea Scouts now have work layed out for them getting their ship ready for inspection and we hope a public christening.

What is "Temporary"?

Webster defines the word "temporary" as meaning, "Lasting for a time only; existing or continuing for a limited time; not permanent; ephemeral; transitory."

But that definition, official as it is, does not seem to apply to the "temporary" increases in the federal tax on gasoline.

The latest of these supposedly "temporary" boosts became law about a year ago. It was for one cent a gallon, bringing the total federal tax to four cents. The cent increase was due to expire June 30.

Maybe it will—and maybe it won't. It is proposed to extend it again—no doubt on another "temporary" basis. Then, to add insult to injury, it is also proposed than an additional halfcent a gallon tax be tacked on. This, too, would be "temporary".

Well, if these efforts succeed, Webster should start defining "temporary", as it applies to gasoline taxation, as being a synonym for "permanent". The irony is that state and federal taxes combined on gasoline—which is an absolutely essential commodity—now average almost 50 per cent of the price of the fuel before tax. Out and out luxuries don't carry a tax anywhere near as heavy as that. The motorist is being made the goat—and it's high time he started bleating at the top of his lungs.

Destroying Ourselves By Inches.

Ralph T. Moore writes, in the Oregon Voter: "Our fondness for collectivism and its appurtenant togetherness serves the communist ambition well. For it weakens the sinews of our industrial power and tends to soften up the tone of our productive will. It also relieves the communist apparatus of much heavy expense since we voluntarily destroy ourselves by inches. The comrades have only to urge us on in the direction we seem to have chosen, that leading to the welfare-state."

Hardship From the Start.

As still as stones the newly born fawns lie in their wilderness nurseries. The spotted hides of the fragile creatures camouflage them, blending them perfectly with the sun-and-shade-dappied earth. And camouflaging is necessary for these youngsters since they are not always well-bidden by their mothers. While the poetic nature lovers picture the wise doe, heavy with fawn, seeking a quiet, secluded, ideally-protected delivery room, in actual practice the mother deer is woefully careless. The birth of her fawn occurs wherever she happens to be feeding or resting at the moment she begins labor. If the nursery is sometimes a secluded thicket or in a bed of ferns, that is because deer are thicket-lovers and fern fanciers. Fawns are found in such places because they are the favorite haunts of all deer. But does have also been known to drop their young so near a creek that their first awkward, feeble struggles to walk the fawns have fallen in streams and drowned. Wet, mosquito-ridden bogs have been made to serve as bassinets. Newly born fawns have been found in unsheltered, burned-over areas, suffering from exposure to the sun when ideal sites of grass and shade were located only a few hundred yards away. It's a tough world that deer must cope with, a world of too much wettness, a world often too dry, a world of excessive heat and bitter cold, a world of pests and predators, and fawns must learn to face hardship from the start.

SOME OBSERVATIONS FOR THIS WEEK:

- Although it is difficult to believe on a blistering hot summer's day, it is nevertheless true that the earth receives only about one part in two billion of energy produced by the sun. Yet this small fraction amounts to nearly five million horse power per square mile of the earth's surface.
- June is the month when the vast variety of plants in our world become apparent. How many kinds can you identify? An average botanist can recognize about one thousand kinds of plants by sight. A specialist may be able to identify as many as five thousand. Well over four hundred thousand different types of plants have been identified by the world's scientists, and the number increases by about five thousand per year.
- Attention gardeners! Some weed-weary wag has devised this rule for telling a weed from a worthwile plant: If you are in doubt about the plant cut it down. If it comes up again it's a weed.
- Something can be said in favor of poison ivy. Many birds love its berries and eat them without harm. Cows eat poison ivy leaves and thrive on them. This hated plant grows well on sand dunes and anchors down the shifting sand.
- On a dry day take a walk into a forest or an orchard. See how much more moist the air is there than elsewhere. The botanist Rutherford Platt has estimated that an orchard of forty mature apple trees will be dressed with about one hundred thousand leaves apiece. These forty trees will lift out of the earth a total of sixteen tons of water a day, or four gallons per tree each hour.

Voice of Our Readers . . .

Charlevoix Courier
Dear Mr. Totten:

After reading the facts of the "Cold War", in the Sunday Detroit Free Press and after reading the results of the surrounding communities in their school vote, I felt that I had to write this letter.

I quote from an article by Nicholas Shuman, "as President Lincoln said in 1863 and President Kennedy said in 1961—we are testing whether this nation can long endure. We are losing the Cold War. At the national military-industrial and educational conference in April, at which Adm. Burke spoke, one leading American after another reiterated that the first step toward taking the initiative in the Cold War is educating Americans to the dangers they face. There remain many others in private life in our 'affluent society' who are so self-satisfied, so comfortable, so content that they cannot be bothered with the realities and the dangers which surround them".

This article and many more point out so well that we are losing by our own power all that we hold dear to us. Education of our children is the tool that our enemies would like best to see DESTROYED. Can we be so complacent and stupid that we can't see this?

Alanson lost a school vote. East Jordan lost a school vote. Petoskey lost a school vote. Why do our schools ask for money? Surely with the cost of living so high it would also affect the schools.

In the communist countries the first step is educating the children in very adequate schools. The people have no choice or vote. Can we afford to let our silent enemies gain another point in this Cold War?

Quoting from an article by Jeanne Bellamy, "America's chance of beating communism depends on you . . . Because the strength of any free nation springs from the stamina and patriotism of its people."

Our children, our grand-children and our neighbors children need our help. This will be their battle and it is our duty to help fortify them. Pottiness, arguments and controversy are the tools God challenged us with along with freedom, love and righteousness.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. Gordon L. Freedman

REPORT from LANSING

BY

Rep. Clarence B. Meggison

It has been said that a legislative session should be judged, not by the number of laws it makes, but by the number that it discards, after study and debate on bills that are introduced. By this yard-stick the 1961 session of the Michigan Legislature would certainly measure up well, for it had a record number of bills introduced, both in the House and Senate, but added few new laws, most of the legislation passed was to revise or clarify present statutes.

Six hundred-eighty-one bills were introduced in the House, together with 33 joint resolutions and 65 concurrent resolutions. All of these items were considered in committee, where some of them were killed, but most of them were reported to the floor for the consideration of the entire House. Of this huge assortment of bills, 104 were approved by the House, and sent to the Senate, where they also were approved. 31 of these measures were given immediate effect by the House.

While the House was busy with its bills, the Senate had 395 bills introduced, 10 joint resolutions and 64 Senate resolutions. Forty-four of these measures were approved in the House. Many measures were in conference committees during recess between May 11 and June 6. Out of the whole thing there will be something less than a half-dozen new laws.

It is easy to jump to the conclusion that the Legislature is not working hard. Most of the real work of the members is done in committee rooms, often with out comment by press or other news media, of the long hours of study, holding hearings, and then discussion by members of the committee, before bills are released for action by the entire membership. Without this exhaustive study and work, legislation would be impossible, and the feverish activity which would result if all of this were to be done on the floor, might to the unitiated, be considered work, and activity, the net result would be chaos.

It is always interesting to those in the galleries, when there is a lively debate on the floor of the House, and often visitors probably wonder why so many of the members appear to be doing everything but paying attention to what the speaker is talking about. We soon learn that such oratory produces far more noise than light about any of the subjects. Any member who is anxious to serve both his state and his constituents has already studied the committee reports, and isn't being misled by the floor debates.

Some of the measures that brought out lively debate on the floor during the present session were bills to set up new unemployment compensation rates, together with changes in the present law to clarify the intent of the Legislature, which would have repealed the Supreme Court decision in the Ford-Canton case, and would have set new standards which would have compelled those whose employees were a heavy drain on the fund, to pay a higher rate. Another measure that brought lively debate, and it had bi-partisan flavor, was a bill that would have allowed cities and other local government to set up an income tax. What brought out the oratory was an amendment that would have prevented collecting from people living outside their corporation boundaries, although they may have been employed in the city.

We had quite a flurry over the action of the Governor in ordering the State Police to stop sponsoring the showing of the film, "Operation Abolition", and its companion film, both dealing with communist activities in this country. How to regulate milk prices to stop use of milk as a "loss leader" in the states big super-markets, and a bill to give the state's potato growers the machinery to get better quality of Michigan potatoes for market, also brought out considerable discussion.

The big debates were on appropriations, and the companion tax measures. The Governor had recommended high appropriations for almost every department than present tax laws would yield in revenues. His answer was that we needed a state income tax. The Republicans refused to buy this, insisting that when the people had voted the one-cent increase in the sales tax, they did so in the belief that they were making a choice between a sales tax and an income tax.

However, the resulting publicity leaves some still thinking that the Legislature did not provide adequately for state services, particularly higher education. There has been a constant pressure on the Legislature to disregard fiscal responsibility, and appropriate more money than anticipated revenues. These pressures have been resisted. It should be noted that for these various state services, including higher education, we did appropriate more than $40 millions more the last year. This hardly seems like "irresponsible cutting" of state services that you hear about so often.

The truth of the matter is, that appropriations were adequate to meet the need of the state, including higher education. It is the purpose of the Legislature to keep a watch on how these state agencies use the funds they have been given. If they should curtail essential services, as some have threatened, there will be a reckoning when they come to the next session for their appropriations.

Republican members of the Legislature are determined that there shall be, not only fiscal responsibility, where expenses can be met by revenues that have been approved, but that there shall be some accounting as to how these funds shall be spent. We think that the people have a right to know why so much money is needed and how it is spent.

MOLD AND BRAVES WIN OPENERS

It took nine inings for the opening game of the fastball softball season to be decided. American Mold put together three singles, coupled with an error to score a run in the ninth inning for a 2-1 win over Freedman Artcraft. Joe McDermott's bases-loaded single drove home the winning tally. Earlier Harvey Cole and Scott Supernaw picked up one baggers to set the stage for McDermott's game-winning hit. Pitchers Nate Boss and Bob Klooster matched pitch for pitch practically, with Boss striking out 16 Freedman hitters, and Klooster whiffing eleven Moldmen.

Mold's Ken Boss scored an unearned run in the second, while Freedman picked up their run in the sixth on Bob Klooster's single after a John Swanson double.

In the peanut league opener the Barnard Braves stopped a Dodger winning streak that was started last year and handed them their first loss after twelve straigh wins. Stewart Cunningham had the big bat for the winners with three hits, one a home run. John Ferguson of the Dodgers slammed a grand slam home run in a losing cause.

A. Odmark. director of music, has announced.

While at camp the pair, who will be senior majorettes of the high school band this fall, will attend classes in twirling, marching, correct signals for street activities and other seminars dealing with problems of the marching band.

This is the first time that Charlevoix majorettes have attended the school. When they return to school this fall, they will coach the junior majorettos, Barbara Schwab and Connie Saltonstall, new routines. They will also conduct twirling classes during the coming school year for band members who will be candidates for majorette positions with the band.

The camp fees have been underwritten by the Charlevoix Band Parents Association.

The Town Without A Newspaper

What happens to a town without a newspaper? Arthur Carstens, publisher of the Eaton Rapids Journal, published a pointed answer in his personal column reprinted here—Editor's Note.

Folks in a small community like ours pertty much take their newspaper for granted. Come fire, flood or calamity, their newspaper is always delivered at the proper time. It's just about as sure a bet as that tomorrow is bound to come.

But just this week I read about a town that got fooled. Their newspaper, nearly 100 years old, died. This little town in southwestern New York state didn't make too much fuss about it—at first. Then suddenly it began to dawn on everybody that "the vital spark had gone" from their town.

What's it like to live in a town "where time stands still"? Here are comments gathered—from various segments of that town:

A leading businessman said: "We are just drifting . . . no direction . . . no enthusiasm . . no public leadership . . possibly no future."

More Individual Reactions

A farmer said . . . "Now who knows what's going on anyplace around town, or what the stores have to offer? I don't even know what friends are still alive or when our groups have meetings and when they do, what happens. Sure, the city daily tells me what's happening all over the world, but I don't know anything about my own friends and neighbors."

A housewife said . . . "Outside of the usual backdoor gossip, who knows what's happening? Sure, kids are born, someone gets married, and others die, but who knows about it?"

Another wife asked, "Who gets any credit for doing all the things that must be done, at church, at school or at the club? Who knows about anybody? Never realized how nice it was to have that weekly of ours. . . "

One of the leading ministers: "No one knows what's happening outside of our own congregation. We know more about the outside world than we know about our own community and its people. It's like only half living to be without your own community news. How do you get people interested in community projects? Public recognition is so very necessary. And now who knows about what's happening in the Boy and Girl Scouts, the 4-H clubs and all the rest? What incentives are there for people to work outside of their own group? How de we know who stands for what and why? What about community projects, so necessary to our well being? We are just standing still, going no place, and seeming not to care."

One store-keeper said: "Our weekly; sure I advertised, every now and then Mostly then Always too busy. Now I wish I had. I can't do business today like my father used to . . . can't make any announcement of new lines I'm taking, or any special price offerings, or new products. Sure, I use the pennysaver, but that's just for bargains. Sure wish we had our own weekly back."

A non-advertiser moans: No sir, nothing takes the place of the newspaper. I used to read it all the time, but wasn't smart enough to use it. Now the wife blames me for not supporting it, so she could find out what was doing around our town. We sure miss it."

A Thriving Community

Thus it went: No information of the political campaigns, no leadership in community drives.

John Wanamaker, the famous merchant, once said: "Give me a strong newspaper, and I'll show you a thriving town. Show me a weak newspaper, and I'll show you a town that's going backward. No community is any stronger than its own newspaper . . . the life blood of every community."

You, our editor, spends from 60 to 70 hours a week on our community newspaper. At least one-third of those hours are devoted to purely public service.

Just thought the folks would like to know what happens to a town when its newspaper dies. Could be we need to think about it a bit.

How To's for Campers

Tricks-of-the-trade make camping easier and more enjoyable. In upper left, for example, the family checks off all equipment before loading up. At the campsite, left, sticks and stubble are removed before the tent is pitched. Tent stakes are driven, lower left, at an angle so they will hold better. Below, canned goods are stacked near the ground, paper-wrapped foods off the grouod, to prevent moisture damage. At top right, bowline knots make clotheapins unnecesssry and hold just as well.--Mich. Dept. of Conservation

Special Meeting Called by P.T.A.

A special meeting of the Charlevoix P.T.A. has been called for 8 p.m. Tuesday at the high school band room in order to explain the need for a three mill tax levy in order to meet the 1961-62 budget and to quality for State Aid, Mrs. J. L. Feindt, president of the P. T.A. has announced.

The proposal for the three mill levy will appear on the ballot in the forthcoming July 10 school election when residents of the school district will be asked to vote on the issue and to elect two members to the Charlevoix board of education for four year terms. Candidates for the posts are incumbent, Gordon L. Freedman, Joseph Martincheck of Marion township and Ervin Racignol, of this cytl. Incumbent Albert H. Smith decided at the last minute not to seek re-election to the board.

The P.T.A. was asked by the board of education to take over the task of informing the public of the need for the three mill tax levy because it is an organized group through which other persons can be reached, Mrs. Feindt said Tuesday following a meeting of the P.T.A. executive committee with the school board. The meeting, however, is not confined to P.T.A. memberhip for each member is being asked to bring one or more interested persons to the meeting at which several resource persons will be present to answer questions regarding the need for the millage.

One of the three mills in necessary if the school is to qualify for full participation in the State Aid program which demands that participating schools receive a full eight mills in county taxes in order to qualify for full participation in the program. Charlevoix county schools received seven mills, one-half mill less than in 1960, thus making it necessary to supplement this millage or suffer the loss of a percentage of State Aid Revenue.

Pre-school enrollment of kindergarteners has reached a record high of 99 which may also necessitate adding a new instructor to the faculty to care for this increase in enrollment.

All persons interested in the school, whether members of the P.T.A. or not, are urged to attend this important meeting at 6 p.m. Tuesday at the high school band room.

Charlevoix H. S. Graduating Class of 1961

Beach Hotel to Host Three Conventions Next Week

The Charlevoix Beach Resort Hotel will be host to three conventions during the coming week which are expected to attract more than 600 guests to the community.

A three-day meeting of the Michigan Credit Union League will open at the popular resort hotel today (Thursday). Approximately 70 members and guests have reservations for this conference.

On Sunday more than 300 members and guests from throughout the entire state will begin arriving for the annual convention of the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police. Charlevoix Chief of Police Joseph L. Smith will be host to this group which will be in session until Wednesday when they will depart for their respective homes.

Immediately following this group later Wednesday will be more than 200 members and guests of the Michigan Justices of the Peace Association. This convention will be in session for three days through Friday.

Earlier The American Cancer Society held a conference at the hotel, according to the new ownermanagers, Mr. and Mrs. Scott L. Wilson who last fall purchased the popular resort hotel from Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Kramer who had operated it since 1945.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are well known in hotel circles, having been in the business for many years. They first came to northern Michigan as managers of the Belvedere Hotel. Since 1950 they have owned and operated the Wequetonsing Hotel on Little Traverse Bay.

Lifeguards to be Stationed at Three Bathing Beaches

Lifeguards will assume their duties on Charlevoix three major bathing beaches this weekend, weather permitting, City Supt. James Taylor has announced.

The lifeguards will man the beaches at the North side at the depot, Lake Michigan at the municipal bathhouse and the Ferry ave. beach from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 to 6 p.m. daily, Mr. Taylor said.

Unless the weather is cold and rainy, the lifeguards will begin their duties Saturday.

Bishop Bennison To Officiate at Confirmation Sun.

The Rt. Rev. Charles E. Bennison, D.D., Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Western Michigan, will be in Charlevoix Sunday to officiate at the annual Confirmation services at Christ Episcopal church.

The special service is scheduled for 4 p.m. Sunday.

Make Electric Fencers Safe

Safe installation of electric fence controllers can save Michigan farmers thousands of dollars in fire loss every year. Always install a controller approved by the Underwriters Laboratories or the Industrial Commission of Wisconsin. "Weedburner" type fence controllers are not approved and are a constant fire hazard to farm buildings and crops and should never be installed inside any building. This diagram shows how to make a safe outside installation. For complete information, see your local County Extension Agent.

Information Center Opened at Big Rock

The Big Rock Point Nuclear Plant information center was completed this week, several weeks ahead of schedule, and is now open under the supervision of Alun Bevan, a member of the Consumer Power Co. staff for the past five years, Jerome D. Lescoe, construction superintendent for Consumers, has announced.

The center features an observation lobby from which the construction work of the plant may be viewed through spacious windows; an outdoor observation platform to permit a closer view of the construction operation; an auditorium in which the Big Rock Point story will be told in a film entitled "Nuclear Power for Michigan's Future"; a series of exhibits and an information booth and related rooms.

Among the exhibits will be a large X-ray view showing how the Big Rock Point plant will operate which will be on the back wall of the stage; an exhibit illustrating the fact that heat energy in one pound of fissionable uranium is equal to that in 1300 tons of good quality coal and an exhibit showing the fissioning process regulated through the movement of control rods.

There will also be a scale model of tbe plant; a welcome message including a brief statement of the company's purpose in building the plant;;; tea kettle and fan diagram showing how the electricity is generated through the use of steam and a map of Consumers' service area with their various types of operation.

An additional exhibit will illustrate the fissioning of the atom.

All visitors to the plant site will be introduced to the story of the nuclear plant and its operation at the information center.

Besides the exhibits they will see the 22-minute color film "Nuclear Power for Michigan's Future" in which they will hear brief talks by A. H. Aymond Jr., chairman of the board, and James H. Campbell, president of Consumers, regarding the purposes for which the plant is being built, an explanation of how it will operate by Robert E. Kettner, director of Nuclear Activities for Consumers' and a number of striking views of sonstruction progress narrated by Mr. Lescoe.

Mr. Bevan, under whose supervision the center will be operated, has served as a member of the personnel and Safety department and also the accounting department in the Jackson offices of Consumers Power Co.

He is a native of Gary, Ind., and a graduate of the University of Iowa. He will be accompanied here by his wife, Sharon, and daughters, Alison and Leslie.

Boak Pleads Guilty of Manslaughter

Harry Boak, 42 pleaded guilty to a manslaughter charge in the June 17 death of Julius J. Wasageshik, 46, when arraigned before Judge Charles L. Brown during a special session of circuit court here Tuesday.

The case was referred to the probation department for investigation before he is sentenced at a later date.

Bond was continued at $10,000 and he was remanded to the county jail after failing to furnish bail.

A warrant charging Boak with the death of Wasageshik, a native of Beaver Island and a cripple since childhood, was issued by Harvey C. Varnum, Charlevoix county prosecutor, June 20 following Boak'a confession that he struck Wasageshik during a quarrel about the purchase of wine at the home of George Shananaquet early the evening of June 17. Wasakeshik's body was found near the Shananaquet home at 10 p.m. June 17. Later Boak, who was picked up for questioning the following day, admitted striking Wasageshik in the head with the handle of a butcher knife he had in his hand while preparing food when the quarrel started.

P.T.A. Cites Need for Extra School Millage

The fact that the Charlevoix school district must receive one mill above the seven allocated in county taxes in order to qualify for full participation in the State Aid Program or lose approximately $28,000; that Charlevoix schools receive less State Aid per child than any other school in the county and that the three mills being requested is only ½ mill more than was asked in 1960 and that it is an extension of the millage rather than an addition were brought out at a special meeting of the Charlevoix P.T.A. called for the expressed purpose of explaining the need for the three mills the school district is asking for operational costs.

Mrs. J. L. Feindt, the new president, opened the meeting and then turned it over to Fran Martin who exolained the facts regarding the above issues.

The first regarding the need for one mill in order to qualify for State Aid is self-explanatory. The schools were allocated seven mills by the tax allocation board in May, or one-half mill less than the schools received last year. If the school millage is not approved in the forthcoming election, the district stands to lose one-eighth of its revenue from State Aid or about $28,000 based on last year's enrollment figures.

The formula for determining revenue for State Aid was discussed and figures showing that Charlevoix schools received $152.45 in State Aid last year as compared to $176.47 by Boyne City; $172.64 by East Jordan and $170.45 by Boyne Falls were presented. This is based on the 1960-61 enrollment figures. The 1961-62 income cannot be computed until the enrollment figures taken the fourth Friday after Labor Day are available.

It was explained that after June 30 the only voted school tax to be levied will be that for the new junior-senior high school now nearing completion. All other millage levied earlier, including the 2½ mills voted last year, will be wiped from the slate.

That is why the new three mill tax levy being asked will be an extension rather than an addition. In other words, school taxes last year included 7½ mills allocated by the tax allocation board 2½ mills voted last July and four mills in Nov. 1956 for the new school for a total of 13½ mills.

If the millage requested is approved in the July 15 election, the tax bill will include 7 mills allocated by the tax allocation board, four mills voted in Nov. 1958 for the new school plus the 3 mills voted July 10 if the issue is approved bringing the total millage for school purposes to 14 mills or one-half mill more than in 1960.

Though the state equalized valuation of the school district has been upped from $13,565,733 to $14,870,529 most of this has been in new property, it was explained.

Charles A. Robinson, Charlevoix county superintendent of schools, Supt. R. G. Bennett and members of the school board served as resource persons for the discussion which followed the program during which persons present asked questions regarding school finance, the budget and other pertinent information.

On the ballot July 10 voters in the school district will be asked to elect two members to the board of education to fill two vacancies. Candidates are Ervin Racignol, Joe Martincheck Jr., Gordon L. Freedman and Albert H. Smith. The latter two are incumbents whose terms expire. It was stated last week that Mr. Smith was not a candidate after filing a petition for the post. He later reconsidered and decided to leave his name on the ballot.

JUNE IN MICHIGAN

by Harold E. Kohn

Forest Edges

In primitive America there were fewer whitetail deer than now, and for good reason. Healthy deer reqire what ecologists call "edges"—where two or more kinds of natural environment meet. They need low browsings that cannot grow on the floor of such dense forests as once covered America. Deer love the tender shoots of maple, alder, and willow, the succulence of bunchberry, wintergreen, and newly leafed fern. This variety of shoots and twigs, of buds and leaves can be found in greatest plenty near forest openings where sunlight can penetrate to the earth and with warm amber persuasion coax the seeds of low-growing things into growth. Lumbering and land clearing for farms have destroyed extensive stands of deep, dark forests, and we lament their passing. But the same operations have expanded the habitat of our favorite big game animal, so that now, in June, fawns can be found in hundred years ago deer had never countless openings where five appeared.

Most of the feathered and fined neighbors of the deer show a preference for edges, too. Bobwhite quail thrive where cropfield, woodland, and brush come together. A thicket's edge provides a cottontail rabbit with food and shelter within easy reach of each other. Pheasants love brushy fencelines running through cornfields because there cover and dining area meet. Ruffed grouse favor clearings in the midst of forests. In such openings grow their favorite foods, but the forest provides quick escape from predaceous foxes, hawks, awls, and men. Black bass enjoy a habitat where dropoffs furnish them the weedbeds of the shallows and the soothing coolness of the depths.

In late June fawns can be seen near cabins, on a lake edge or stream bank—where shelter and dining area meet—taking timid nibbles of browse and grass tops. When they are about a month old they will try seedy fruits, acorns, and corn. But fawns will not accept these delicacies as substitutes for mother's milk until they are about four months old. Only then will nursing cease and the green things that are now gingerly tasted will become their steady diet. By that time the wobbly toddler will be a surefooted athlete bounding in stupenous leaps across the glades where now he nuzzles a fond mother who has come to her young at feeding time.

Soma Things to Notice This Wesk in June:

This month of busy bird life is a good time to observe the eyes of our feathered neighbors. See how the birds' eyes differ from those of men—being placed on the side of the face rather than in the front of the face as with human beings. . . . . Naturalists remind us that birds are the only creatures that close their own eyes in death.

Notice the great difference in the vigor of newly hatched birds. Altrical birds, such as the robin, sparrow, chickadee, are hatched naked, blind and utterly helpless. Nudifugous birds, such as the ducks, ruffed grouse and pheasant, can leave their nests as soon as they are hatched and join their mothers in searching for food. Some species of megapodes pass through the down stage while they are in the egg and when hatched are wearing their juvenile plumage. These chicks can fly away from their eggshells minutes after hatching! (But you won't find megapodes in Michigan. They are natives of Australia.)

About This Question

Voice of Our Readers . . .

Edito's Note—The following letter points out a serious situation that has always existed in vacation areas that are sparsely inhabited during certain seasons of the year. Law enforcement officers here and elsewhere are constantly trying to apprehend the culprits and it is surprising they trace down as many acts of vandalism as they do with the limited personnel available and the long period of time before these depredations are discovered and reported.

Mr. Harvey C. Varnum,
Charlevoix County Prosecutor,
Charlevoix, Mich.
Dear Mr. Varnum:

There used to be two fine young spruce trees flanking the entrance to my cabin on South Lake Shore Drive, just inside of Norwood Township. Now there is only one.

During my recent winter absence, some person or persons, unknown to me, unlawfully entered upon the property and cut down and carried away one of those spruces. An attempt to break into the house was also made. This was not the first act of such nature.

Such senseless vandalism and wanton destruction of irreplaceable property ought not to be tolerated in the county of "Charlevoix the Beautiful".

Accordingly, I am offering a reward of $25.00 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who committed these criminal trespasses.

I wish to assure you further that I shall stand ready to do anything within reason to insure that the perpetrator or perpetrators of such vandalism be brought to justice, that they may thus be deterred from committing further depredations of like character, or worse.

I am addressing a duplicate of this letter to Charlevoix County Sheriff Glenn E. Rose.

Respectfully Youys,
L. A. Wheeler

Dear Editor,

We all encounter persons who hold views different from our own.

If a conflict develops, we usually "argue" with them, trying to persuade them to adopt our point of view. When one believes his views are correct, the desire to share with others is a commendable impulse but arguments rarely produce results. The first step in "Sharing" is to understand the other person's point of view that you may be certain you yourself are right. That is our American way.

I feel that last week's letter sent in by the lady, was sort of directed at me. And I don't consider myself of being one of the 'afflunt socitey'. Nor am I self satisfied. I just wanted to know a few "tax facts".

About the schools that lost their school vote, that were mentioned last week. It could mean that the people feel that they are demanding more than their fair share of the tax dollar?

After all it is very hard to own and operate a New Cadillac on a model T salary, and the salary not too sure.

I do not attempt to know any thing about the communist schools, nor do I believe that there is any comparison with ours as we both have a different goal and view.

I've been told that their government tells them what to study so they have no choice. In our country our educators take care of that, I believe.

Concerning the cost of living which is it? High cost of living or cost of living high?

The U.S.D.A. claims that the worker's dollar per hour of work buys more food than it ever has.

Announce Summer Masses at St. Mary's

Effective Sunday, five Masses will be celebrated at St. Mary's church the Rev. E. Francis Denay has announced.

They will be at 8, 8, 9, 10:30 and 11:30 a.m. on Sundays and Holy Days of Obligation during July and August. Weekday Mass will be at 8 a.m. The novena of Our Lady of Perpetual Help is held at 7:30 p.m. every Wednesday.

Miller's Guest Lodge Opened

Guild Notes . . .

A plea for workers at the information desk at the Charlevoix hospital has been issued by the Women's Guild of the hospital. Volunteers are needed to man the desk and pass out cards to visitors between 7 and 8 p.m. daily during the months of July and August. Anyone wishing to assist with this service is asked to call the hospital office, LI 7-6531, and leave their name and the day or days they would like to work.

Plans are well underway for the annual fashion show and luncheon, according to Mrs. Robert Morse, chairman of the Ways and Means committee. July 18 has been set as the tentative date for the event. Funds derived from the project will be used to purchase an overhead light for the emergency room at the Charlevoix hospital.

New candy is arriving and will be placed on sale shortly for the benefit of the Nursing Scholarship sponsored by the Women's Guild. Last year the sale bettered $249.72 for the benefit of the fund which underwrites the cost of the $300 scholarship given to a girl who is entering the field of professional nursing. The name of this year's recipient will be announced at a later date.

Members are reminded that now is the time to renew your membership in the Women's Guild of the Charlevoix hospital. Mrs. Harry Gebeau is membership chairman. New members are also invited to join. . . and assist in the many services offered by the Guild.

Two new life memberships have been received from Mrs. D. Eckhart Williams and Mrs. Elizabeth Tate, both of the Belvedere club.

Mold is League Leader

After the first week of play, American Mold is leading the Fastball Leauge with a perfect 2-0 record. They blasted the City Merchants 9-1 behind the pitching of Nate Boss and the hitting of Ken Wojan. Boss had a no-hitter until Charles Coleman lined a single through the box in the Merchant sixth inning. Meanwhile Wojan had a two-run first inning homer, a run scoring single in the fourth, and a two-run homer in the seventh.

Don Bennett's inside the park home run ended a marathon and gave newcomer Ironton a 7-5 ten inning win over the United States Coast Guard. Eldie Potter's third hit gave the winners an insurance run in the tenth inning also. Fritz Puffpaff was the losing pitcher although he allowed only six hits. Bob Potter was the winning hurler, allowing eight.

The Merchants got into the win column by virtue of their narrow 6-5 win over Ironton. Charles Coleman and Dean Davenport combined a double and a single for a seventh inning run to break the tie. Ironton picked up five runs in the third inning after two were out. Eldie Potter's base-loaded double was the key blow. The losers had the tying run on third in the final frame but a fine play by the Merchant's Anderson ended the game.

On Sunday morning, the chapel services was held in the "Bigwam". Ken Smith spoke on "Building a Reputation". The counsellors-in-training, John Donaldson, Grant Washburn, and John Steffenson also took part in the service. In the afternoon the entire camp had their physical examinations, and in the evening vesper Services were held in all sections.

The cowboys took one of our horses, Blondie, along with Don Strutz's horse, Dun, over to the Jack Pine Saddle Club annual horse show at Cheboygan, and Tom Kennedy, one of our cowboys rode Blondie to two first places, one in the halter class and one in western pleasure. Two gold trophies were added to the camp trophy case along with two blue ribbons. Don Strutz won two second places with his hourse "Dun".

We are at the start of another fine season, and it will be pleasure to keep you informed week by week as to the activities and goings-on at the camp. More next week.

How Super Shell fights hot weather stalls

Hot weather can make certain gasolines start to boil right in the fuel line. They literally bubble. Vapor lock takes place when the bubbles choke off the fuel supply.

They reduce its volatility. This produces a Hot Weather Blend of Super Shell that's not likely to boil in your fuel line. It cuts the chances of hot weather stalls to a minimum.

How Super Shell fights hard starting

With the fan stopped and the cooling system idle, intense heat under the hood can actually make gasoline percolate in some carburetors. Just like coffee in a pot.

How Super Shell fights rough idling

The same trouble that causes summer starting difficulties can give your car the shakes every time you stop for a traffic light.

Super Shell's Hot Weather Blend attacks both problems the same way. Its formula is adjusted so that it's in no hurry to boil and bubble. Result: smooth idling in hot weather.

Shell trouble-shooter

Your Shell dealer will be glad to prepare your car for summer driving. His trouble-shooting may save you hours of delay on the road.

And ask him to fill your tank with Super Shell's Hot Weather Blend. Then you will really be set for top performance.

Super Shell's 9 ingredients for top performance

#1 is TCP*—for power, mileage, and longer plug life.
#3 is anti-knock mix—for knock resistance.
#4 is Alkylate to control "high-speed knock."
#5 is Butane—for quick starts.
#6 is Pentane mix—for fast warm-ups.
#7 is an "anti-icer." (Added when cold weather sets in.)
#8 is gum preventive—for clean carburetors.
#9 is Platformate for extra mileage.

Dr. C. L. Anspagh Speaks at Child Guidance Clinic

Dr. Charles L. Anspach, president emeritus of Central Michigan University and a member of the Michigan State Board of Mental Health, was the guest speaker at the tenth annual dinner meeting of the Petoskey Area Child Guidance Clinic held at Cheboygan Wednesday.

In his talk entitled "Community Prescription for Mental Health", Dr. Anspach pointed out that a community is not just a geographical or political boundary but an atmosphere and attitude that is responsible for the development of its young people.

Though this area has a clinic to help emotionally disturbed children, everyone should realize a responsibility in helping to create a proper environment, Dr. Anspach said. A simple definition of mental health is the ability to work, love and enjoy, he added.

At the election of officers Dr. Thomas Kirk was named president; Dr. Joanne Mertz, vice president; Mrs. R. E. Todd, secretary and Joseph W. Scoggin, treasurer. All are from Petoskey.

Attending the dinner meeting from Charlevoix were Supt. and Mrs. R. G. Bennett, Charles A. Robinson, Charlevoix county superintendent of schools, and Mrs. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. William Parsons, Mrs. Max Hosmer, Mrs. Robert Tollas and Robert G. Lieberman.

YACHTSMEN! Cruise down Beautiful Lake Charlevoix for a Cocktail or Dinner!

Perhaps the greatest attraction in Charlevoix County is its three lakes. Lake Michigan lies to the west, and over a short expanse of water is Beaver Island, the intriguing spot fondly referred to as "The Emerald Isle." Vacationers can visit there via ferry boat or plane, with excellent accomodations throughout the island. Within the county is Lake Charlevoix, bordering eighteen miles of beautiful wooded hills, and one of America's most scenic localities. Boyne City and East Jordan are towns on its southern tip, and a cruise or drive there for an outing or dinner is a must. Round Lake is encompassed by Charlevoix-the-Beautiful, providing a peaceful harbor which shelters many yachts of every type.

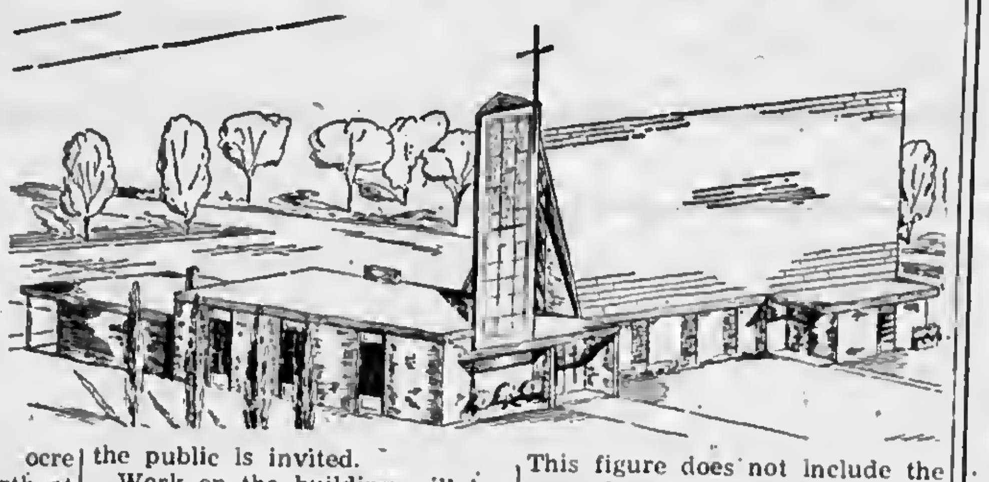
To Break Ground for New Church



Plans for the constructions of a new Community Reformed church of Chorlevoix at Petoskey ave. and Meech st. on the city's north side have been announced by the Rev. Charles A. Stoppels, pastor of the congregation now known as th Barnard Reformed church.

Ground-braking ceremonies marking the beginning of the project will be held at the site of the new church, three ocre plot of land on US 31 North at Meech st., at 3:30 p.m. Sunday.

Joining in the ceremony will be the church board composed of Clyde Cunningham, Richard Potter, Harold DeYoung, Charles Wielenga, Nathan Boss and Marinus Veurink of Petoskey, supplemented by Franklin Boss, Dale Boss, Robert Potter, John L. Boss and Lawence Boss to form the building committee.

The Reverends George L. Majors and L. L. Lewis, representing the Charlevoix Ministerial Association, will also participate in the ceremony to which the public is invited.

Work on the building will begin Monday under the direction of Franklin Boss who will serve as construction superintendent. The church board plans to do its own constracting under the guidance of Mr. Boss. Contracts for heating, plumbing, electricity and ventilation will be awarded at a later date.

The building will have approximately 6300 square feet of floor space and will be built on a gsade, thus eliminating the need for steps.

Anticipated cost of the church will be approximately $60,000. This figure does not include the cost of furnishing the church or the purchase of 22 lots as a church site

When completed the church will be known as the Community Reformed Church of Charlevoix. Its history goes back to 1904 when it was organized as a Presbyterian church in South Barnard. About 1918 it was united with the Reformed church of America. The present church at Barnard was completed in 1941. Since then the church has grown to a point where it has outgrown existing facilities, thus the need for the new church.

Voters to Elect Two Trustees To School Board Monday

Voters of the Charlevoix school district will go to the polls at the present high school gymnasium on Mason st. Monday to elect two trustees to the board of education and to vote on a proposal that would permit the school to levy three mills to underwrite the cost of operating the schools during the 1961-62 school year.

The polls at the gymnasium will be open from 10 a.m. until 8 p.m. when residents of the district will attend the annual school meeting in the high school band room.

Candidates for the two vacancies on the school board are Ervin Racignol, Joe Martincheck, Jr. Albert H. Smith and Gordon L. Freedman. The latter two are incumbents seeking re-elections to the board.

The millage, if approved, will give the school district one-half mill more than it received in 1960 and would qualify the schools for full participation in the State Aid program. The remaining two mills will be used for operational costs that will include sucb needs as two new teochers in the elementary school where increased enrollment has made it necessary to open two new rooms, another where the pre-school enrollment of 99 new students is the highest in the school's bistory and a new science teacher in the high school.

Voters are again reminded that the Three mills they will be asked to approve will bring the overall millage for school purposes to 14 mills or one-half mill more than last year when the schools received 13½ mills. The extra half-mill will cost taxpayers approximately 85 cents on each $1,000 valuation on their property.

Be sure to vote Monday between the hours of 10 a.m. and 8 p.m.

Fire Damages Beaver Island Parish Hall

St. James, Beaver Island—The combined efforts of island residents, U. S. Coast Guard personnel and members of the Dawn Patrol who were spending the day on America's Emerald Island, are credited with saving the Holy Cross parish ball on the edge of the business district when it caught fire from an over-heated gas stove Sunday morning.

Women of the parish were busy in the 15 by 35 ft. kitchen to the rear of the one-story frame building preparing breakfast for more than 150 visitors seated in the dining room of the hall when the wall behind the gas stove was found to be on fire. The blaze, quickly spread up the exterior wall of the 65-year old building ot the roof.

Meanwhile, a messenger was sent to Holy Cross church where the pastor Rev. Louis Wren O.F.M., had completed making his announcements during which he had said that a second collection would be taken during the Mass to underwrite the cost of a roof for the parish hall.

The island-owned fire truck, Coast Guard fire-fighting equipment, supplemented by a bucket brigade, were used to fight the blaze which was brought under control within a short time.

Father Wren said the loss was partially covered by insurance.

Approximately 75 planea brought several hundred visitors to the island for the annual event. Inclement weather in southern Michigan cut down the number of fliers who had planned to participate in the event.

Father Wren and the island residents expressed their gratitude to the fliers, the Coast Guard and all others who assisted in saving the parish hall, the major meeting place on the island locoted 32 miles northwest of hear in norther Lake Michigan.

Bring'em back alive every time you drive.

Plan Mass Meeting To Promote New Industrial Plant

A citizens meeting for the purpose of bringing a new industry to Charlevoix will be held in the community room of the Charlevoix city hall Tuesday at 8 p.m., Harold M. Totten, president of the Charlevoix Development Corp. has announced. Purpose of the meeting is to acquaint the public with the type of industry and plans of the manufacturer and to present a plan for community support.

The meeting is sponsored by the Charlevoix Development Corp. with the co-operation of the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce and city officials. All three groups have been working for some time with executives of the firm on a plan that should be of mutual benefit to both the industry and the community.

Terms of the agreement between the firm and the Charlevoix Development Corp. stipulate that the community, through the Development Corporation, loan the manufacture $25,000 at three per cent interest, repayable at the rate of $5,000 per year plus interest on the unpaid balance. The plan is similar to the one the Development Corporation made with American Mold Engineering Co. in 1950. That loan, however, was for $15,000, repayable over a 15 year period. The money for that loan was raised by the sale of stock in the Development Corporatiion.

Earned interest on that loan remained in the treasury of the corporation due to the fact that Charlevoix Development Corp. is non-profit. Stockholders had the option of cashing their stock certificates at par when tbe loan was fully repaid or leave their money in the corporation for future use. The majority have elected to retain their stock.

Stockholders who choose to cash their certificates may take them to the treasurer, Archie L. Livingston at the Chorlevoix State Savings Bank, and cash them. Mr. Livingston points out that stockholders must present their cerificate to get their money.

Directors of the Charlevoix Development Corp. have proposed that money be raised for the new project by the sale of five year debentures bearing three per cent interest. Under this plan the interest paid on the loan to a new industry will be passed on to those who help finance it by purchase of debentures.

The proposed local industrial plant is to be a branch of an established here. The name of financial rating of nearly $6 million. Excutives have asked that the name be withheld from publication until the branch is eastablished here. The name of the firm and the products manufactured will be disclosed at the meeting Tuesday evening.

To Make Tests At Big Rock Pt. Nuclear Plant

University of Michigan meteorologists are scheduled to begin a series of tests at the Big Rock Point Nuclear Power Plant next week to study wind conditions and how quickly they will diffuse smokes, gases and dusts in them.

The experiments will be conducted under the direction of professors E. Wendell Hewson and Gerald C. Gill of the University's meteorolgical research laboratory under contract to Consumers Power Co.

The operation, during which artifical fog will be released into the air from the 250 ft. weather station at the plant site is part of the exhaustive safety study being made by Consumers Power Co., before the nuclear generating plant is placed in operation in autumn of 1962. As the artifical fog is released the research team will follow its [illegible] with ground-based ond airborne cameras as part of the basic study of how smokes and wastes (as from industrial plants, diffuse in air over large bodies of water.

The resulting records and pictures will show the speed with which the fog is diluted in the air under various known wind and weather conditions.

The visible but odorless "smoke" used in the experiment will be produced by the use of a generator which will vaporize mineral oil.

Earlier, professors Hewson and Gill carried out the same experiments on the shores of Lake Erie and Lake Michigan, and the Atlantic coast under a National Science Foundation grant.

Voice of Our Readers . . .

To The Editor:

Numerous letters have appeared in the Emmet and Charlevioux County newspapers berating the voters, and this would point mainly to the property-owning voters, for not approving the requests for additional operational millages by the various school districts. Great alarm was usually voiced and that our educational system was tottering and this was the final blow.

Our educational system has stood up pretty well over a century or two and thru several generations of our people, and it would not seem imminent that the American parents were all of a sudden going to withdraw their support of good, sound education and discard their ideals for its continued betterment.

Could it be said that those who clamor the loudest for expenditure of public funds often pay the least or are unwilling to carry their fair share? And it follows that some pertinent reasons could have influenced the property-owning voters.

For ont thing, the ad valorem tax, our real property and personal property taxes, has reached a saturation point. It has been called upon to carry the burden of costly functions far beyond its original intent. Commissioner Locke, of Michigan Department of Revenue, has pointed this out in several releases and speeches, and our legislators have recognized this fact in a move to pave the way for local units of government to raise funds by other methods of taxation, payroll taxes, use taxes, local sales tax, nuisance-taxes and many others we hope may not become so numerous that we will wish we hadn't mentioned them. But the point remains that property is carrying too much of the load. Property carries all of the costs of construction of our schools and a goodly share of their operation.

And the property-owning voter is beginning to resent that our regulations allow the non-property owning voter to have an equal voice in saying how much the property-owning voter shall be taxed on his property. Some day an irate property owner may run a court test of this situation, or perhaps, collectively we should press our legislators with this apparently unfair taxation by too much representation.

Also, perhaps, we are swinging healthily away from some of the so-called frills of education that do run up the expenses. And do they turn out an America Johnnie better able to cope with existence than a more fundamental approach may do for Ivan, his Russian counterpart?

Again the taxpayer becomes troubled by the constantly rising costs of government, of welfare, and of education. He realizes that administrators and boards are subject to errors of judgment and efficiency and blessed with a varying amount of either or both, and he may not feel too happy if he is classed with the lowly worm if he does not always "vote the millage".

And last, if it is popular to quote supposedly impeccable purveyors of the written word, attention should be directed to an article in the April issue of The Readers Digest by Barry Goldwater having to do with our educational system and wherein is stated that school revenues have increased three times as fast as the school population, and also has a few other thought-provoking paragraphs.

Ted R. Miller

Editor
Charlevoix Courier:

A small two room school, including boiler room and rest rooms squeezed into a 30'x70' space with a hall way running the entire length on one side has been looked into by the Ironton School Board. The building attorney has submitted the necessary papers to the Board, this is to set up for a Bond Issue of $25,000 for a period of 8 years at the rate of 5½ mills increase in taxes each year. This does not include a possible millage increase to operate the finished school. At this rate the millage in Ironton would be the same as Charlevoix 13½ mills and 2 mills higher than East Jordan as of their last millage vote.

It is a pity such a large sum of money should be drained from the taxpayers to pay for such a program that is intended to educate a mere enrollment of 18 children in 1961 & 1962 school year when both East Jordan and Charlevoix school busses pass through Ironton on their regular bus route.

Ole E. Nielsen

P. S. For confirmation on these facts call the secretary of the Ironton School Board.

Mr. Harold Totten, Editor
The Charlevoix Courier, Inc.
Charlevoix, Mich.

Dear Mr. Totten:

We would like to share, through the medium of your newspaper, a letter received in the Chamber of Commerce office. It was through the efforts of the townspeople that our visitors from Detroit returned with a warm feeling re. Charlevoix, and perhaps they'd like to know these efforts were appreciated.

" . . . . There aren't any medals handed out for services rendered to the Greater Detroit Board of Commerce Anniversary Cruise—but you deserve one.

Your arrangements were superb. The Cruisers were graciously received and all had a good time. You have a wonderful town and a grand group of people.

Thanks again for all your contributions to the success of our Cruise. . . . . "

(Signed) Nicholas J. Rini, Secretary Cruise Committee
GREATER DETROIT BOARD OF COMMERCE

Sincerely yours,
Paul Kohler, Sec'y-Manager
